Sioux Falls Shuffles Top 15; Hailey Kinsel & DM Sissy Hayday Take Over No. 1

By Tanya Randall

Four-time WPRA World Champion Hailey Kinsel and her great mare DM Sissy Hayday claimed the No. 1 spot in the world with a $41,000 Governor's Cup Championship.

The 2nd Annual Governor's Cup, held September 26-28, is the culmination of the Pro Rodeo Playoff Tour. The top four finishers from the Cinch Playoffs Puyallup Rodeo plus the top eight in the Playoff Tour standings faced off for a share of the $144,444 barrel racing purse.

"That's such a great event," said Kinsel, Cotulla, Texas. "They've done an awesome job with it. We knew it was going to be amazing last year before it happened. After going, I think it lit everyone's fire to want to go back this year. I'm just glad I could get that done and benefit from it."

As the last major rodeo of the season, the Governor's Cup was the key to securing a National Finals Rodeo qualification. This year, the results shuffled the pre-rodeo world standings.

In addition to Kinsel's move to No. 1, the Governor's Cup helped Ashley Castleberry move from sixth to third; Latricia Duke moved from 13th to eighth and Halyn Lide moved from 11th to ninth. It was also vital for Shelley Morgan's defense of her 15th position.

The small indoor set up also gave a preview of what may be to come at NFR. Kinsel and 13-year-old Sis showed they were at the top of their game, winning the first round, staying solid in the second to lead the top eight advancing to the semifinals. They had the fastest time of both the semifinals and finals, 13.72 and 13.52.

"It was awesome to have her fit and ready to go there," said Kinsel. "Even looking forward to the Finals, having those solid runs were nice. She's already firing and ready, which means I don't have to do what I did last year - which was show up and hope she's ready to go. I know for a fact she's confident and feels good. She proved that in Sioux Falls."

The key to Sis's legendary career has been Kinsel's careful management of the mare. Last year, Sis took it upon herself to upset those plans.

"She cooperated with my management this year," chuckled Kinsel. "I had the exact same plan as last year, but this time, she didn't get to the end of the year and go, 'Ha! Good joke!'"

Throughout Sis's entire career, Kinsel has opted to rest her at specific times during the season. She sends Sister home in August before the peak of the Northwest run, where she typically runs her young horses.

Last year, Sis injured herself at home which eliminated her from appearing at the Governor's Cup and massively delayed the start of her conditioning and prep work for the National Finals Rodeo. This year, Kinsel ran Sis at the Lea County Fair in Lovington, New Mexico the second week of August and then sent her home for a break.

"I was watching her like a hawk a couple of weeks beforehand," laughed Kinsel. "No horse games please!"

"She's had two minor injuries during her career. Both of which were self-inflicted, horse-games type injuries at home. Really, if I can keep her from being too much herself. We'll be OK."

The original plan was to let Sis have an actual week off before her mother Leslie continued with her conditioning, but the North Dakota Roughriders Cup changed those plans.

"In August, we knew it was going to happen, but we didn't know if it was going to be WPRA-approved," Kinsel explained. "I had planned on saving her for Sioux Falls and hoped I was saving her for Mandan. Come to find out we were able to run at both, which made it even worth more to leave her home at the end of August and early September.”

Thankfully, Sis’s appetite forced the elder Kinsel to veto the mare’s week off, so she was ready to go by Mandan. “She was like, ‘Yeah, I didn’t give her off because she was starting to get fat.’ She stayed exercising her, riding her that whole month. She was definitely ready to make a run.

“That was the goal to have a horse that was fresh and feeling good with that much money. I wanted to be feeling her absolute best. She will run for me under absolutely any conditions but when she’s feeling lights out like that, it’s easy. Not easy to win, but easy to make that run.

Kinsel, who plans on spending the next couple of months getting her young horses in order and getting ready to host her youth race, November 16 at the San Antonio Rose Palace in Boerne, Texas, said that Sis might actually get two days off following the Sioux Falls victory.

“I think I might give her two days,” she said. “I’ll give her today because I’m tired and probably one more day. Then we’ll be back to ponying and staying fit for the (NFR).

2024 National Finals Rodeo Qualifiers

By Tanya Randall

A Governor's Cup Championship on the last weekend of the regular season put four-time WPRA World Champion Hailey Kinsel and her $3 million winner DM Sissy Hayday at the top of the leaderboard going into the NFR. The dynamic duo had a solid winter run, highlighted by shared championship at the National Western in Denver. They kicked off a blistering summer run with Reno Rodeo Championship, followed by a reserve finish at the Calgary Stampede and a slew of sub-17 runs on standard patterns throughout the intermountain west, including an arena record-breaking 16.59 at Heber City, Utah. Afterward, Kinsel sent Sis home while she ran TR Judges Doll and BCK Spyder Monkey until Sis cracked out again at Lovington, New Mexico, mid-September to prepare for the Governor's Cup. The pair from Cotulla, Texas, will be making their eighth straight NFR appearance.

