Mo Money for Mary – Burger Wins 2nd WPRA World Championship

By Tanya Randall

In the baseball flick Field of Dreams, James Earl Jones profoundly states "If you build it, they will come." In Las Vegas, no corn field was plowed under to build a money-making diamond and no iconic voice said "If you give them good ground, they will run,' but nearly two decades of pleas for better ground were finally heard.

With checks won from the top to the bottom and only one serious mishap out of 150 runs of the most high-powered barrel horses in the world, the ground no longer held sway over the world standings. Instead of a game of survival, the 2016 WPRA World Championship race will go down in the record books as one of the toughest horse races in the history of barrel racing.

With $1.1 million up for grabs, Mary Burger's nearly $75,000 lead going into the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo would shrink. A mere $11,000 lead remained after the Finals ended to give the Pauls Valley, Okla., barrel racer her second WPRA World Championship.

Burger headed into her fourth WNFR with great apprehension as her great horse Sadiefamouslastwords ("Mo") was making his first runs back since injuring a deep digital flexor tendon in October. She ran the gritty gelding for nine rounds, placing in five and winning Round 7. Her focus was take each round, one run at time.

In the second round, Burger jumped on Roanhorse Rita ("Lucy"), a horse trained by her son Todd and now owned by Nicoletta Bean, because she was concerned about Mo. She and Lucy clocked well but hit a barrel. From then on, as long as she had the assurance of her veterinarians, she was going dance with the one that brought her.

Burger's biggest threat in the arena came from WNFR newcomer Amber Moore of Keiser, Ore., and her tough 7-year-old mare CP Dark Moon ("Paige"). Having spent a lot of her winter training in the small trap patterns in the Northwest, Paige took to the Thomas & Mack like a duck to water, so much in fact, many took to calling the arena "Paige's Playpen."

Paige and Moore flirted with breaking the NFR Arena Record when the brushed the third barrel over to win Round 7 in a dazzling 13.31, only to come back and equal Taylor Jacob and Honor Thy Frenchman's benchmark of 13.37 in Round 8.

Going into the last round, it was mathematically possible for several contenders—namely Moore—to overtake Burger. Even Lisa Lockhart, Kimmie Wall and Sherry Cervi had outside chances. The most important factor was Moore needed to do well in the round

WNFR in Review

With $10 million and nine world championship buckles up for grabs, the 2016 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Polaris RANGER was full of drama, thrills and everlasting memories. There were numerous historic performances in Las Vegas over the 10 nights, but no cowboys left town with bigger smiles than Junior Nogueira, steer wrestler Tyler Waguespack and bull rider Sage Kimzey.

Nogueira, a 26-year-old team roping header from Presidente Prudente, Brazil, combined with his heeler, Kaleb Driggers, to place sixth in Round 10, which was enough to earn Nogueira the all-around gold buckle. Nogueira is the first Brazilian in PRCA history to win a gold buckle.

Nogueira's season total of $231,728 earned him the title by less than $3,600 over steer wrestler Clayton Hass.

Since 2002, there have now only been three different all-around champs - Nogueira joins Trevor Brazile and Ryan Jarrett. Jarrett's title came in 2005.

Waguespack captured his first world title, thanks to an outstanding WNFR. The Gonzales, La., cowboy had a winning time of 41.9 seconds in the 10-head average. He placed in eight of the 10 rounds, and split victories in Rounds 1, 3, and 6. He also split second place in Round 4, and was second outright in Round 9.

The $213,218 he earned over the 10 nights was a steer wrestling WNFR record, and also won him the RAM Top Gun Award for the contestant with the most money earned in a single event.

In addition to the two buckles he took home, Waguespack also received a one-of-a-kind wrapped RAM truck, a custom buckle from Montana Silversmiths and a one-of-a-kind RAM Truck Top Gun-branded rifle from Commemorative Firearms.

Bareback rider Tim O'Connell ($374,272) set a PRCA record for most money won in any event in any year, eclipsing the mark of $327,178 established by bull rider Sage Kimzey last year. The single-season record for most money won in bareback riding before 2016 was $319,986 by Kaycee Feild in 2011. Waguespack also established a new single-season steer wrestling money record with $298,676, as did team roping header Levi Simpson ($249,133) and his heeler Jeremy Buhler ($258,311).

With all the money earned at the 58th annual WNFR a handful of cowboys passed the million-dollar mark in career earnings. The list is comprised of team roping heeler Dugan Kelly ($1,014,232), bull rider Shane Proctor ($1,214,620), team roping header Riley Minor ($1,068,647) and team roping heeler Russell Cardoza ($1,021,387).

Aside from Waguespack, the only other WNFR earnings record broken was set by world champion header Simpson and heeler Buhler, with $186,000 each in team roping.

Nogueira, O'Connell, Kimzey and barrel racer Mary Burger were the only world champions who led their events heading into the WNFR.

