Kassie Mowry & Force The Goodbye Capture WPRA World Championship

By Tanya Randall

Would you ever consider hauling for a world title?

It was a question often asked of Kassie Mowry, barrel racing's all-time leading rider with $7.897 million in documented career earnings.

Her standard reply, "It would just have to happen."

The National Finals Rodeo was always a maybe for perennial leading futurity trainer. Her first goal was to win enough to be eligible to enter the lucrative winter rodeos, easily driven from her Dublin, Texas, home, where she often returned between rodeo rounds to ride her colts.

If the winter rodeos went well and put her in contention to make the NFR—so her Utah-based family could have a reason to go to Las Vegas—she'd attempt to win enough in the fewest amount of rodeos possible and meet the minimum required rodeo count of 25. This process has yielded four of her five NFR qualifications. In 2017, it was a great winter on Firewatermakemehappy ("Junior"), owned by Martha Smith, that carried her to Vegas. In 2022 and 2023, her COVID colts Famous Ladies Man ("Emmett") and CP He Will Be Epic ("Will") made the transition from aged event stars to rodeo horses.

While Will and Emmett made their contributions, it was Mowry's 6-year-old phenom Force The Goodbye ("Jarvis") that made it to the NFR. In doing so, Mowry fulfilled her late fiancé Michael Boone's wish of giving their horse another chance to shine as bright as the Las Vegas nights.

"I got the horse there and that's what I wanted," Mowry said. "I just wanted him to have the chance. The rest was up to Jarvis." She and Jarvis placed first or second in eight of the ten rounds in Las Vegas, only failing to place on the two nights they tipped a barrel.

"It's like how? How does he do that? He doesn't even look or feel like he's doing it!" she said.

They tied WPRA President Jimmie Monroe's record of placing first in five consecutive rounds and won the RAM Top Gun award for winning the most money at the NFR, $295,526.

"Every time I've thrown something at that horse, he just rises to the occasion," she said. "He is that once-in-a-lifetime horse. I've ridden amazing horses but none of them are what he is."

Mowry quickly pointed out that what Jarvis did at the NFR is what he did all year long. He earned money at 16 rodeos, winning nine of them. She only recalled not winning a check at one rodeo all summer.

"I've never been on a horse that's won more first places at rodeos," she said of The Goodbye Lane gelding, out of the Burrs First Down mare VF Forcit First and bred by Janelle Blubaugh. "All those different arenas ... and he didn't come in there with a ton of experience, not really any, other than running at the NFR and a couple of rodeos last year as a 5-year-old."

Mowry's epic NFR bumped her from fourth in the WPRA World Standings to first with $457,809, giving her the Gold Buckle that so many wanted for her.

"I could feel it in how everyone was talking to me," she said. "That was really cool. I appreciate the support and all."

Gold Medal Dreams

As a young girl growing up in Orange County, California, Mowry's first love was jumping and her dream was for a different gold.

"I was really into the show jumping, dressage and three-day eventing," she said, "and that's what I wanted to do. I wanted to go to the Olympics."

HORSE HAIR ANALYSIS®

Mowry started out on a Welsh pony, named Brandy.

"He didn't even know how to jump," she chuckled. "I think he pulled carts before I got him. He would go up to the cavaletti or hay bale that I was supposed to jump and put on the brakes, and I'd come off every time! I would cry every day! He was so naughty! But it taught me a lot. I had to train the first jumping pony I got."

Mowry took weekly lessons to improve her skills. She was able to ride 'school masters,' older, finished horses that taught her what correct felt like. Mowry even spent time working for trainers, grooming and other menial tasks, just to be able to get a lesson.

"I'd work my butt off just to have a 30-minute lesson on this 16-year-old that wasn't quite Grand Prix level, but a pretty dang good horse," she recalled.

Occasionally, she got to ride better ponies too.

"I remember going to one (show) and they felt so sorry for me because my pony had dumped me so many times that I got to finish the Pony Club Rally on this other pony called Kahlua."