Second-time NFR qualifier Leslie Smalygo had a dream season. She and Justahartbeattofame ("Gus") won the two richest rodeos of the regular season—Rodeo Houston in March and the Calgary Stampede in July. The duo from Skiatook, Oklahoma, finished 21st in the 2023 World Standings. Until her Houston victory, her biggest check over the winter run was from a second-place finish at the Rodeo Austin qualifier in Stephenville, Texas, which counted toward the standings. They won the Will Rogers Stampede in Claremore, Oklahoma, that spring and the Dinosaur Roundup in Vernal, Utah. A tie-up episode in Reno, Nevada, derailed their Fourth of July run, but Gus was back in winning form by Calgary. Smalygo and Gus continued to excel in the larger outdoor runs like Cheyenne, Wyoming, but also proved they can run short with solid earnings from the Cinch Playoff Puyallup Rodeo. They finished their season at the North Dakota Roughriders Cup in Mandan and will be making their second NFR appearance, having previously qualified in 2022.

Perennial top 25 barrel racer Ashley Castleberry of Montgomery, Texas, will be making her first NFR appearance. She and her wickedly fast gelding Skyy Blue spent most of 2023 becoming a team and finished 17th in the world standings. This season they were in contention all year long, having started off with a Texas Circuit Finals Rodeo Championship to jump start their 2024 earnings. They came out of the winter run in the Top 5 and hovered in the Top 10 nearly all season. Castleberry and Skyy finished off a brilliant season winning the Cinch Playoffs Puyallup Rodeo and taking second at the Governor's Cup to be in contention for a world title.

All-time leading rider Kassie Mowry is headed to her third consecutive NFR. It will be the fifth overall appearance for the Dublin, Texas, trainer. Mowry, who attended the fewest rodeos of any NFR qualifier, made every run count, winning San Antonio and Austin, Texas, this winter before taking a break for the major spring futurities. Back out for the summer run, Mowry had several weekends where she won $10-$13,000, all aboard her leading derby horse Force The Goodbye, who finished the season with a jaw-dropping arena record run of 13.38 at the Governor's Cup. She also won money on her former aged event standouts CP He Will Be Epic during the winter run and Famous Ladies Man—raised by fellow NFR qualifier Andrea Busby and her husband Jeff, in the early summer.

Dental hygienist Emily Beisel of Weatherford, Oklahoma, is headed to her sixth straight NFR. Beisel finished the winter run in the top 10, thanks to last season's breakout star Ivory On Fire ("Liza"). Her fan favorite Namgis D 33 ("Chongo") got a big win in Logandale, Nevada, in the spring before she added 4M Equine's Teasin Dat Guy ("Chewy") to her string. Chewy, who took her trainer Molly Otto to the 2022 NFR, won St. Paul, Oregon, over the Fourth of July to help Beisel briefly take the No. 1 spot in the world standings. Chewy was her main ride for most of the summer, picking up checks from Kansas and New Mexico to Nevada and Washington. Her last check of the season came on the mare at Mandan.

Three-time and defending NFR Champion Lisa Lockhart will be making her 18th consecutive appearance in Las Vegas. A reserve championship at Rodeo Houston on Rosas Cantina CC, owned and bred by Alan Woodbury, put her third in the world at the conclusion of the winter run. The Oelrichs, South Dakota barrel racer, was without her NFR champion Promise Me Fame Guys ("Levee"), owned by Teton Ridge, after a minor injury during the winter run, but the steady-running gelding was back in time to help her win another $20,000 over the Fourth of July. She also picked up nearly $10,000 aboard McColee Land & Livestock's Blazin' Ta Betty, a full sister to Jordon Brigg's World Champion Famous Lil Jet that was raised by Busby Quarter Horses. Lockhart closed out her season with a big win at the Pendleton Roundup aboard Prime Diamond ("Cutter"), who will likely backup Levee on his NFR title defense.

Former regular season earnings record holder Tiany Schuster returns for her third NFR. It's the Krum, Texas, barrel racer's first appearance since 2020. She previously qualified in 2017 when she set the earnings record. Schuster, who finished No. 113 in the 2023 WPRA World Standings, wasn't able to get into the limited entry rodeos, but won steadily at others with Famous Mic Guy Ver and Show Mance. She picked up speed in May, when she went to Canada for the Calgary Stampede qualifier. She earned the right to compete at the historic rodeo and climbed both the Canada and WPRA standings in the process. Back stateside, key wins at the California Rodeo in Salinas—with a newer ride Shines By Design—and Tremonton, Utah, with Show Mance. She closed out her WPRA season with a victory on Show Mance at the North Dakota Roughrider Cup.

