NOTES

Snapper and Add Waddell have had quite a year up to this point, not only has the team won the Senior Barrel Racing at the AQHA World Show and the Summer Shootout, but they also won 3rd at Congress this year along with a bunch of placings at the toughest barrel races down the center of the country. Waddell and Snapper will keep just quietly racking up titles.

NOTES

Although 2010 has included winning two $100k slot races, a Junior AQHA World Show Championship and a futurity earnings record on Famous Silk Panties, this fall has been a test for Lance Graves. Graves had a trailer incident with a 3 year old, took a saddle horn to the chest, and a fall at Congress all led to one sore barrel jockey in need of some rest. The doctors told him to rest 4-6 weeks, but because the only doctor he cares to listen to is Dr. Gregory House on the popular TV show "House," he was back in the saddle for the AQHA World Show. The win at the World Show was the first on a non Dash Ta Fame horse for Graves. Ironically, Three Folly Six was bred and owned by the owners of Dash Ta Fame, Bob and Darian Burt and Graves had to outrun several Dash Ta Fames in the finals to claim the title. Darian Burt wanted to see the last of the great mare Hempes Folly's colts run on the barrels so Three Folly Six was sent to Graves and the rest as they say is history. Another sidenote to the story is that Tres Seis, who stands at JEH Stallion Station and is the sire of Three Folly Six, was recently sold to one of Graves' Brazilian clients, Guy Peixoco and two of his business partners in Brazil to take there after the 2011 breeding season.

Canadian Finals Rodeo Action Set to Start

CALGARY, ALTA. – Rodeo fans will descend on Rexall Place in Edmonton, Alta., for six performances of high-octane rodeo action this week. The Canadian Professional Rodeo Association (CPRA) along with Northlands is pleased to present the 37th annual Canadian Finals Rodeo (CFR), running November 10 to 14.

There are 106 CFR contestants who have earned their spot at the finals – where they'll be competing for national titles – by finishing at the top of the Canadian standings in their respective events, and attending at least 15 rodeos through the regular season. Joining them are the season's top stock; and, with more than $1.32 million up for grabs, anything is bound to happen.

The partnership between the CPRA and Northlands is still going strong as we head into an exciting 37th year. The 36th annual CFR attracted nearly 90,000 fans to Rexall Place in Edmonton, Alta. last November, a testament to the sport's ongoing popularity and growth. CFR at a Glance: Canadian Finals Rodeo XXXVII: November 10-14, Total Entrants for 2010 CFR: 108 – Total Purse: $1.32 million

2010 CFR Barrel Racing Contestants: Lisa Lockhart, Rana Koopmans, Lindsay Sears, Britany Fleck, Lauren Chad, Crystal Shaw, Joleen Seitz, Casey Crandall, Debbie Renger, Benette Barrington, Sierra Stoney, Sherrylynn Johnson.

Cowboys Cartel Moves to Myers Training Stables

Corona Cartel son Cowboys Cartel has moved to Myers Training Stables in St. Onge, SD to stand along side millionaire sire Frenchmans Guy. Cowboys Cartel (Corona Cartel-Dashing Folly, First Down Dash) will be standing to the public for the 2011 breeding season.

Bred by the Burnett Ranches LTD, Cowboys Cartel earned a speed index of 93 and was a finalist in the Ruidoso Derby Challenge (G3) during his two year race career. The son of leading sire Corona Cartel hales from the same female family as leading freshman sire PYC Paint Your Wagon and the young sire Ivory James as well as AQHA Junior Barrel Racing Champion, Three Folly Six. The dam of Cowboys Cartel, Dashing Folly, was the overall World Champion, Champion 3 Year Old, Champion 3 Year Old Filly, and Champion Aged Mare during her race career.

The half sister to Cowboys Cartel, Dashin Follies, recently sold at the Heritage Place for a record broodmare price of $875,000.

Celebration, Competition, Champions

Submitted by Tamara D. Reinhardt

Barrel Futurities of America is readying for its 25th Anniversary Celebration! The BFA World Championships will be hosted in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma December 6-11 as futurity, derby, amateur, open, and junior competitors gather to vie for event and year-end championships.

This year the BFA will produce the $50,000 Futurity, $20,000 Elite Juvenile Futurity, $15,000 SUCCEED Derby, $10,000 Jud Little Ranch Amateur Final, $10,000 Victory Farms 4D, and $1500 Junior 4D. The Super$takes Race will award $100,000 to the fastest untried, up-and-coming 3 yr. Old horse.

Reflecting on this event's history, great barrel racing horses have run down the alley at the BFA World Championships. Along with winning BFA Championships, many of these equine superstars have gone on to be champions at the NBHA, AQHA, and NFR. To celebrate these horses and their connections, the BFA encourages everyone attending this year's event to bring photos to display on "The Wall of Memories." Too, Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 7, from 4 to 6 p.m. contestants, families, and friends are invited to host their own "alley parties". Bring snacks, refreshments, stories, and memories to share with barn neighbors.