Mowry never lost hope in Brandy though and through a lot of hard work made him a successful jumper too.

"Several years later and after a lot of work, we had a waiting list for that pony," she said. "Everybody wanted him. He would jump three feet, and he was just a 12-hand Welsh pony. He was so good we got to pick where he went. He made quite the turnaround and ended up being such a great pony."

Although she hated parting with Brandy, Mowry was ready for a horse, and she found her first three-day eventer in a Thoroughbred named Class Double ("CD").

"He taught me a lot and gave me a lot of confidence," she said.

"I had a lot of fun with him. He was a little tricky, but he wasn't like a pony."

Mowry qualified for the Pony Club Finals in Lexington, Kentucky, and was part of the show jumping team as she was too young to compete in the three-day.

"Our team did great," she recalled, "and I had a really great time. I ended up staying an extra couple of weeks. There were some Olympic level clinicians, so I stayed to have group lessons with them."

Now What?

Between junior high and high school, Mowry's family relocated to Utah. Her father had been a sheriff's deputy in Orange County and wanted a safer place for his family.

The environment wasn't the only thing that changed for Mowry as CD was battling soundness issues. Mowry was forced to look for other horse options because she couldn't afford to replace CD and the opportunities to continue within the English horse world

- Tied WPRA Record for most Consecutive Round Wins at the NFR ; 5 Rounds Wins (Rounds 4-8) tied the previous record of Smooth Cadet & Jimmie Munroe from 1984.
- New NFR Earnings Record of $295,526! Hailey Kinsel held the previous record of $270,615 in 2020 when the NFR was held at Globe Life Field in Arlington.

- Ram Top Gun Winner! Her NFR Earning of $295,526 was the highest among all the rodeo competitors in all the events at the NFR.
- 2nd Highest Season Total Earnings in History: Mowry earned $457,809; second only to Brittany Pozzi Tonozi's 2023 record of $496,499
- All this after only going to 27 rodeos during the 2024 regular season, which we believe to also be a record for the fewest number of rodeos to win a World Championship!
- Mowry stood at $7.544 Million in Career Earnings prior to the BFA and NFR; with those earnings added in the winningest barrel racer is close to $8 million at $7.897 Million in Career Earnings!

weren't as plentiful.

"I couldn't afford to keep going, and there were no opportunities for lessons," she said. "I had lessons up to that point and wasn't used to not having that. You go to show, and you walk the pattern with the trainer. Everything you do is with a trainer. It all just came to a halt, and I felt lost."

All that Mowry had in common with her new friends at school was horses. Since they were barrel racers and on the rodeo team, she decided to give that a try.

"When I got into barrel racing I was really lost and thought it was really weird that you didn't have to have a trainer," she said. "I had to fumble through that."

She was able to use her uncle's horse that had been started on the barrels before he found his true career as a heeling horse.

Mowry said she learned from watching her friends and from trying and messing up a lot.

"I knew the basic mechanics of a horse," she said. "I knew forward motion and collection. It was just timing and where to put it. I may have watched a Martha Josey video or two. I just kept trying stuff. When it doesn't work, just fix it and try again."

Through high school she rode her uncle's horse and eventually was able to borrow a horse, Sunrise Lightning ("Riser") from a friend that had gone to college. She won the Utah High School Rodeo Finals on Riser and ran him at the National High School Finals Rodeo, where she was recruited by Greg Rhodes, the rodeo coach at Western Texas College in Snyder.

The only problem was she didn't have a finished horse as Riser had sold before she made it home from Nationals. When she told Rhodes that all she had was a young horse that was "coming along" that was good enough for him.

Cashyherchexatthebar ("Bailey") was the first barrel horse that Mowry trained herself.

"It took a long time to train him," she said. "I did everything backward, but he was good minded and let me keep fixing him. I'd run him straight up to the barrels because I didn't know what a pocket was, and I'd wonder why he couldn't finish it. I had to learn a lot."