As a result of the shakeup at the top, there were seven first-time world champions in 2016: Nogueira (all-around), O'Connell (bareback riding), Waguespack (steer wrestling), Simpson (team roping header), Buhler (team roping heeler), Zeke Thurston (saddle bronc riding), and Tyson Durfey (tie-down roping).

PRCA and Days of '47 Join Forces on $2 Million Cowboy Games Rodeo

by ProRodeo

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association and the Days of '47 Rodeo are excited to announce the Days of '47 Komatsu Equipment Cowboy Games, coming in the summer of 2017 to Salt Lake City. The $2 million Olympic-style rodeo will be held July 19-22 and 24 in the all-new, $16 million, state-of-the-art Days of '47 Arena currently under construction at the Utah State Fair Park. The venue—an outdoor arena located in the heart of Salt Lake City—is due for completion by July 1, and features 10,000 stadium-style seats.

Earnings from this one-of-a-kind PRCA-sanctioned rodeo will count toward the 2017 world standings. Winners in each event will be awarded $100,000 in cash and prizes, and a Days of '47 Cowboy Games Gold Medal.

PRCA contestants in bareback riding, steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, barrel racing and bull riding will earn the right to compete in the Days of '47 Cowboy Games three different ways. The top 10 contestants in the PRCA and Women's Professional Rodeo Association world standings will qualify for the semifinals, as will 20 additional contestants in each event through a series of PRCA rodeos—to be announced, along with the point system to be used—known as Cowboy Games Trial Events. Qualifiers from Cowboy Games Trial Events will advance to the July 19-22 semifinal rounds of the Cowboy Games. Rounding out the 40-contestant field in each event will be 10 select invitations. The July 24th Medal Round of the Cowboy Games will be televised on CBS Sports Network.

"The PRCA continues to raise the bar of opportunity for our members and fans, and the Days of '47 Cowboy Games is a very strong example in support of that statement," said PRCA Commissioner Karl Stressman. "Our sport is strong, and so many record, sellout crowds at PRCA events coast-to-coast and in Canada in 2016 are proof of professional rodeo's growing popularity in this great country and beyond. As we extend our reach internationally, this is a very exciting time for the cowboy sport. The possibilities on the horizon for the PRCA brand are truly endless, and we're proud to partner with our friends in Salt Lake City to make the Cowboy Games a huge success."

The Days of '47 Cowboy Games also will feature the Cowboy Games Fan Zone, complete with Western gift expo, livestock show, carnival, pioneer camps, a free music stage, a free competition arena, pony rides, food and Western fun for all ages.

For a limited time, rodeo fans have the opportunity to purchase the same seat for every performance, as a Cowboy Games Series Seat, for as little as $19 per night while supplies last. Series-seats tickets are on sale now at smithstix.com, and start as low as $95 for the same seats for all five nights of competition.

and hold or better her second-place finish in the aggregate.

Fate had them running back-to-back deep in the draw. Lockhart and her unicorn An Oakie With Cash ("Louie") locked up their second NFR Average Championship in the last three years as the only horse and rider duo to successfully make 10 clean runs and set a new aggregate record in the process. Cervi and A Dash Ta Diamonds did all they could tying for the round win with Jana Bean and Dashing Klee.

Moore and Paige running 13th on the ground turned in a 13.70, which would have won rounds in many of the past NFRs, finished one out of the money. Burger and Mo were making a respectable run until they caught the third barrel.

With an WNFR record in earnings of $187,696, Moore and Paige jumped from 15th in the World Standings. Yet, it wasn't enough to unseat Burger.

Thinking that it was over for her, Burger took Mo back to the stalls to unsaddle when her youngest son, Joey, ran to tell her she had won.

"I had no idea," she said. "I really thought when that barrel went down I was out of it. I was back there unsaddling when Joey came running back, huffing that I'd won it. They sent a cart back there to get me because I really had no idea."

Burger, who became the oldest WNFR qualifier and World Champion in any event at age 68, said this win is more special than her 2006 World Championship aboard Rare Fred.

"Mo is extra special because he's mine," she said, "and he's going to stay with me."

Lifelong Horsewoman

As a child, Burger suffered from Perthes disease, a rare childhood condition that affects the hips, that left her unable to walk. Her father found a solution by buying her a pony, her main mode of transpiration until she was 10.

Burger, who moved to Oklahoma with her husband and master farrier Kerry in 1985, honed her craft on a "learn as I go" basis.

"I just did my own thing," she said. "I never really worried about anybody else. I took what I learned from 4-H on to open shows to Quarter horse shows and then on to rodeo. I've always been my own person."

She went on to have a very successful career in the aged event ranks including wins at the prestigious Old Fort Days Futurity among others. Burger, ironically, missed competing at the first Old Fort Days Futurity because the colt she had at time, Jim Ragland, had already ran in and won the All-American Quarter Horse Congress as a 3-year-old.

Although she had talented horses in the past, like High Bars Wimpy—one of her first champions—Burger sold most horses to make a living.

