NOTES

Although 16 year old Shelby Singletary had won her fair share in her home state and at youth events Singletary has now taken it to the next level and become a World Champion. Her grandfather Robby Ash, tried to buy her horse Booger Bare Demus (Ghost) as a 3 year old horse but ended up getting him a few years later and put him through his training steps, readying him for granddaughter Singletary to haul to youth and open events across the east. Singletary will be headed to the Fiddler's Turkey Run at the end of the month and then in 2011 she will be taking a bigger circle hoping to get to Josey's races among others in the central part of the country.

Equine Care Facilities: Helping Our Nation's Unwanted Horses

WASHINGTON, DC – November 2, 2010 - A good deal of research has been done in the past few years about the importance of equine care facilities within the equine industry. With the number of unwanted horses currently estimated at 100,000 per year, increasing the ability of current facilities to care for horses and starting additional facilities will help to alleviate the burden.

The Unwanted Horse Coalition's 2009 Unwanted Horses Survey, with 2,245 participants representing equine care facilities out of a total of more than 27,000 respondents, found that many of our nation's rescues are at or near capacity and must turn many horses away. The survey found that 39% of facilities have reached their maximum capacity, 30% are at 75% - 99% capacity, and 26% are at 50% - 74% capacity. Rescue/adoption/rehabilitation facilities reported turning away 38% of the horses that are brought to them. One of the most appealing solutions cited by the 27,000 respondents is to increase the ability of private care facilities to care for unwanted horses.

A recent survey conducted by experts at the University of California, Davis, estimated that there are 326 registered non-profit equine rescue facilities in the U.S. The maximum capacity of these rescues is approximately 13,400, well below the estimation of 100,000 unwanted horses in the U.S. every year.

Although the equine care facilities take on much of the brunt and the burden of the nation's unwanted horse population, all equine organizations must be involved at some level to help solve the problem.

The National Thoroughbred Racing Association has created a 'Safety and Integrity Alliance, which has a large focus on aftercare for retired racehorses. Because of this program, many racetracks around the country are developing on-track adoption programs to assist racehorses in finding new homes and second careers. The Jockey Club created the Retirement Checkoff Program, which enables owners to make donations at the time of registration that benefit the Thoroughbred Charities of America and the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation. The Jockey Club also provides tattoo research free of charge through its Tattoo Identification Services. With tattoo information, more Thoroughbreds can be identified, which helps in the planning for the horses' welfare.

The American Quarter Horse Association has developed a program entitled Full Circle Program. This program enables Quarter Horse owners and breeders to enroll their horses at no cost to ensure that these horses, even if sold, will never become unwanted. The United States Trotting Association has also implemented a program to help assist their Standardbred horses in need. The Support Our Standardbreds program is designed to provide financial aid for the care of abused or neglected Standardbred horses.

For more information on how your organization can get involved in the effort to help unwanted horses, please contact UHC Director Ericka Caslin at ecaslin@horsecouncil.org or 202-296-4031.

NOTES
This weekend there were extremes in the barrel racing world, the 64 year old Kay Young won the tough Cowboy Capital Finals with just under 1300 entries in the meantime 16 year old Shelbi Singletary (one quarter of the age of Young) won the NBHA World Championship. Also it is interesting with Fancy Man Perks pedigree, his third dam is First Prize Rose, is the dam of all time leading racing sire, First Down Dash. The same Stanley family that bred Fancy Man Perks also bred First Down Dash.

- THE RUNDOWN: KAY YOUNG

HORSE: Fancy Man Perks, "Perky"
Sorrel Gelding, 7 years old, 15.2 hh, 1150 lbs.

OWNERS: Daniel & Susan Rudy

BIT: Wassen light combination, 20 years old

HEADGEAR: Rope tiedown, loose

SADDLE: Kay Young Master Saddles Forever Young Barrel Saddle

PAD: Classic Equine ESP Pad

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on all four legs

GRAIN: Total Equine

SUPPLEMENTS: Silver Lining Herbs

HAY: Free Choice Bermuda Grass with a flake of alfalfa morning and night

ADDITIONAL HORSE CARE: None.

#1 TRAINING OR RIDING TRIP: My philosophy is less is more. I try to do light training, I try not to ram and jam those horses. I spend lots of time walking around the barrels so that the barrel pattern becomes a comfort zone for the horse. For instance, I showed Perky my body language and my cues at a walk. This made it a low stress way to show him my way of doing things. One thing about my program that might be different than some is I walk them around the pattern a lot and just develop a comfort zone for the horse on the pattern. It is hard to work older horse anyway because they already know how to run barrels, the key is fitting your timing to the horse's timing.

HORSES GREATEST QUALITY: His toughness, he just has a grit about him.

Neali Novak & 2009 Creating Legends Sale Graduate Miss JB 0614

Neali Novak and her husband, Tim, purchased Miss JB 0614 at the 2009 JB Quarter Horses Creating Legends Select Barrel Horse Sale. Miss JB 0614, a daughter of AQHA Champion One Hot Jose out of Miss Dallas Fuel, by Oklahoma Fuel, was started by National Finals Rodeo qualifier and Champion trainer Kassie Mowry.

"When Kassie rode her in the demonstrations, she was just hunting the barrels," recalls Novak. "She looked like she enjoyed what she was doing and I wanted a horse that enjoyed its job."

"I've been taking her really slow," she said. "It took me a little while to get with her because she was so easy to ride. Then all of a sudden, we clicked. It didn't matter where I took her or what kind of ground we ran on, she was giving me her all."

Novak, who supports her barrel racing habit by working two jobs, also has an 8-year-old daughter to raise. Needless to say, Novak's time to ride and travel are limited.