Thankfully, Bailey had a lot of ability too. She said it was a case of not really knowing what you're sitting on at the time.

"You never know what you have until you get off your other one," she said, noting that also happened when Jarvis stepped up for Will and Emmett. "I felt like they took a chance on me, and I needed to prove something. (Bailey) went from the 3D to the 1D and won our college region that year. I had never asked him, but he was ready, and the timing was right. It's all about the timing."

While she was running Bailey, she was also training her second horse, Disrespect ("Hooper"), one of the first horses Dash Ta Fame to grace the arena.

"I went to the people's house to look at a gray 2-year-old filly, but I couldn't take my eyes off of him," she said. "He had just come off the track with a 55 speed index. He just looked incredible and was so balanced. I bought him, $3,500."

Hooper was Mowry's first foray into the futurity world.

"That horse was incredible," she said. "When the first futurity horse that you train is a Dash Ta Fame, in a world where there aren't any Dash Ta Fames, you end up feeling like a pretty good trainer. He was so easy to train. He was phenomenal, but he was running in a world where there weren't any Dash Ta Fames yet. There were really no bumps in the road with him. I thought, 'Oh man! This is easy!' It just got harder from there!"

Little Did She Know

Between Bailey and Hooper, Mowry was winning enough that going back to school was difficult.

"They were a super nice set of horses, and they were winning a lot," said Mowry, who also qualified for the International Finals Rodeo in 2003. "I had no responsibilities."

She was looking for something to do in between rodeos when she went to Jud Little's Bar Nothin Ranch in Springer, Oklahoma, and asked if they needed help. Mowry found herself on the back of great horses like Dynas Plain Special while riding during the week for head trainer Kim Thomas.

Six months later, Mowry was rodeoing out west with Danyelle Campbell when Little called to offer her the heading training position after Thomas left.

"I had full rein over all his horses, and I learned a ton," she said. "Not many people get that opportunity. That's where I learned that I could really do it and be successful at it."

While Little's program had a lot of success at the futurities, his first love was rodeo.

"It was all about rodeo," she laughed. "When can they go rodeo?"

Mowry was the first rider to qualify for the NFR on Little's homebred horses. She qualified in 2005 using full siblings Shebe Firin For Cash and Firewaters Cash and their three-quarter sibling Flitin Firin Cash as well as her old faithful Bailey.

"That started my whole sibling thing," she noted.

After a couple of years at the Bar Nothin, Mowry started her own program in Dublin, Texas. In 2024, she ran her first homebred, Goodbye Sophie, who won the Lonestar Shootout and Ruby Buckle East futurities.

It Never Ends

Monday after the NFR was a rare day off for Mowry, who arrived home just a couple of hours before dawn, but she was back to the daily grind on Tuesday. By mid-morning, she'd already taken a foal with an eye injury to the vet, picked up one that had been there for two weeks with an illness and had a 2-year-old saddled. She had a little time to talk because the 2-year-old needed a little roundpen time to get the sillies out.

“It never ends,” she sighed. “Pretty much everything is the same. McRae (Campbell) is coming in January to break my 10 or 12 yearlings, coming 2-year-olds that I have. I’m getting back on my 3-year-olds and the 2-year-olds that are turning 3. Got the Lonestar

She’s proud of Jarvis and how they won the WPRO World Championship, but she’s ready for the next challenge.

