A Sleeper Steps Up – Ryann Pedone & Turn N With Ease Wins JB Quarter Horses Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Injury and sold horses—the lifeblood of making a living with horses—had depleted Ryann Pedone’s futurity string for 2018. Luckily, the veteran trainer from Sunset, Texas, had a sleeper in the barn in the form of Turn N With Ease (“Sleepy”), owned by Sondra Blair.

Pedone and Sleepy, whom she raised, turned in the fastest time of the Championship Round of the JB Quarter Horses Futurity, held in conjunction with the Elite Extravaganza in Waco, Texas. The victory was worth $5,973—$6,511 with the inclusion of a ninth-place 1D carryover from Main Race 2.

“I’m extremely grateful for him to step up,” Pedone said. “It’s really nice to have that sleeper step up and make you feel like you’re still in the game a little bit.”

Bred by Pedone and her father Lee, Sleepy is by Guys Easy Jet out of the Holland Ease mare Holland Lady.

Pedone had originally purchased Holland Lady and Barbie Bug in a package deal from Eddie Henderson. She sold Holland Lady to Crystal Shumate, who raised the BHR Frenchies Socks stars Easy Goin Guy and Holland Guy out of the mare. Pedone later purchased the mare back and bred her to Guys Easy Jet to get Sleepy and his 3-year-old full sister, whom she plans on keeping to breed to her stallion Johnny Reb Jackson.

“I love that dam’s side of Guys Easy Jet,” said Pedone. Guys Easy Jet is a son of Frenchmans Guy of the Easy Jet mare Shake Me Easy, making him a full brother several big winners. “I’m known to breed to some studs that aren’t exactly shiny at the moment. I try to have a little foresight down the road. I really liked his dam side with the Easy Jet. He’s a full brother to a winner. I don’t think you can go wrong with any Frenchmans Guy as long as they have a good dam. So, I picked him to get some of that Easy Jet blood into my program.”

Pedone sold Sleepy to Blair and later got the gelding back to start on the barrels after Brice Manning broke him to ride. Sleepy got a late start on the pattern, May of his third year, because of a nagging abscess, and it took him a little longer to put everything together. “He had a good move, but he was a little ADD,” Pedone said of Sleepy’s performances at the spring futurities. “I told Sondra, I didn’t know when his turn was going to be, but it’s going to be his turn sometime. He has it. He’s just not mature. A lot of owners get down or start questioning the whole futurity thing, but Sondra just believed in me.”

Pedone gave Sleepy the month of June off and then brought him back up for the late summer futurities. At the Cornhusker Futurity in August, he proved he could clock. From there, he placed third in the average at an extremely tough Fizz Bomb Classic and third in the average at the Ardmore Futurity in September.

“At JB, it was just his turn,” Pedone said. “It was really cool to see him get that win because he is a really cool gelding. He’s finally starting to go in there and be serious about it. He’s super quiet and super sound. People over look him a lot. He’s a plain yellow horse, but if you step back and really look at him, he ties in really well and is sturdy. He squares up behind a barrel and leaves really straight and hard. Just a cool, cool gelding.”

Pedone wanted to thank Blair for sticking with her, her intern Katie Quast—who won the Open Average Sidepot at the Elite Extravaganza, her vet Don Lee, her father Lee Pedone, the Elite Barrel Racing Production crew, her webmistress Jolene Jones, product provider Jeye Johnson of EquiBrand and all her sponsors. “I couldn’t do what I do without my sponsors and the people who help me,” she said. “I’m kind of a pain to work with too, so it’s not

WPRA Announces 2018 Justin Best Footing Award Winners

Every year since the early 1990s the Women's Professional Rodeo Association and Justin Brands have honored rodeo committees in each of the 12 circuits that have went above and beyond to ensure safe ground for the animal athletes of rodeo, specifically the barrel racing horses.

The Justin Best Footing Awards® program was created when Tom Feller, director of event marketing for Justin Brands, approached the WPRA about partnering on a program that would focus on the health and well being of the animal athlete. Not only does the program keep animal athletes performing at the top level, but it also recognizes the hard work and time rodeo committees put into making their ground as safe as possible for the barrel horse and all rodeo livestock.