"I haven't hauled her that much, usually once a month," she said. "If I do get to go three times one month, I usually don't go anywhere the next month."

Despite all the obstacles in her way, Novak is clocking in the 2D in the tough Texas jackpots and is incredibly pleased with her purchase.

"I love her," she said. "She's got a great disposition. My daughter rides her. She's so beautiful. My dream has always been to go pro. I think she's the one that will get me there. She's a great little mare."

Novak and Miss JB 0614 will be running in the 2nd Annual JB Quarter Horse Futurity in November, where they will compete for an additional $10,000 in bonus money from JB Quarter Horses and the trophy saddle for the highest-placing 2009 Sale's Graduate in the 2010 Futurity.

Q&A W/ EAGLEBERGER

BRR: What did you learn going to rodeos this year?
Eagleberger: I learned a lot about my horses and what they can handle and what fits them best. Also just going to new rodeos and places helps prepare for the new year on deciding where the best places are for me to go.

BRR: What are the keys to making 3 winning runs in one arena over one weekend?

Eagleberger: For me it is just really focusing on each run. We watched my runs on film after every night and really picked them apart to work on any mistakes me or my horse would make.

BRR: What do you focus on approaching each barrel?

Eagleberger: I try to focus on looking at one spot and riding to it. Breeze really likes to turn so I look at that one spot past the barrel and always try to tell myself to keep kicking.

BRR: What are your plans for next year?

Eagleberger: Trying to qualify for the NFR. As long as horses stay healthy and everything goes as planned I will be entered up!!

- Q&A w/ NANCY HUNTER

BRR: What was your key to having such a consistent year at your circuit rodeos?
Hunter: Picking the rodeos Fuzz normally had performed well in, I went to 27 rodeos, but only ran him at 19. We did hit a down time we got his feet sore around the 24th and a few weeks after that but Fred figured it out and he came back strong in August. Caldwell was a surprise because of past history with fuzz there but Fred had a game plan on the start and it worked. I think this year Fuzz and I finally got together and worked as a team.

BRR: What is the key to having three straight winning runs in one venue over one weekend?
Hunter: I have ran at the circuit finals this being the fourth year and have hit a barrel to be a contender in the average every year. My only goal this year was to not hit a barrel and try to win some fuel money, our circuit is stacked with amazing talent and it was anybodys game. Fred and I discussed the weekend, we worked Fuzz each morning slow in the arena and in the alleyway, and at night we followed our plan, we changed up the entry into the arena each night, one night I walked in alone, the other nights Fred rode a horse with me. We have always felt that competitions can be won in the alleyway, the start and approach is critical for making a good first barrel which leads to a successful run, Fuzz was super in the alleyway and that allowed us to have a good start into the pen.
The final night I was a bit apprehensive because of our past record of hitting a barrel, but I decided it was time to get that monkey off my back and it worked!

BRR: What do you focus on at each barrel?
Hunter: Fuzz works off the cue of a verbal whoa at the first, he is not a big stopper so it takes a jump or two for it all to connect, this cue has to be a few lengths from the first barrel so I focus on saying that whoa in the appropriate spot, the last night he missed the first by a stride as I was a late in saying whoa. The second and third barrel I just sit up and drive him into them, and keep my rein hand lifted he really bends around those barrels and if I drop that rein hand he will catch a barrel coming off with his hip. I can honestly say Fuzz has never shouldered a barrel going in, that is Freds trademark training, our horses can lift a shoulder. I try to ride quiet, sitting up and stay out of his way and encourage him with my voice, I seldom wear spurs and never use a whip he responds to my voice pretty well.

BRR: What are your plans for next year?
Hunter: Fuzz is getting 6 weeks off, we have some clinics that Fred is doing this month on his level training program which one can view on fredhunteronline.com. We also are so excited this time of year because we head to the NCHA Futurity sale in Fort Worth in December. This is where we buy our potential barrel horses for our program, and we love a horse sale. Our Josey-Hunter Bit line should be arriving anyday now so we hope to be able to promote these bits that Fred designed and I have rode with for over ten years, they also can be viewed on fredhunteronline.com.
As far as rodeos we will start with Denver and may try San Antonio and Houston again, I have a six year old "Cash Register" that is coming on strong that we need to haul and season, so he and Fuzz will be in the trailer at some rodeos in 2011.

Headin' For Home

By Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

“G loves cost money—you can grow skin for nothing!” The weathered old rancher drew a big laugh from the other riders when he said that but the truth was he'd lost them when he drove off and forgotten them on the fenders of his horse trailer. He always said funny things to get a laugh and also to cover up his forgetfulness. How many times do we say dumb things to cover up our mistakes or just to make people laugh?

We like to see people happy so we'll say just about anything to make our friends smile. But, is this a good thing?

Our words are containers holding good things or bad things for us. Our words are powerful. It tells us in Mark 11:23 we shall have what we say. Wow! Would you want some of the dumb things you've said to make a joke? I know I don't.

You don't want to be out of step with the Lord or disagree with Himm. We use phrases like “I can't”, “I'm afraid”.

God's Word in the Bible promises that if we are believers, we only have to ask and what we say is what we get. Matthew 21:22 tells us whatever we ask in prayer, believing, we shall receive. John 14:14 says, “Whatsoever you ask in My name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.” (John 14:12)

If you want to read a wonderful book full of true stories and Scriptures, go to a Christian bookstore and ask for What You Say is What You Get! By Don Gossett. Marilyn Hickey, well known teacher and evangelist, said this book teaches how to be a powerhouse for God. And let's make sure the words of our mouths produce blessing and not just laughs or even worse.