Joining the BFA's lineup of sponsors this year are Ariat and Weaver Leather. Ariat will be presenting a pair of boots to EVERY champion at the BFA World Championships totaling 29 pairs of boots. Weaver Leather will be introducing its new, technologically advanced Airflex cinch at the BFA World Championships and will also present this product to every champion.

The BFA World Championships continue to thrive with the loyal support of Elite Trailers, SUCCEED, Jud Little Ranch, Andis Clippers, Dr. Robbin Johnson, Dr. Brent Booze, Jarrett Guidry, Filly Tac, Valley Vet and WinningRuns.com.

Visworks will be webcasting the daily competitions live each day. More information is available at www.barrelfuturitiesofamerica.com.

The room is located on the southeast side of the complex, just across isle from the JBQH stallions and sale horses. We will be serving beverages and snacks free of charge, offering saddle fit and any answering questions about equipment. We will be showing great videos throughout the week, having open Q & A discussion sessions with professionals like Kassie Mowry, Dena Kirkpatrick, Jordon Peterson and more. So plan to stop by, relax in a comfortable chair and let's talk about barrel racing.

– Q&A WITH ADD WADDELL

HORSE: Wrapit N Snapit DC, “Snapper”

OWNERS: Kurt & Curtis Rose

BRR: What advice would you give it to someone who is new to the World Show?

WADDELL: First, it is different than most races because you have to get your horse qualified and during the shows there are times when you will hurry up and wait because you never know how long the different classes are going to take so you have to be patient. At the World Show, with all the disciplines involved you have to work in the warmup arena with all the different people. There is a lot of prestige with the event and although there aren't as many contestants as some races it is a very tough event to win.

BRR: Without giving away your secrets, what gave you the edge at this event?

WADDELL: I don't feel like anything in particular gave me an edge other than having a good horse. I still had to do my job and he had to do his.

BRR: When approaching the barrels, what are you focused on?

WADDELL: At the World Show, there are two alleys and the ground is deeper so you have to pick which alley gives you the best angle and approach. I was trying to pay attention to my spot (about 4-5 feet off the barrel) as I went to my first barrel. The barrel was a good ways down there and the score line was a ways down there so you had to be going pretty good to the first. Then at the second and third focusing on the right spot (4-5 feet off the barrel) and not getting in there too soon and letting the ground grab me and hold me at the barrels. Basically, I was focused on keeping my horse moving forward through the pattern.

BRR: What makes this horse special?

WADDELL: The move he has around a barrel, along with his reach and stride. He just has a natural move on a barrel and stays on top of the ground. He also has a lot of heart and tries hard for you.

WADDELL SPONSORS: Animal Krackers Equine, Carolina Bits The Competitive Edge, EZall, Fraser Insurance Agency, Frontier Saddlery, 4W Tack, Silver Lining Herbs, Sooners Trading, Tricked Out Pony, Nick Meabon Horseshoeing

– Q&A WITH LANCE GRAVES

HORSE: Three Folly Six, “Folly”

OWNERS: Darian Burt

BRR: What advice would you give it to someone who is new to the World Show?

GRAVES: It is my favorite show of the whole year. I like the dirt they use and I like the way set up the pattern way down there. With the setup he who nails his first barrel wins! The best teacher for that arena is experience. A lot of horse get bogged down behind the first barrel so I try to get a nice pocket on the first. It is best to know your horse and he has to be able to handle deep ground. It is a racehorse pen, your horse has to be able to really run and want to run. That is my 5th World Title in that pen so it has been a good show for me. I really like the crew and staff there and my international clients always like to come there, and I just enjoy the whole show.

BRR: Without giving away your secrets, what gave you the edge at this event?

GRAVES: I think I'm just experienced enough to know how to handle the situation. Even though I don't watch runs in front of me very often, here I do. Sometimes when you have enough life experience and you can judge from other people's horses you should adjust to what you see before. I saw PJ Burger's good horse (Rockette Ta Fame) ran a 17.0 in the Finals just two before me and she had ran nearly an identical time as me in the qualifying round so I knew I needed to adjust my game plan accordingly to get a little extra speed out of my horse so I lengthened out the tiedown on Folly and sent her extra hard.

BRR: When approaching the barrels, what are you focused on?

GRAVES: I tried to run right on the outside of everyone's tracks in that arena at the first barrel. She had to get into the deeper stuff on the second and third. I made sure to pick up her shoulders to keep the ground from pulling her in and keep her moving forward.

BRR: What makes this horse special?

GRAVES: Her greatest quality is her flat footed speed and her willingness to give it. She is just dirty fast.