Each year the WPRA membership recognizes the top three rodeo committees in all 12 circuits as well as the most improved ground committee in each circuit, which puts forth the extra effort to ensure their rodeo has the safest most consistent ground possible for barrel racing. Committee awards provided by Justin include cash bonuses (ranging from $350-$1,000), plaques and, at certain award levels, a pair of Justin exotic boots. In addition, names of each winner for each of the 12 circuits are put into a drawing for an addition $1,500 bonus from Justin. The following rodeo committees will be recognized at the WPRA Star Celebration in Las Vegas on Dec. 6 at the South Point Hotel and Casino.

Congratulations to the following rodeo committees and the WPRA thanks you for making your ground safe and consistent.

When it’s wet, he’s getting rode—loping and trotting circles for 30 or 40 minutes. Maybe twice a week, I might school him on barrels or take him to a jackpot to keep him sharp. It’s really important for him. He gets better the more runs he makes. He needs that to stay sharp. (WPRA Finals, Bryan and then JB—He’s been pretty busy. He does better that way.) rodeo horse in the making – yes, absolutely.

O'Quinn & Nelson Earn Trip to RNCFR

By Amy Wilson

An unfortunate injury wasn't going to keep Sabra O'Quinn from making the Southeastern Circuit Finals in Davie, Florida. After one of her colts fell on her during the short round of the Parker-Wood futurity in Heber City, Utah, they wanted her to go to the hospital there, but she just wanted to get back to Florida. "By the time we got to Texas, I couldn't stand it anymore. A friend of ours who's a vet x-rayed it and said I needed surgery," O'Quinn explained. Two days after having surgery on her broken leg in Texas, which included a plate and nine screws, she was back home in Florida. And three days after that, she had a circuit rodeo. "I had enough money won, but I didn't have my rodeo count so I rode my older horse Wonders Oro and he packed me through the pattern – 3D record time with a cast on – it was great," she said with a little sarcasm and a laugh. "Oro I totally trust and will go as slow or fast as you want. I was lacking three rodeos, so I had to do that three times. It was misery, but I knew in November I'd be riding good enough and I wasn't going to be sitting home while the circuit finals were going on."

O'Quinn has qualified for the circuit finals 17 times on seven different horses, including this year's mount, Bring It On Guys. She calls the 9 year old mare "Nosey" and admits she has quite the attitude, "She always has really. She's quite the character." To describe Nosey's disposition, O'Quinn told a story about what happened before their first round run when she was leading her around. "I could tell she was really wound up, so it's better to just hand walk her, which isn't that great for my hurt ankle, but you do what you have to do, right? These three girls asked if they could get their picture. I was like, 'Yeah, sure.' They walk up and get about two foot from her and she snorts and blows her nose at them and pins her ears. Those girls screamed and hauled tail. That's just what she does at anything she don't like." And although there's a long story for why her name is Nosey, it sure fits her well.

O'Quinn also describes Nosey as, "barely 14.3, super gritty, and she's been working spectacular." Her game plan for the Southeastern Circuit Finals was to make three solid, clean runs and try to win as much as they could. They started by winning the first round. The second round, on the first barrel, the outside rein flipped up and got hung. "So going to the second, I didn't have the inside rein. I tried not to panic, but thank God she's pretty easy to steer. I got the rein back as I was going around the barrel. It cost me a tick, but she still won third," O'Quinn explained. They came back to win the third round and the average to become Southeastern Circuit Finals Champion and earn a spot at the Ram National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Kissimmee, Florida. "It's awesome," O'Quinn said about the RNCFR being in Florida. "That's the part of rodeoing I don't love – I love the sport, but all the driving is exhausting. So to be able to have that much money in my back door is pretty exciting." O'Quinn is also grateful for the opportunity the Southeastern Circuit Finals provides, "I've been saying it for years, I think we have the best circuit finals in the country. Davie really, really supports the rodeo down there – I mean, I won $9700. It's amazing. They put on a great show, have a huge hospitality tent, the awards banquet is amazing – I just can't say enough about Davie and the hardworking crew, PRCA/WPRA...they do a fantastic job down there." She also expressed her appreciation for those who support her, "I want to thank my family and friends for all their support, and my sponsors too."