Veteran aged event trainer and competitor Laticia Duke will take her homebred stallion DM High Roller ("Vanilla Wafer") to Las Vegas for their first NFR appearance. The Zephyr, Texas, based barrel racer made an extraordinary push the last two months of the regular season. Duke, who finished 25th in the 2023 World Standings, hadn't cracked the Top 20 by the first August but made it to 16th by the month's end. She and Vanilla Wafer were paid well for picking up late season Playoff Tour points to go into the Governor's Cup 14th in the World Standings. After taking second in the first round of the Governor's Cup, Duke and her golden boy had their first NFR made but solidified it with a third-place finish there. They got added assurance from Rey Of Fame, who picked up a check in Poway, California.

Halyn Lide of China Springs, Texas, and her homegrown star Jettin 'Ta Fame ("Keeper") will compete in their first NFR. Lide finished the 2023 season 27th in the World Standings, which got her into the winter building rodeos. She and Keeper started off 2024 as co-champions of the National Western and had just cracked the Top 15 by the end of June. They were the high-money earners over the Fourth of July, winning more than $32,000. Lide and Keeper also took advantage of the Calgary Stampede qualifier and left the historic rodeo with $7,000. At the season's end, Lide and Keeper capitalized on the Playoffs, winning good money at both Puyallup and Sioux Falls.

After a nearly catastrophic fall at the Calgary Stampede sent Dona Kay Rule home early in 2023, the Minco, Oklahoma, barrel racer and her Horse of the Year High Valor are headed to their fifth NFR in 2024. Valor made his first runs back at San Antonio and placed Houston and San Angelo, Texas, before a victory at the Guymon Pioneer Days in Oklahoma bumped them into the Top 15. Although they didn't have major victory, Rule and Valor were in the hunt everywhere and had more than $100,000 won by August.

Nurse practitioner Wenda Johnson of Pawhuska, Oklahoma, is headed to her fifth straight NFR. She and Steal Money ("Mo"), owned by High Point Performance Horses, finished the winter run

CALLING THE QUALIFIED

A run for a National Finals Rodeo qualification is often a multi-year process. This year more limited entry events than ever offered single event qualifier options for unranked contestants, and they help send five ladies to the NFR.

Standalone qualifier events were hosted by Denver, San Antonio and Austin. The Calgary Stampede had two—one in Utah and one in Canada. Andrea Busby got into San Antonio through its qualifying event in Uvalde, Texas. Leslie Smalygo won more than $5,000 toward the world standings at the Rodeo Austin qualifier but didn't win a dime at the rodeo itself. Tiany Schuster, Halyn Lide and Carlee Otero got into the Calgary Stampede through its Canadian qualifier.

Other rodeos took the winners from various circuit rodeos like Fort Worth, Houston and even Mandan at the end of the year. The WPRA World Finals Cardholder race also provides a path into Rodeo Houston, which sent Abby Phillips to the richest winter rodeo.

in the Top 10 and maintained their position all year long. They had great spring, winning Clovis, California, and San Angelo, Texas, to go into the summer No. 2 in the standings. In the fall, Johnson and Mo pulled off their second straight double, winning both Lawton, Oklahoma, and Lovington, New Mexico, in the same weekend.

After losing her great horse Crown Ta Fame in 2023, Abby Phillips spent the later part of the year seasoning her up-and-coming superstar VF Expensive Taste (“Andi”). Although they finished the year No. 102 in the World Standings, they came in clutch sharing the Wilderness Circuit Finals Rodeo Championship to start off the 2024 season with money won. They also took second at the WPRCA World Finals in November to earn the right to compete at Rodeo Houston. At the conclusion of the winter run, the Marshall, Texas, barrel racer was in the Top 10 and by the end of June was No. 3. To save her young mare, Phillips switched to VQ Im Buzzed, a full sibling to NFR qualifier VQ Sucker Punch, for most of the late summer rodeos. The one-two punch delivered for her first National Finals Rodeo qualification.