"I've trained a lot and sold a bunch of them," said Burger, who had also qualified for the International Finals Rodeo. "Times have changed and the competition is so much tougher and there are so many nice horses out there that you just never known. I've had probably 8 or 10 that probably would have been capable of something like (qualifying for the NFR), but my kids were little and I had outside futurity horses for people, so you can't just let them sit and go.

"I've done very well with the futurity horses and I'd basically ventured out into the rodeo world when Fred come along. I did make the Prairie Circuit finals a couple, three times with one of my futurity horses called Showum The Gold, but he died of an aneurism when he was just 7."

Fred, Burger qualified for two more NFRs on the gelding in 2008 and 2009. In 2010, Ron Martin decided to sell the gelding, so Burger's focus was back on aged event horses.

In 2011, she found her forever horse when she traded an open horse to Brad Lieblong for a 2-year-old gelding by the Frenchmans Guy son Sadies Frosty Drift out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Porky And Bess that was bred by Jeff and Kristie Thorstenson.

"That Frenchmans Guy and Dash Ta Fame breeding seems to be just overwhelming," noted Burger. "They're natural when it comes to turning three barrels."

She said it took her five years to get Mo to this point.

"He did very well as a 4-year-old in the futurities and did super good in the derbies as a 5- and 6-year-old. This was really his first open year. I've been making him for five years," she said.

Mo also has his own unique style.

"My horses kind of pick their style," said Burger. "I don't force them to do a certain style. I just like for them to go out there and do their thing. I want them to run barrels because they like to, not because they're forced to do it a certain way.

"I guess Mo and Fred are somewhat similar and that you kind of just throw your hand up there and let them work. Mo will kind of keep his head straight and sometimes tip it a little to the left, especially going into the first barrel. He still runs around his barrel. He doesn't really do a lot of rate. I just let him do his thing and stay out of his way because he's got that special stride that covers ground."

Mo, which is short for Mo' Money, is large on personality.

"He's kind of an immature-type horse," she said. "He thinks everything is fun. He's very, very quiet and good to be around, but he likes to play and he plays rough! He's getting a little better at that, but he still has a little bit of that in him.

"We were warming up at the NFR and I usually keep him away from other horses because he likes to show off. I thought 'Well, I'll take him in with the group,' and he jumped up in air and took a couple of big o' hops. A lot of people said, 'Whew, you're in trouble.' He was just trying to show off."

A Large Heart

Burger and Mo ran their way into the lucrative winter rodeos after a successful fall at the Texas fair rodeos in October and a strong finish in the Cardholder's Race at the 2015 WPRA World Finals.

Winning Rodeo Houston gave them an early standings lead, which they never relinquished.

They hit some circuit rodeos on the way north for the Fourth Of July run and Calgary Stampede. Burger made sure to run at Cheyenne, one of her favorite rodeos that she hadn't been to in several years.

"We finished up my circuit rodeos and tried to stay close to home," said Burger. "I gave him off during Fort Madison (Iowa) and rode Sailors Wind and did well on him up there."

Mo made just a few more rodeos in September before the October All-American Finals in Waco, where he came up lame on October 12.

Burger wasn't even planning on taking Mo to the NFR until right before the event when he got the go-ahead. She wanted to her veterinarian Charlie Buchanan of Brazos Valley Equine Hospital for going above and beyond to get Mo ready for the NFR, former BVEH associate Wyatt Winchell, who did daily checks on Mo, and Marty Tanner of Elgin Veterinary Hospital, who performed Mo's MRI back in October. Most of all, she wanted to thank "God for helping him heal enough to make it."

Not surprisingly, Mo will get a well-deserved break.

"He's won me about a half a million dollars since he was a 4-year-old," noted Burger. "He doesn't owe me anything."

Sheza Smooth Flight and Pamela Capper came into their very first round of their very first WNFR and won Round 1. Another 1st time WNFR barrel racer Kimmie Wall won second on her homebred horse, Tkw Bullsyfamous Fox. As a side note, both these horses were bred, raised and trained by their riders.

With Amberleigh Moore also placing, 3 of the 6 money winners were 1st time WNFR Qualifiers.

Winning 6th in Round 1 Mary Burger maintained her world lead and increased her season earnings to $205,207.

13.58, then McDonald came in and ran a 13.56, and then McLeod and Slick By Design blazed into the arena and ran a near record time of 13.49 (arena record is 13.37)! It was a pretty exciting start to the fastest round of the Finals so far. In fact, it took a 13.74 just to place. McLeod & McDonald were the two high money winners from last year's WNFR and now they are both heating up! Amberleigh Moore placed for the 4th night in a row & is the only barrel racer to win checks in all 4 rounds.

If the WNFR ended after Round 4, Lisa Lockhart would be the world champion.

After placing the first 4 rounds, Cp Dark Moon & Amberleigh Moore jumped up and won Round 5 with a fast 13.62! With that win, they moved to #1 in the Average, became the high money winning barrel racer of the WNFR ($71,769), moved clear up to #4 in the World and put themselves in position for a world title run through the last 5 rounds. Slick By Design & McLeod continued their winning ways with a nice second place finish after a Round 4 win. Sheza Smooth Flight & Capper won their 2nd check of the Finals with her 3rd place finish in Round 5. With a 4th place finish in Round 5, Burger put herself back in position to win the World Title, in fact, if the WNFR ended last night she would be your World Champions. Cuatro Fame & Stevi Hillman won their first check of the WNFR, winning 5th place. Doda Flit & Carley Richardson also picked up their 1st check of the WNFR grabbing 6th place.