Round 10 Notes: Mowry used the top of the ground to cruise to a 13.59 which ended up placing second in Round 10. Kinsel followed later in the round riding Kn Fabs Gift Of Fame after it was shared on the broadcast that Sister not feeling her best. Kinsel opted to let Sister have the night off to recover and JLo did her best to keep them in the title race but was 1 out of the money in Round 10. The 2nd place finish sealed Mowry’s 1st World Title. The highest money winning barrel racer in history is now a World Champion! Prior to the BFA & NFR her Equistat earnings were $7.544 Million; now her earnings are around $7.897 Million! Beisel & her speedy brown mare Ivory On Fire got the Round win. She won the only round that either Kinsel or Mowry didn’t win a share of! Kinsel & Mowry combined to win 9 Rounds! Busby placed again on Jets Top Gun to secure the NFR Average Championship and also the new average record for the NFR of 136.18 on 10 runs. All ten runs were clean. As an interesting side note to this record. Busby raised both Jets Top Gun and former NFR Average record holder Famous Lil Jet (rode by Jordan Briggs). They are also closely related. Jets Top Gun is by Blazin Jetolena and out of a Dash Ta Fame/Lady Perks mare where as Famous Lil Jet is by Dash Ta Fame and out of a Blazin Jetolena/Lady Perks mare! Mowry ended up winning the World Title by just over $27k and also set the NFR Earnings record at $295,526.

Round 9 Notes: Sister & Kinsel came back with a vengeance in Round 9 to remind everyone they are the 4 Time World Champs, winning the round with a 13.48! This win put them back in the lead for the world by about $11k! When Dm Sissy Hayday & Hailey Kinsel won the 9th Round they captured their 25th NFR Round win and tied Sherry Cervi & Charmayne James for the All Time Record. Kinsel's 25 Round Wins have all been on one horse, DM Sissy Hayday. James won rounds on 3 horses and Cervi won on 5 different horses. (info per Ann Bleiker/WPRA Press Release) Mowry hit a barrel to take them out of placing; their time of 13.35 would have won the round! Jets Top Gun & Busby placed again and after some hit barrels they now hold a near 6 second lead in the average and Busby is the only barrel racer with 9 clean runs. If they run faster than a 14.26 in Round 10; they will break the old NFR Average Record of 136.83 set by Famous Lil Jet & Jordon Briggs in 2021. With Kinsel leading the world by $11k over Mowry but Mowry in front of Kinsel in the average; it basically boils down to a one head runoff in Round 10. Whoever runs faster will win the World!

Round 8 Notes: Force The Goodbye & Mowry won their amazing 5th Round in a Row! This time they shared the win with Hr Fameskissandtell & Shelley Morgan. Mowry now shares the NFR Record for Rounds wins in a row with Smooth Cadet & Jimmie Munroe. Just to show the depth of the 2024 NFR Barrel Racing field Morgan won Round 8 after qualifying 15th. It just shows the amazing field of talent that was there this year. Beisel got back on her speedy brown mare, Ivory On Fire and won 3rd in the Round. Jets Top Gun & Busby placed again for the 7th time in 8 nights and increased their lead in the average to over 2 seconds. For the 1st Time, Mowry moved past Kinsel in the standings and sits #1 by about $23k going into Round 9! Mowry has already earned $228k through Round 8!

Attitude of Gratitude -- Andrea Busby & Jets Top Gun Claim NFR Championship

By Tanya Randall

Andrea Busby and Jets Top Gun ("Benny") were the only team to make 10 clean runs at the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas. The Brock, Texas, barrel racer and her homegrown superstar set a new average record of 136.18 en route to their NFR Championship.

"Walt Disney couldn't have written this better for me," said Busby, who along with her husband Jeff, raised the 9-year-old gelding. "Benny is 100 percent heaven sent. There will never be another one like him. I'm grateful that I get to be his person."

Busby and Benny picked up $227,879 after placing in nine of the 10 rounds and winning the average. Their great efforts moved Busby from 12th in the World Standings to third with total earnings of $343,706.

Benny, who is by the Busbys' late great Blazin Jetolena and out of GL Famous First Lady, by Dash Ta Fame, also surpassed the $1 million mark in career earnings. He's now $10,000 shy of $1.1 million.

"I really wanted that for him," Busby noted.