GRAVES SPONSORS: Best Ever Pads, Ammerman Saddlery, Purina Mills, Barry Thompson & Thompson Farms

NOTES

Anyone who rodeos knows that it is always good to have luck on your side, and for Michelle West her luck is always on her side when she is on the back of Irish (JL Treasured Smash) who was born on St. Patrick's Day. With her win over the weekend at the Southeastern Circuit Finals in Davie, FL, she has earned a trip to the Dodge National Circuit Finals in Oklahoma City, which is only 90 miles from her house. However, her circuit finals were a good 1500 miles from her house and most of her rodeos were at least 7 hours from her Henryetta, OK home. It might be a lot of traveling but the good rodeos, good ground and good rodeo committees kept her traveling the Southeast all year. Although she was just trying to qualify for her circuit finals, going to the required number of rodeos to do that, led her to going to rodeos she might not have and eventually winning the circuit. "My original plan this year was to make the circuit finals and be in the top 45 so I could go to the big winter rodeos. At the end of the year I ended up 47th and so I am on the edge of qualifying for the winter rodeos. If the winter goes well I may try to travel hard enough in 2011 to make the NFR," said West. With her lucky charm, Irish, with her and a little help from neighbor Add Waddell with Irish, West is ready to run the Southeastern Circuit again in 2011 and with a little more Irish luck pursue the NFR too!

Against All Odds

February 14, 1995 – A day that should have been full of hope and excitement became one full of fear and uncertainty. The doctors didn't give her mom a hopeful outcome. At first they told the new mother that she needed to prepare for the worst and to not expect her daughter to live through the night. But she did. The diagnosis changed as time went by and the doctors again told her mom to prepare herself because she would only be a vegetable. But she wasn't. The diagnosis changed again and the doctors told her mom that she would never be able to walk. If they only knew how wrong they were. Against the odds, she has been proving them wrong ever since.

Aimee Sawyer was born with Cerebral Palsy. One definition states that Cerebral Palsy is a condition caused by brain damage around the time of birth and is marked by lack of muscle control, especially in the limbs, causing activity limitation. Aimee's type of Cerebral Palsy is called Spastic hemiplegia. This type is defined as only one side of the child's body is stiff. The child's arms or hands might be more affected than their legs. On the affected side, the arm is not developed normally and the child may also require a leg brace. Aimee's case causes her to step a little differently and she has limited use of her right hand. While other girls use both hands during a barrel race to turn their horse and hold onto the saddle horn, Aimee is only able to use her left hand. She had surgery this past December to lengthen her heel cord to help her walk a bit more level. Of course, the cast and surgery didn't even slow her down when it came to her horses. Prior to her surgery, Aimee usually lost her right stirrup by the second barrel. Thinking she was falling off, the crowd would usually become extremely worried about the remainder of her run. However, if you were to ask her if she felt like she lost her balance, she would respond with a grin and say "I was fine." Since the surgery, her foot stays in the stirrup much better and she is able to stay more level in the saddle. If you ever saw Aimee on any given day during the week, you would see a typical 15 year old teenager listening to music, texting on her phone, playing on the computer, laughing with her friends and planning what to do for the upcoming weekend. What would surprise you is what she does during the weekends. Most of Aimee's weekends are pretty full during the year and she absolutely loves every busy minute of it. You see, Aimee has a passion for barrel racing. You would never expect her of having Cerebral Palsy if you ever watched her race.

With her family involved in several different aspects of the horse industry, Aimee has had horses as a part of her daily life from day one. Her family has been involved with breeding, team roping and showing them over the years. These days, barrel racing dominates the scene. In the past couple of years, Aimee has won three saddles, numerous belt buckles, numerous awards and thousands of dollars with the help of her current mount, Rio.

Headin' For Home

"Classic" By Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

On all sides, we're bombarded by things designed to improve the performance of our horses.

There's horse clinics, books, tapes, video, new techniques, nutrition guidelines and new items of tack. It's all designed to help you have a better working relationship with your horse, help you enjoy your horse ownership and make a winner.

People will spend hours and enormous amounts of money on their horses but neglect the most important thing - peace and joy while they're on this earth and a glorious eternal life when they die.

Some people are in denial. They don't even want to think about death and they live in fear of getting every disease they hear mentioned on TV. They don't have to live that way-defeated, scared and unhappy. Many turn to alcohol, drugs and even suicide because they can't deal with life.

The only answer is Jesus. He came that we might have life and live it more abundantly (John 10:10). God really does love us. He loves us so much that He sent His only Son to pay the debt we owed. It's hard for us to understand that because how many of us would be willing to sacrifice a beloved son for a bunch of people, many of whom, don't respect us or even want to know us?

Learn all you can about God's Divine plan for your life. Talk to God. He'll listen and show you things. Read His Word in this Bible. Talk to other believers. Look for a good Bible preaching church where you can assemble with people of faith. Sign up for our free teaching CDs that we mail out free every two weeks all over the United States. Just send your name and address to Mike Morrison Ministries, Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717.

If you'll give God as much attention as you do your horse, you'll find that you're riding in victory in this life and have no fear of the next one!

Mike Morrison and his wife, Sherry, are ordained ministers and pastors of "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, Wyoming. They also travel widely, ministering by invitation, at ranches, futurities, churches, community halls and rodeos.