Jackie Ganter switched horses to Blazin Baby J.

to 6th in Average. McDonald & Bling got another 2nd place check and now have earned more than $58k. Cervi & Dash Ta Diamonds kept placing along winning 3rd and moved up to 3rd in the Average. Lockhart & Louie used another solid run to tie for 4th and with Moore tipping, they moved to #1 in the Average. Carley Richardson switched horses to her sister's horse, Lotta Bunny Shades, and placed 4th in the Round. Cuatro Fame & Hillman placed for the 3rd night in a row.

Amberleigh Moore & Cp Dark Moon ran a 13.31 and would have set an arena record but brushed the 3rd barrel down on their way in. That barrel dropping only dropped them one place in the average to 2nd. Jackie Ganter switched to Guys French Jet and just missed placing in the round.

Wall & Tkw Bullysfamous Fox had a bad stumble at the first, and she lost her reins & almost broke the timeline on the way to 2nd.

World Standings After Round 7:

14 Shameon U, Cayla (Melby) Small, 18.84 (hit 2nd)
15 Perculatin, Mary Walker, 19.00 (hit 2nd)

Amberleigh Moore & Cp Dark Moon came right back after running a 13.31 and tipping the 3rd in Round 7 and ran a 13.37 to tie the arena record set by Taylor Jacob & Honor Thy Frenchmans in 2013! Her round win and position in the average are putting her right in the middle of the world title race! She has now placed in 7 of 8 rounds. Cfour Tibbie Stinson & Ivy Conrado had a run just like they have all year and won 2nd in the round with a quick 13.63.

Mary Burger placed 3rd on Mo to move her closer to locking down her 2nd world title. Hillman placed on Cuatro Fame for the 4th night in a row. Sherry Cervi placed again, 5th, to keep herself in the world title race as well.

Lisa Lockhart & Louie didn't place in the round, but their 13.72 kept them #1 in the Average. At this point Mary Burger is in the driver's seat to the world title, but Amberleigh Moore, Lisa Lockhart, & Sherry Cervi all have a chance as well.

Cayla Small switched back to her dun, Shameon U.

Moore & Cp Dark Moon won their 2nd round in a row and 3rd Round of the week, to put themselves #2 in the World and in serious contention to catch Mary Burger for the world title. She has won money in 8 of 9 rounds and is the high money earning barrel racer with $133,115 won. Small & her quick dun mount, Shameon U, ran a fast 13.54 for 2nd place. Hillman & Cuatro Fame placed in their 5th straight round, the 3rd place is their highest placing and the 13.59 their fastest run. Ganter switched back to Recent Release and picked up 4th in the round. Conrado & Tibbie placed again for

BFA Super$takes - A Family Affair

By Hope Sickler

Lacey Harmon can add another BFA World Title to her resume after winning the very coveted SuperStakes Race this past week in Oklahoma City (Harmon won the BFA Futurity World Championship in 2009).

Harmon jockeyed home-raised Flashin Flitter to the victory in the SuperStakes posting a blistering fast time of 15.465 and outrunning the rest of the talented field of horses and trainers by 2-tenths. Flashin Flitter "Lucky" is the stunningly beautiful 3-year-old daughter of First Moonflash and out of Miss Firewater Ryon who is by Firewater Flit. Miss Firewater Ryon is out of Mamies Leavin (by This Jets Leavin) who Harmon won Josey's World on several years ago.

"Lucky is a very personable horse but also a little quirky. She is pretty funny really. She demands attention but then ignores you if you get too close. She's kind of crazy and gets it from her mother I assume. She is dramatic but in a hilarious way," explained Harmon.

The process and preparation of bringing "Lucky" into the world was a family affair. It all started 5 years ago when Harmon's mother's best friend of 40 years, who raised First Moonflash, kept telling her that they would make great barrel horses.

"We took her advice and bred Miss Firewater Ryon to him and my mom told everyone, and I mean everyone, about her "dream horse"! Norma Alvarez, Mom's best friend, and Debra Laney were there when "Lucky" won the SuperStakes and we were there in Ruidoso when they won the All American with Handsome Jack Flash, so for all of us to be together for each of our dreams to become a reality was just unbelievable and truly special."

If that wasn't enough to make this a fairytale story, there is more to it. Harmon's father helped to save "Lucky's" life when she was born and her brother, Ben, broke "Lucky", which was the first horse he started with the help from Phil Haugen. Harmon's husband Casey shoes all of her horses and is very positive and supportive, which Harmon is also very grateful for and credits to her success.

the 2nd night in a row.