Benny

Benny began his career as a 5-year-old futurity horse in the hands of Janna Brown. He won more than $140,000 to be EquiStat's No. 3 Futurity Horse in 2020. The gelding won his first pro rodeo check at the 2021 Black Gold Stampede in Henderson, Texas, as a 6-year-old with Brown.

He got his first pro rodeo victory at the 2023 Ute Mountain Roundup in Cortez, Colorado, with Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi and followed that with a record-breaking winning rampage. Together, Tonozzi and Benny won the Calgary Stampede, Days of '47 in Salt Lake City, Utah, the Reno Rodeo, Dodge City Roundup in Kansas, the Caldwell Night Rodeo in Idaho, the Dinosaur Roundup in Vernal, Utah, and Preston Night Rodeo in Idaho before taking the NFR Reserve Championship and the 2023 World Title.

Benny had an extended break after the 2023 NFR after repeated hoof abscesses proved to be a keratoma that required surgery. Busby made her first run on the gelding at Killdeer, North Dakota, to kick off the Fourth of July run.

"Honestly, I've placed on every run I made on that horse if I left the barrels up, from a jackpot to a rodeo, until Round 4 at the NFR," she said. "I swear he was getting stronger every round in Vegas. He was amazing this week. He never tried to get in on me."

Qualifying

Busby used five other horses besides Benny to qualify for her first NFR. All are royally bred with NFR connections.

Born On Derby Day ("Derby"), a multiple futurity champion trained and ridden by Ashley Schafer, was just six in 2023 when she helped Busby get in contention for her 2024 NFR run. The 2017 roan mare is by NFR qualifier Freckles Ta Fame, out of the A Streak Of Fling mare KR Last Fling.

"If I ran her, she usually placed," Busby said. "That mare is going to give you 110 percent every time she sticks her head through the gate. You can count on her to definitely go do her job."

Busby's homebred 2022 Cheyenne Frontier Days Champion Blazing With My Dude ("Tito") earned $15,405 toward her NFR qualification. She was out for most of the year after chipping a knee during a fall in the Finals at Fort Worth, Texas, but was back by Ellensburg, Washington, over Labor Day. By Blazin Jetolena, Tito is out of Brittney Diaz' NFR qualifier Dasher Dude, by Texas High Dasher. The 2015 mare was trained and futurity by Sue Smith and is a full sister to the Busbys' junior stallion A Blazin Dude.

"Tito is my comfy pair of jeans," said Busby. "She's so easy for me to ride. She's so 'Sue Smith.' She'll go anywhere you put her. If there is a mistake, it's definitely my fault."

Although Tito made some really fast 13-second runs at the Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth, Busby always knew it was Benny that would get the call in Vegas.

"We had a game plan that we were going with Benny, but that mare is awesome inside too. It felt good knowing we had her there if we needed her."

Jane Melby's NFR qualifier RC Back In Black, by Ninety Nine Goldmine, produced RC Black In Famous ("Pickles") that carried Busby to $7,599 during the season. The 2015 daughter of Famous Gold Coin ran at nine rodeos.

Busby also borrowed Smith's NFR qualifier Diamond Center ("Heff") for the California, Utah run the last weekend of the season. She won $2,357 on the 2016 gelding, by A Smooth Guy out of Dashes Centerfold, by Dash Ta Fame.

"Talk about feeling like comfy old jeans," laughed Busby. "He was awesome! I can't thank Sue and Kyle (Edwards) enough for letting me do that."

Lastly, Sydni Blanchard's NFR qualifier Famous Heartbreaker ("Heart") also contributed to Busby's qualification. The 2010 Dash Ta Fame mare, out of Lady Oh Raylene, by Shawne Bug, earned $2,234.

"She's probably going to be retired," Busby said. "She had a really bad suspensory injury, and it took Marty (Tanner, DVM), two years to get her back. Jeff and I just talked the other day about just letting her be a momma."

Busby said it took all of the horses because they all rotated through with injuries during the season. Toward the end, however, it was Busby that had to keep it together.