O'Quinn would like to stay in the top 25 of the WPRA World Standings this year to have a guaranteed spot to RodeoHouston, and she's already qualified for The American Semi Finals; but her passion is training and she has three "amazing" futurity horses that she's excited about for this year. That love for training came from growing up on a thoroughbred racehorse farm in Ocala. She started riding when she was three years old and she got her first horse – a reject race horse – when she was five. "My granddad had racehorses – thoroughbred and quarter horses," O'Quinn remem-

I've trained all my horses – and I'm 50 – except Chaos (Alive With Chaos, who she recently sold to Andrea Busby) and I bought him finished from a friend. I enjoy it. I love the progress and the process," she said.

Ericka Nelson; Year-end Champion

The race for the Southeastern Circuit Year-end Championship tightened up in Davie because of the great payout. "I had about a $3,000 lead coming in," Ericka Nelson said. "That gap closed pretty quick because Nicole [Love] won the second round and Sabra won the first round. So we ended up having a race," she explained.

Nelson placed third in the first round, but was 12th on the ground in the second round and a stumble cost her a check. "Going into the third round we were third in the average and the girls who were really in contention were first and second in the average," Nelson said, knowing she needed to win something in the round. "Sabra was second out, I was fifth, and Nicole wasn't until eleventh. Sabra went to first in the round, so I knew I really needed to win something." With the pressure on, Nelson and The Frenchman Friday placed second in the third round to finish second in the average and earn her first Southeastern Circuit Year-end Championship. "I couldn't do any of it with the support of my husband, JB, and my family. And I want to give all the glory to Jesus," Nelson said thankfully.

Nelson, who is from Century, is looking forward to competing at the RNCFR in her home state. "I'm thankful to do something in Florida – anything in Florida is great! I've been so far away from Florida this past year that it's nice to be in Florida," she said. Although she's learned a lot from competing in prorodeos all over the country and even Canada, this past year was challenging. "This year I called it the 'series of unfortunate events' – we had a lot of stuff go wrong. The winter was pretty good. The summer after Calgary we just couldn't make anything happen," she explained. When Nelson got home, she realized she didn't have her circuit count in, so she was back on the road to compete at the last two. She rode the 11 year old sorrel gelding she calls "Friday" at all the circuit rodeos, except the last two since she was giving him a break. "He's Mr. Solid. He's going to do about the same thing every time. I can always count on him," she said about the dependable gelding who is owned by Darren Scholl. Nelson has ridden horses her whole life, but she started riding futurity horses four years ago and that's how she started riding for Scholl. "I rode a couple of his young horses, then we decided to try it on Friday and see how that would go," she said. And it led to several big opportunities. "We won a round at San Antonio so that was really neat – I had never been there before. Houston is amazing, and Calgary is pretty awesome. It was an exciting year," she added.

This year, she has a different plan. "My little girl was a home-schooler last year so she was with me all year, but she wanted to come back and go to school so I'm not going to be gone nearly as much," Nelson said referring to her 7 year old daughter, Rainey. "Depending on how the winter goes, we'll decide what we're going to do this summer. But I'll definitely stay a lot closer to home and go a lot less miles is the plan right now."

With the nice purse and convenient home-state location, both O'Quinn and Nelson will have the chance to capitalize on a great opportunity while representing the Southeastern Circuit at the RNCFR.

Second Consecutive Sweep for Lacinda Rose and RR Meradas Real Deal in the Great Lakes Circuit

By Tanya Randall

Super mom Lacinda Rose and her homebred gelding RR Meradas Real Deal dominated the Great Lakes Circuit for the second-straight year, winning both the Circuit Finals, held November 8-10 in Louisville, Kentucky, and the year-end championship.

The Willard, Missouri, barrel racer and mother of four—daughters, who are 16, 14 and 2, and a son, 4—picked up $9,563 for the circuit finals championship.