Leading barrel horse breeder Andrea Busby will be making her first appearance at the NFR. Two of the horses in her arsenal—Jets Top Gun (“Benny”) and Blazing With My Dude (“Tito”)—were raised by her and her husband Jeff at their Brock, Texas, ranch, as were horses that helped Kassie Mowry, Lisa Lockhart and Carlee Otero. She also won money on former aged event standout Born On Derby Day. Benny, who carried Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, to the lion’s share of her 2023 World Championship earnings, had to recover from an early season non-competitive injury but was back winning for Busby over the Fourth of July run. Tito, who had a minor injury during the season, came back to spell Benny this fall. Busby, who was 36th in the 2023 WPRCA World Standings, sealed her NFR qualification on the final weekend of the season, riding Tito and Benny to $3666 in Sioux Falls and borrowing Diamond Center, from NFR qualifier and Tito’s trainer Sue Smith, for the California rodeos.

Realtor Carlee Otero is back for a fourth NFR qualification—her first in 10 years. Otero, Perrin, Texas, had previously qualified in 2011-2012 and 2014. She had one bullet in her gun all year Blin-golena (“Sly”), who is also a Busby-raised Blazin Jetolena. Otero and Sly finished 19th in the 2023 just shy of the NFR in his rookie season on the rodeo rode. A sophomore slump through the winter building run gave them an uphill climb. They managed to crack the Top 30 by the end of June. They advanced to the Calgary Stampede through the qualifier and by mid-summer was in a battle for the final NFR spots. Down barrels and ground trouble cost them at a few Playoff Tour Rodeos, which excluded them the final showdown at the Governor’s Cup. Otero and Sly started the final weekend 13th but dropped as those behind her won money at Sioux Falls. However, they won all three of the rodeos they entered on the final weekend—Mona, Utah, Poway and San Bernardino, California.

2022 NFR Champion Shelley Morgan of Eustace, Texas, is headed to her fifth NFR, after falling just short in 2022 due to some physical issues with her great mare HR FamesKissAndTell. Morgan spent the early season riding the Jacobi family’s Bucky Wonder Horse (“Bee”), a daughter of Rosas Cantina CC and full brother to Myers Performance Horse’s stallion Lucky Wonder Horse, while a recovered Kiss got the most important runs. They finished the winter run in the Top 15, but trying to balance Kiss’s health and an NFR qualification got tricky over the hard summer run. Morgan was forced to send her home for a break until pressure time—the Playoffs. Kiss came in clutch at the Cinch Playoffs Puyallup Rodeo and at the Governor’s Cup, although she opted to ride Bee in the short round as Kiss’s work was already done and her qualification for the NFR was well assured.

Sharin Hall and Hello Stella Put on a Show at The Texarkana Showdown

By Britany Diaz

The team of Sharin Hall and Hello Stella have turned into household names in the barrel racing industry the past few years. Hall, a million dollar trainer, is always a force to be reckoned with about her amazing mare, Hello Stella, who is also very close to crossing the million dollar mark, with current lifetime earnings of $945,179. In 2021, Stella made history, becoming the first futurity colt to ever win over $500,000! She has continued her winning ways, including her latest big win at the Texarkana Showdown at the Four State Fairgrounds in Texarkana, TX on September 25-28.

Hall and Hello Stella, better known as Stella, were entered in the Derby and the High Stakes Race. On their run in the derby, the duo barely caught two barrels. They came back with a vengeance in the High Stakes race, running a 14.256, earning $13,095! The High Stakes Race had $104,760 total payout! The Texarkana Showdown is a different format than most races. It is a one run Futurity and Derby. You have the option to roll your time to the High Stakes and the opens. If you didn't have the run you wanted on your first run, you had the option to purchase another run in the High Stakes Race the next day and run again.

This was Hall's third trip to the Texarkana Showdown, put on by Showdown Productions. Hall shared, "The first year we tipped both days. Last year we were determined to do well the first round, we did, but I forgot to roll to the High Stakes. This year, we tipped in the one round Derby and had rolled to the High Stakes. So we paid another High Stakes entry fee and ran again Friday in that race, where it went our way and we won it."

"I had to mentally prepare myself to get around three barrels in that smaller pattern after catching the first and second barrel leaving them the day before in the derby. I also stayed another night and waited all day to run at 7 p.m., so talk about pressure!" laughed Hall. "I try not to think about clocking a certain time. I try and focus on what I have to do on that rocket to get her around them clean. When I do my job, she does hers, and thankfully when that happens, it is fast."

Hall appreciates these types of races, where there is a possibility of only having to run your horse one time for big money. Hall said, "It is super great for athletes like Stella to not make an extra run on if it isn't needed. Plus, a chance to run at that much money is incredible! The production team did an excellent job on the ground since the footing was new. It was soft and safe." Hall has now won $29,602 at just two of these events.