Burger hit a barrel which will make it an interesting Round 10. Burger is still in the driver's seat for the championship, but Moore, Cervi & Lockhart all have a very realistic chance depending on how the 10th Round goes.

World Standings After Round 9

1 Mary Burger, $271,207
2 Amberleigh Moore, $212,183; 3 Kimmie Wall, $195,218; 4 Sherry Cervi, $181,679; 5 Lisa Lockhart, $179,206; 6 Ivy Conrado, $161,775; 7 Stevi Hillman, $156,528; 8 Jackie Ganter, $153,041; 9 Sarah Rose McDonald, $147,595; 10 Michele McLeod, $144,707; 11 Pamela Capper, $143,620; 12 Jana Bean, $135,605; 13 Mary Walker, $122,816; 14 Cayla (Melby) Small, $122,698

14 Cuatro Fame, Stevi Hillman, 23.60 (hit 2nd, 3rd)
15 Cfour Tibbie Stinson, Ivy Conrado, NT

When Moore & Cp Dark Moon ran a 13.70 which was just .03 from placing in the round, the world title was locked down for Mary Burger & Sadiefamouslastwords even though they tipped a barrel in the 10th Round! It was only the second time in the 10 rounds that Moore didn't place. Burger won over $86k at the WNFR & became the oldest World Champion Barrel Racer. Although Moore didn't place in the round, she remained 2nd in the average, which propelled her to $187,692 WNFR Earnings & #2 in the World. She was just $11k from pulling off the 15th to 1st climb at Vegas.

Cervi & Bean both smoked 13.59s and split the round. Cervi won the most she ever has at the Finals with $164,635 earned & was the #2 money earner behind Moore. Both Moore & Cervi topped the WNFR earnings record of $155,899 set by Cervi in 2013. Wall & Tkw Bullysfamous Fox finished off a great week placing 3rd in Round 10. She placed in 5 rounds, ended up 4th in the Average & won $134,808 during the Finals. Small & Shameon U, placed 4th & wish the WNFR would have been another 10 nights, they were finding their groove in Rounds 9 & 10.

Lockhart & Louie had another flawless run to place in the round & lock up her 2nd WNFR Average Championship. They won a total of $151,731. Lockhart ended up 3rd in the World Standings for 2016, after finishing 2nd in 2014 & 2015, and 3rd also in 2013. Capper finished out a solid first appearance at the WNFR by placing tying for 5th in Round 10. She ended up winning $84,461 during the Finals.

McLeod switched to Apt To Be Special for the 10th Round. Conrado & Tibbie ran on the wrong side of the second barrel and went back out of the arena.

"Lucky" and I to win! It is such a blessing," Harmon said.

Preparing the young superstar for her first run at the BFA was very similar to how Harmon prepared her other horses.

"I worked her like any other horse and kept her confident and sharp. I had been taking my 3-year-olds to exhibition about twice a week up until the last two weeks, then I just concentrated on making sure she was feeling 100%."

Prior to the SuperStakes, Harmon focused on trusting her training and her horse.

"I got behind her at the first barrel but she is so fast that she makes up for a lot. I knew it was a good run but I didn't really think it was that good until I glanced up at the clock as I was running back up the alley. After I had noticed what our time was, I did give a good ole fist pump because I was so excited and thrilled!"

Harmon admitted that it took a minute for her run to sink in and it wasn't until good friend Hallie Hanssen came running up to her telling her she had won the slot race that it all became crystal clear.

"Once Hallie told me that I had won, I got a little emotional and when I saw my family and got to share in the excitement with all of them, it really sank in. It was and still is very exciting. It is definitely a run that I will never forget!"

Molli Montgomery Clinic at BFA World Championships, Wins Futurity & Juvenile

By Tanya Randall

Molli Montgomery of Dawson, Texas, dominated the 31st Annual Barrel Futurities of America World Championships, winning both the 70,000-added BFA Futurity and $30,000-added MVP Juvenile Futurity in record-breaking fashion.

"I was just overwhelmed that everything came together like it did," said Montgomery. "To be the person that ran the fastest time of the futurity ever, the fastest time of the juvenile ever, plus win the juvenile and futurity…to me that was a God moment."

In the BFA Futurity, Montgomery guided A Dash Ta Glamour ("Bakken") to a $45,703 victory for the gelding's new owner Kelly Tovar of Rockdale, Texas. Montgomery and Bakken were fourth in the first go with a 15.406, and a 15.301 placed them second in the second go.

"He continually got faster which is awesome for any horse, especially a futurity horse," she said. "It shows consistency in a horse. That's something that I want to produce, something that gets better with every run instead of getting fragile."

Montgomery and Bakken drew up in the first drag and she was a little apprehensive about running so early.

"It's always hard for me to be early in the draw," she said. "You just don't have the same drive and feel that you do when you're later on and you have something to run at. With him you can't really safety up. If you don't send him to that first barrel, it's not really going to work out. He can get a little tight. I had three horse in the finals and I was just laser focused on trying to have them all ready to go."

Bakken's screaming 15.002, accented by his wicked second barrel, was the fastest of the event and fastest of the Futurity.