Rose had more than a $6,000 lead going into the Circuit Finals, and she locked up the year-end championship with her first round victory. She and Real Deal proceeded to win the second round—with an identical time of 15.73—and took second to Cricket Gintner and Dial A Little Fame in the third and final round to win the average.

Winning the average was “just the cherry on top,” she laughed. “I had a good time and was super blessed. We have a great circuit. The Great Lakes girls are fun group to compete with and they have some really nice horses.”

Bred by her father-in-law Phillip Rose, Real Deal, 10, is by Lover Boy Merada out of Zan Roan Jax Jo, by Zan Gold Jackson. Her husband, Adam, started him as a rope horse, but she got to steal him away for a barrel horse.

“I started him on the barrels when he was 4 and didn’t start entering him until he was 5,” said Rose.

Real Deal got thrust into the rodeo spotlight when the rodeo horse she was running got hurt. Thankfully, the gelding had a little rodeo experience as a head horse as a 4-year-old—winning money at the United Rodeo Association Finals—to help him transition quickly. “Real Deal was still pretty green,” said the lifelong rodeo competitor, “but he took right to the rodeo atmosphere, but he was so honest and did exactly what I asked him to do. The ground or conditions weren’t an issue and have never been an issue.”

Backed by her victory at the 2017 Great Lakes Circuit Finals Rodeo, Rose was able to get an early start to the year since the money counted toward the WPRA World Standings. She traveled more and was on the cusp of making a bid for the NFR.

“I’ve got a lot of responsibilities here with my kids,” she said. “It was really hard being gone. “Through the month of July, I was gone.”

She got to scratch Cody, Wyoming, off her Bucket List, even though the outcome wasn’t what she wanted. They did well at Cheyenne, redeeming a previous performance out there. Rose wanted to try to make Salinas, California, but couldn’t make it work. Instead, she stayed in Spanish Fork, Utah, and got some money won.

Overall, she finished the 2018 season 23rd in the World with $63,073, even though she tapered off her travels to just her circuit at the end of the year.

Being gone for some of the summer, didn’t diminish her standings in her home circuit.

“I had a lead before I went out there,” she said. “It was also hard for my husband, who circuit rodeos in the Great Lakes. He didn’t rodeo at all when we went out West. When we came back home in August and September, I think he hit every circuit rodeo he could, so he could catch back up.

“Of course, I went with him and did good too. My horse loves a lot of those rodeos. He loves those rodeos. He likes to come home too. I could turn him in his pasture and let him refresh.”

Her plans for 2019 is to see how the winter rodeos go. “I should get into Houston and San Antonio,” she said. “I’ve never been to Houston, but he likes San Antonio. I’m hoping to have a good winter.”

Rose is already second in the WPRA World Standings, thanks to her great fall at some of the bonus events. She picked up $2,990 at Okay, my friends, we are all about to get slammed. But don't panic. We can win if we start today! I was shocked to see one of the stores in our downtown already had their windows decorated for Christmas...last week!

From experience, we know that the next 6 weeks are going to be busy, VERY busy. And that same experience tells us that we are just not going to have time to get all our stuff done.

School programs, church programs, big rodeo and barrel race finals, shopping, decorating, traveling, extra work on the ranch, company coming (so we have to really clean behind those blinds), and a myriad of other extra chores!!! Yikes! I even scared myself!

But we are not without help. More importantly, we are not without guidance. Jesus wants to help us every step of the way.

Begin today to put Him first. Don't get into the mindset that you are going it alone, thinking He stayed out in the truck while you are laboring to GET THIS ALL DONE!

Read Deut. 8. In there you will see that it IS possible to leave

Him in the truck (forget Him) in your HEAD. But in reality, He NEVER leaves or forsakes us. (Heb. 13:5).

Get up in the morning and acknowledge His love, His help, His blessings, His direction, His healing, His prosperity, and His wisdom.

With Jesus FIRST AND NOT SET ASIDE TILL AFTER THE HOLIDAYS (seriously?), we will NOT fail! Now let's roll up our sleeves and get to work! LOL!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