There is no doubt that Stella and Hall are an incredible team. Hall shared about her bond with her equine partner, "She likes any arena with three barrels. That is the reason we still go. She would be bored at home eating all day. Stella is super chill and laid back. She doesn't get rattled much, but still has that button to fire up the engines when we need it. She is starting to let me love on her more, she is so darn independent."

Hall shared the plans for her and Stella this upcoming year. "I try to take it one run at a time, but plan to enter any derby that allows them to compete until they are 8-years-old. The American is on the radar and rodeo is in the picture. I will not haul her legs off though. I would like to have a back up in order for us to go the whole season. Stella and I have mainly only gone in the summer. I love keeping Stella on jackpot ground, but a lot of the larger rodeos have gotten the ground safe and fast, which is appreciated. So we will go to some of those too." There is no doubt we will see this team cross the million dollar mark soon and we wish them the best

Sullivan and Cashin N Chex Cash in on $11K

By Julie Mankin

Shelby Sullivan hit the jackpot on the biggest paycheck of her career when she locked down the coveted 1D average championship and Circle Y trophy saddle from the West Coast Barrel Racing Association (WCBRA) Finals on September 26-29. In a field boasting the likes of Kristin Weaver Brown, Linda Vick, Brenda Mays and Lyndee Stairs, Sullivan came out on top aboard a tiny cow-bred gelding her mother started – Cashin N Chex (“Spanky”).

“It’s still sinking in,” said Sullivan, who ranches in Porterville with Kenny Ellison and their 3-year-old daughter. “I’ve been close every year, and finally it was our weekend.”

The annual WCBRA Finals at the International AgriCenter in Tulare, California, added more than $153,660 to the Finals and two extra races that were WPRA-approved and counted as triple qualifiers for the 2025 Finals. Sullivan’s not afraid to admit she made a deal with Spanky before the Finals. She’s pretty sure he understood her English when she told him she’d buy him a cryotherapy treatment for every run that pulled a check.

The pair’s 16.555 placed third in a very tight first round of the Finals for $3,033 and an even quicker 16.465 the following day placed second for another $4,401. That won Sullivan the 1D average to bring her Finals total to $8,492. She and Spanky had already clocked a 16.670 the first day to win The Myrna (named in memory of the producer’s mother) for a Gist buckle and another $1,377, plus she placed seventh on her mare. Sullivan took a total of $10,534 out of Tulare.

In the Finals average, Sullivan and Spanky had a hard time staying off Kaiden Ayres, who was a close second on Bae Bug over two runs to earn $5,626, and ran the fast time of the weekend – a 16.243 – on Oliver Cromwell to win the second round and another $5,028, plus some $2,500 in sidepots and aboard other horses.

Sullivan’s main man is a 12-year-old sorrel is by ER Hot Chex – a grandson of both Nu Cash and Sugars San Peppy – out of a Topsail Whiz daughter with Smart Little Lena on her bottom side. He only stands 14.2 hands, but looks much bigger in a run. He’s also “scary fast,” according to Shelby.

He’s her main ranch horse that she rides at brandings and she heels on him, as well, at home with Kenny. She’s turned down many offers to buy the little dynamo because Spanky also allows their 3-year-old daughter to jump on him and ride him everywhere. He’s hard to replace.

“We got him as a just-broke 2-year-old,” said Sullivan, 32. “He was my mom’s horse and we trained him together. I took him to futurities and she went to the derbies. A handful of years ago, he

THANKS: I’d love to thank my rock, Kenny, and my parents plus my vet, Dr. Ian Campbell from Santa Lucia Farm who keeps my horses sound and ready to go. And Formula One Noni, which makes a big difference.

stumbled in a run and somersaulted with her. It was actually a blessing, because she’d hit her head and they did an MRI, which was how they discovered a brain tumor. It saved her life!”

After that miracle, they decided Spanky tries so hard that Shelby better just stay on him. She says he’s been “trying his heart out ever since.”

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Psalm 46:1 tells us that God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble! That is so comforting in the times we are living in. Deut. 31:8 also reminds us that He will never leave us or forsake us. Psalm 91 is packed with examples of how we are protected and kept in His care, no matter how terrible the times. He's there to help! And we can be a help to each other.

Last night at church, Nancy was telling Megan and I how she was sitting out on the patio and a skunk wandered right up to within 6 feet of her. She said she sat very still until it wandered a little further off and she could run into the house! Yikes!

Megan to the rescue! She said, "Nancy, if you do get sprayed by a skunk, THERE IS A REALLY GOOD DOG WASH JUST DOWN THE ROAD!" DOG wash????????!! I lost it! I was laying on the chairs laughing! Friends, let's be like God and Meganan ever present help in time of trouble! Have a great week!