"That second barrel . . . I don't think I could have slid a piece of paper between my leg and that barrel. I still don't know . . . I can't even think that fast. I still don't know how I made it around that second barrel. I've watched that video over and over. I don't even touch him with my reins at the second barrel. That's what makes him so fun—he loves his job," said Montgomery.

"As a trainer when you can send those horses in there and you know they're having fun and you're having fun, I feel like I've accomplished what I've needed to do. There is nothing more satisfying than saying your horse loves his job."

Bakken was one of seven horses—including Reserve Champion JL Jamaican Me Rich, ridden by Jolene Montgomery—in the Futurity Finals by Jud Little's master creation, JL Dash Ta Heaven, the champion performer and now sire, by Dash Ta Fame out of WPRA World Champion Dynas Plain Special, by Special Feelins. The 4-year-old gelding is out of Little's Bully Bullion mare, My Glamour Gal.

Tesha Jo Fredericks of New Town, N.D., purchased Bakken as a $14,500 2-year-old from noted horseman John Read Foster of Scottsville, Ky., through the Better Barrel Races Sale.

"I do think he might be the best colt that I ever trained," Montgomery said of Bakken. "As a colt, he wasn't the easiest horse to train. He's got that Bully Bullion in him, which makes him pretty tough. He's the first Bully Bullion that I've ever trained and I've always heard 'Oh, you know, they're tough, but once they get it, they get it and they're solid.' That was 100 percent true. He was a little toot to train, but once he put it together that was it, he was consistent. He does it the same trip every time."

Earlier this fall, Montgomery brokered a deal to sell Bakken to Tovar.

"I knew at the end of his futurity season, Tesha was open to selling him and I kind of wanted to hand-pick the home that he went to. I wanted to go to someone who would give him an amazing home. I know that Kelly will give him a really good home and it would probably be a forever home."

Montgomery said helping sell Bakken was one of the hardest things she's done as a trainer.

"For the first time in my life, I've seriously had a hole in my heart when I recached out to Kelly to see if she would be interested in him," she said. "I was heartbroken, but I got to keep him and run him, and that was awesome."

Unfortunately, moving onto the next horse is part of the training business.

Six years ago, Montgomery decided to quit her fulltime job to train horses. She had always trained a couple on the side, but when she returned to her family home, she decided to make a go at training for a living.

"I went through a lot of hard times," she said. "It's not an easy way of life. I can't tell you how many conversations I've had with my mom and God, because you're constantly doubting yourself. You're constantly doubting your training. My husband just kept telling me, you just don't have the horses yet. Your time will come."

Like all up-start trainers, Montgomery had to earn her way to the better horses.

"I'm always surprised when they tell me that my riding and training has improved so much," she said. "I'm always puzzled by that. My training hasn't changed, but I've finally got the horses that could do what I was asking them to do."

MVP Juvenile Futurity

Juvenile Futurity Champion, Legsgonewild ("Legs"), owned by Jeff and Leslie Makovy of Corsicana, Texas, was a perfect example of getting the right kind of horse.

"Her owners are just awesome," said Montgomery. "They've been with me for several years. We just had to find horses with the right breeding for them. I was extremely happy for them because they've waited a long time to find the right horse with the right breeding and potential."

Bred by Bielau Oaks of Weimer, Texas, Legs, a 3-year-old bay mare, is by Tres Seis out of the Stoli, Shawne Bug mare Stoli Bugs Me. Barbara Kelly had purchased the mare as yearling at Heritage Place for $8,200 before selling her to the Makovys. Montgomery starting riding the filly in the fall of her second year.

"I always felt like she was going to make a barrel horse, but she was little bit harder to train because she wants to kick her hip out," Montgomery explained. "To me, when a horse kicks their hip out, they're wanting to hurry at a barrel. She was wanting to crossfire at the backside of the barrel because she was wanting to hurry around it. I tried to keep her straighter and drive her in with that hip a lot longer than I usually do on one. I felt like that if I did that repetitive training for a long time that eventually it would work when I went fast.

"She's got a straight little style. She doesn't have a lot of bend. I knew she was kind of going to be that way because the Tres Seis that Jolene had a couple of years ago, that was so nice, was like that. She was kind of straight on like that, but they can make that move, so I didn't worry about it. I want to try to let them do it the way the they want to do it as long as it works."

Montgomery and Legs first competition run was in the BFA Super Stakes, where they finished one out of the money with a 16.024. Their first run in the Juvenile the next morning was a 15th finishing 15.816.

"When I ran in there in the Super Stakes I didn't send her hard enough," Montgomery recalled. "That's why we had that little hiccup at the first. Then when I ran her in there for the first go, I still had a little hiccup on the first. Going in there in the second go, I let her pick her own speed, which happened to be superfast."

They turned in a second-round winning 15.294.

"I really didn't realize how fast we were running," laughed Montgomery. "I was super happy with that run. When I saw that time, I was like 'WHOA!' I was just trying to be smooth. I was so laser focused on making that run that it was almost shocking to me. She was just crazy fast."