"September was brutal," she said. "The pressure really started to build. I was a little disappointed in myself that I didn't handle the pressure very well."

"It was probably a good thing. By the time I made the finals, I felt like everything else was icing on the cake. I really didn't feel the pressure going into the NFR. I felt like I rode a little tight the first two rounds, but I was pleasantly surprised that I wasn't as nervous as I thought I would be."

Attitude of Gratitude

"I was happy to be there with my horse and my family," she said. "It was icing on the cake for sure."

The pressure did get to her a little as people began to talk about clean runs and WPRA records.

"When they started talking about what could happen and records being broken, that created some anxiety," Busby admitted. "I wanted that for that horse. I told Janie Johnson (with the Cowboy Channel) I don't know if I deserved it, but I know that horse did. I had to spend a little quiet time and get my mind back right."

"I had to think about what's really important. What I said in the interview with Amy Wilson (with Equine Network) is really how I felt. Pressure is trying to feed your family."

Instead, Busby wanted to focus on staying in the moment and enjoying all aspects of the NFR, from early morning practice sessions to the back number ceremony and the grand entry to the energy in the warmup tent.

"It became stay in the moment with my horse, jump for jump, ride for ride," she said. "This is a great sport. It's a great game. It's not who we are. It's what we do. Trying to survive Baghdad. Trying to feed your family. That's pressure. Not trying to make 10 clean runs."

THE BUSBY BREDS

In addition to Andrea Busby on Jets Top Gun, Carlee Otero and Lisa Lockhart also ran horses bred by Busby Quarter Horses. Otero won $148,553 on Blingolena ("Sly"). The 6-year-old gelding is by Blazin Jetolena out of the pro rodeo earning Dash Ta Fame mare, Dash Of Bling.

Lockhart jumped on Blazin Ta Betty ("Sasha") for two rounds. Sasha, a 6-year-old mare, is a full sister to Famous Lil Jet, Jordon Briggs' 2021 WPRA World Champion.

All totaled, the Busby-bred horses won $376,432 at the NFR. Although not raised by the Busbys, Blazin Boss was also ridden by Leslie Smalygo in one round. The 8-year-old stallion is by Blazin Jetolena out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Famous Moonlight.

All four of the horses with Blazin Jetolena on their papers ran in Round 4 with Otero taking second place.

If I Can...

Busby's journey to the NFR began as a little girl racing through the barrels in wheat stubble fields on her Appaloosa ranch horse in Lusk, Wyoming.

"You go to the end of the Earth and go 100 more miles," she chuckled. "That's where I grew up. I think it's the least populated county in the least populated state in the Lower 48."

Busby stepped away from horses for a time when athletics took priority. She played both basketball and volleyball at Casper College in Wyoming for a year before transferring to Montana State in Bozeman, where she played volleyball for Montana State while obtaining her nursing degree.

"I didn't have any horses during that time because I was just too busy. Spring ball. Fall ball. Working out during the summer. Having a job," she said.

After graduating, she worked her way to better horses and in the process she got both superior equines and a husband who supported her NFR dream.

"It's taken a long time," she said. "We got into the breeding deal. Jeff was big on not focusing on the end goal and focusing on the process. When I became content with the process—I've got a great family. I've got a great husband. I've got a great life. My life is good whether I make the Finals or not. I swear, when that became my mentality, things changed."

About 10 years ago, Busby started riding with Sue Smith "She is my grounding force," Busby said. "It wasn't until I started riding with Sue that I understood the horsemanship behind it. I'm glad she didn't give up on me. It only took 10 years!"

Then about three years ago, she jumped in the truck with multiple World Champion Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi.

"You're either going to get better and get tougher or you're going to quit," Busby chuckled, thinking about her time hauling with Tonozzi. "I promise you she toughened me up. I appreciate that about her.

"Rodeo will test your boundaries. I had made my circuit finals, but I had never gone like that. My horses are tougher than I realized. I didn't know you could go to 94 rodeos. I had to toughen up. My horses are tougher than I thought."