Their average of 31.110 gave them total earnings of $17,533.

Montgomery wanted to thank God, first and foremost, her Mom and Dad, brother and sister-in-law, Kerby and Jolene, her cousin Kay Montgomery, Tristan Mounts, Leslea Wilder, her farrier J.O. Duke, equine dentist Lee Vogel, veterinarians Don Lee of XX Equine and John Janicek of Brazos Valley Equine in Salado, and her sponsors 5-Star Pads, OE Nutraceuticals, Quench Shampoo and Rain International.

Cullins Comes Out on Top in 4-Star Derby at BFA

By Hope Sickler

East coast barrel horse trainer Brandon Cullins, is on a mission to make his name legendary in the futurity industry and having a very successful week in Oklahoma City at the BFA was just what he needed to keep that ball rolling. The humble and quiet Cullins has been winning at this game for years and is really starting to make his name a household one, especially within the last year, so it was no surprise when he won the BFA 4-Star Derby World Championship on Saturday night.

Cullins piloted Robin Weaver's very talented Dash Ta Fame son, VQ Sucker Punch "Rocko", to the victory. 5-year-old VQ Sucker Punch is out of Honor This Nonstop by Mr Honor Bound. Cullins describes the big, lanky gelding as a people-person kind of horse with a huge heart and a lot of try.

"He is a lot of fun to ride and he gives me 110% every run we make. It seems like his main goal in life is to make everyone around him happy. He is like a dog; very loyal and just wants to be your best friend," commented Cullins. "The heart and the try that he has makes him very special. He would do anything you asked him to do and he has been so much fun for me this year."

With two solid runs in the first two go-rounds, Cullins easily qualified himself and "Rocko" back to the championship round Saturday evening which took the top 20 fastest times ran in both go-rounds.

"He worked great in the first round and I couldn't have asked for a better run. In the second round, he wanted to set up a little early and when he does that, he will run around the barrel a little instead of sticking his hind leg and coming out fast. In the finals, he was absolutely perfect. Our first and second barrel was smoking and he was so tight on the second barrel, I stayed up riding him to make sure we got around it and he got out of there so quickly that it took me almost the entire way to the third barrel to get my timing back with him."

With his fastest run of 15.378 qualifying him to the championship round, and his smoking fast time of 15.248 in the short round, Cullins aggregate time on two runs of 30.626-seconds gave him the W and a lot to be grateful for.

"The BFA this year was the best one yet for me and the best week of my career thus far. I was sick all week but had great help with me, Edesse Descoteaux from Quebec, who has been working with me for a little over a month now. I couldn't have made it throughout the week without Edesse's help, Robin Weaver who owns the horses and Tim Horton, Robin's boyfriend. I have been coming to the BFA since 2007 and it wasn't until 2012 that I won my first check. I have been working hard and I am so grateful that it is paying off. I am very grateful," said Cullins.

Besides winning the derby, Cullins also placed on his other derby horse, Foxie Stinson, won 2nd in the juvenile average, 3rd in the SuperStakes race, won the Sires Slot race, and got one back to the finals in the BFA Futurity. Cullins ended up banking well over $75,000 in the Jim Norick Arena last week.

Lisa Lutjen and KN Fabs Gift of Fame Win Las Vegas Qualifier #14

Q&A with Lisa Lutjen

Q: Tell us a little about your horse and her history.
A: J Lo was sent to us by Kenny when Kelsey was in high school and J Lo was a 2 year old. We rode her and Kelsey trained her and then later ran her in the futurities. Kelsey and JLo went on to win over $130k at futurities, derbies and rodeos.

Q: Could you walk us through your winning run?
A: My goal going in to the arena was to ride her past the barrels because I knew if I kept them up she would take care of the clock. So the first, I knew I had to get her past it, then the second we rocked it some so going to the third I told myself don't stop riding her because she is so fast even if she goes past some she will clock. Then when I crossed the eye and saw the time, I could not believe she was that fast!

Q: Your daughter Kelsey, has won a bunch of J-Lo, what advice did she give you as you were getting ready to run?
A: My advice from Kelsey was to have fun, because I think she thought she had thrown me to the wolves encouraging me to enter because of all of the super talented ladies that were entered!

Q: Can you share with us what it feels like to run a horse like J-Lo?
A: For me, this was really stepping out of my comfort zone because I was always a roper and not much of a barrel racer! (LOL) I have been so blessed getting back into competing myself and being able ride several horses behind Kelsey and it has always been successful!

Q: What are your plans between now and The American Semi-Finals for you and your horse?
A: Plan between now and the Semi-Finals are to get Complete Bully ready (owned by Tom and Vickie Stockton) to get his turn in Ft Worth. Complete Bully qualified Kelsey last year and she ran J Lo in his place so now J Lo just returned the favor and qualified me so Complete Bully will run with me and J Lo will run with Kelsey.

Thank you to Kenny Nichols, Dale Barron, Kelsey Lutjen, Tom and Vickie Stockton, and my Dad for taking care of all my animals at home and most of all my husband for going along and supporting my love for my horses and barrel racing! My one and only sponsor is T S Ranches and they have entrusted me with their great horse, Complete Bully, that I will be riding in Ft Worth (at The American Semi-Finals).

On behalf of Barrel Futurities of America, thank you to the contestants, owners, and breeders who are training for, investing in, and building the barrel racing industry. Your talent and life's work was on full display at the 2016 BFA World Championship!

Fast times, smooth schedule, personal attention. Thank you to John Laws, Alan Moorhead, Billy Webb, 3-2-1 Action Video, and the countless individuals who work with BFA to produce the week's competitions.

The BFA Board of Directors extends a special THANK YOU to the sponsors of the 2016 BFA World Championship. Too numerous to list, these companies and individuals demonstrate their loyalty and generosity to the futurity industry by title sponsoring competitions, presenting awards, and supporting production of this cornerstone barrel racing event. These sponsors are listed on the sponsor page at www.bfaworld.com.

Trepanier and DHR Phoebes Rose Rock All-In Race 2

Q&A with Brianna Trepanier

Q: Tell us a little about your horse and her history.
A: We bought Quill almost 2 years ago exactly from Delvin Buhr. He had been doing really well on her at a few futurities and I was looking for another horse to eventually take down the road again. We didn't get along well at all when I first tried her, so much so that I think Delvin was a little worried to send her home with us! I was worried too, to be honest. But I knew she was a nice mare and I really wanted to give us a chance to work. The first year, I only trail rode her and did some light stuff in the arena. I just wanted her to get comfortable with me with no pressure from the barrels. She's a sensitive mare and really prefers just one person handling her I have found. We had many struggles that first year together, but eventually we started to figure each other out and I slowly added the barrels into our routine. The first few races I took her to we pretty much just loped some 3D times. I didn't want to blast her through there and ruin her confidence in me, so we took it slow for a few months. As time went on, we slowly became more and more confident in each other and we started adding more speed. It took us a little longer than I think I initially hoped for, but here we are now, 2 years later and holding our own against some really tough horses. She's an incredible mare and I'm so blessed to have her. I can't thank the Buhr family enough for selling her to me and believing in us. I hope we can continue to make them and everyone proud.

Q: Could you walk us through your winning run?
A: Our winning run was incredible. I knew a 14.8 was leading it at the time and I knew that we would need to make a great run to pull out the win. As I walked her into the arena, I just had a feeling she would make the run we needed. She was calm, focused, and ready. The rest of the run is a bit of a blur, but I remember running through the timer and seeing our time and I just started crying. I was so happy. Ill never forget that run as it is the first big win for Quill and I together.

Q: What was it like running in a big race in Vegas during the NFR?
A: It was pretty exciting to be running in a big race at the same time as the NFR. My goal is to one day make the NFR myself, so I kind of used the weekend to help visualize for my future goals. My winning run on Saturday, I was actually pretending it was the Thomas & Mack center and that I was running down that alley. Sounds kind of cheesy I know, but I believe visualizing those sort of things will help make it a reality in the future.

Q: What are your plans for 2017 with your horse?
A: My plans for 2017 are to start slowly entering some rodeos and see where we get. We also just qualified for the American Semifinals so Id like to see where that takes us!

I just want to say thank you to my parents for all that they do for me, without them I wouldn't be here. Also a big thank you to Dr. Hamer at Alimo Pintado, Dr. Burguard and my shoer Bobby Ortiz for helping keep Quill happy and healthy.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

If you are a barrel racer, you no doubt have heard snarky remarks about barrel horses. "Crazy barrel horses!" "Crazy can chasers!" "Their eyes roll back in their head when they leave the gate", (I'm assuming they are talking about the horse?). We team roped nearly every weekend for 15 solid years and I probably heard every snide remark about barrel racing/barrel horses during that time. One weekend, though, we had a fun county rodeo where women roped (this was back in the day when women did NOT rope in the arena), and the men barrel raced. Our showing was hands down better than the men. I literally laughed till I cried! What a glorious comeuppance! What I saw after that day, from even the most vocal detractor, was respect. It sure wasn't as easy as it looked from the bleachers!

And my word picture today is……..it's often that way when a person asks Jesus into their life. Some of our old friends and family just can't get past that they saw you, heard you or accompanied you in sin. YOU are now a hypocrite. Like barrel critics, they have no idea what they are talking about. I could write three articles on what my family alone had to say to me! And it hurt. All I did was receive the free gift that Jesus bought and paid for me to have. Was I immediately perfect? NO! But when I asked Jesus into my life I WAS immediately forgiven of everything I had screwed up. 2 Cor. 5:17 says, "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are past away; behold all things are become new." And then from that day, you begin to live your life to be more like Jesus.

So what are you celebrating this Christmas? I hope it's Jesus. He was born…so He could die…and pay for the sins we've all committed…so we can have life abundantly here on earth….and when we die….we are heaven bound!

JESUS….THE BEST GIFT EVAH!!