Tonozzi Wins Slot Race, $110K in Oklahoma City

By Julie Mankin

Injured horses might have helped her miss making what would have been her 18th NFR this month, but Brittany (Pozzi) Tonozzi of Lampasas, Texas, made up for being available to go to the Oklahoma City Futurity for the first time in years. She raked in $110,067 on five different young horses. On one 3-year-old, the three-time WPRA world champ earned $92,935.

Tonozzi, who's earned more than $3.4 million on the cloverleaf at rodeos alone over two decades, won the slot race at Oklahoma City with a time of 15.410, worth $80,000. She also placed third out of nearly 500 horses in the Rookie Futurity aggregate on her 3-year-old Rain Bo Dash. He's by Dash Ta Fame out of her mare Steele Magnolias by Magnolia Bar Jet. It's not the first time Tonozzi has won a slot race – she did it on Birdie and she did it on Mona. And took both mares to the pro rodeos later on.

"We knew this colt had it in him," said Tonozzi, who shares the training of each colt with her husband, NFR team roper Garrett Tonozzi. "Steele Magnolia's had some really nice babies, but her babies can be a little tricky. This colt definitely had some hard days before he came around. He wasn't the one you instantly fall in love with and it's all rainbows and unicorns. We had our doubts about him. Even though we knew the talent was there, I've been doing this long enough that I know just because a horse feels good and has talent, that doesn't mean it'll come together when you go fast." Once the hard days were over, she recalled, luckily he came around. "I could always feel his athleticism and I kept telling Garrett, 'This horse is going to be big-time,'" she said.

Up until the week before the slot race, the gelding was cruising an entire stride by the third barrel before committing to the turn. She and the colt had a "come to Jesus," after which he's been golden, she said. A barrel went down in the BFA Juvenile, but Rain

Bo Dash placed in the next round, which caused multiple people to approach her to compliment the colt.

"I couldn't decide which horse to name for the Oklahoma City slot up until the deadline, but the girls who work for me had watched him exhibition and said Rain Bo Dash, all the way," she recalled. "He only stands 14.3 and his hair coat is so shaggy and and he's super narrow. That's why we named him after that My Little Pony!"

Tonozzi said that, for as small as the colt is, he's surprisingly strong.

"I took him to a jackpot the week before the BFA Juvenile and he ran one-tenth off Sir Epic, who won it," she said. "That's when I thought, 'I may have something.' You never go into a slot race thinking, 'I'm going to win it' because you've immediately lost, right then. I did have high hopes for a nice check."

Tonozzi and Ashley Schafer, who won the Rookie Futurity, really like the format of it.

"I wish the BFA would follow suit and put their 4- and 5-year-olds together in the futurity and let the 4-year-old rookies run with the 3-year-olds in the Juvenile," Tonozzi said. "There are more entries, so it pays better. Because as it is now, any 4-year-olds that were held over have to run against the ones that were campaigned all year long. So, instead of people entering their rookie 4-year-olds in the BFA, they're waiting two weeks and entering them in Oklahoma City."

Tonozzi wasn't done just winning the slot race. In addition to her third-place check in the Rookie Futurity, she got go-round money in it aboard Busby Quarter Horses' 3-year-old Jets Famous Babe and her own 3-year-old mare My Kisses Are Lucky.

Plus, she was the reserve MVP Derby champ and banked $12,972 on Pete Carr and Morgan Bagnell's Sir Epic. Her 15.350 on the 6-year-old gray by JL Sirocco out of So Very Epic also placed them in the American Qualifier, the Open and the Sweepstakes.

"I've been to plenty of NFRs when I didn't earn over $100,000," said Tonozzi. "I wanted to make this a good week for not being able to have Vegas, which a lot of us always count on for our end-of-year redemption. Because if you're rodeoing, you're losing money. During Caldwell, I was 15th. But then one horse got sick and one got sore, so I went home in August and started riding my colts, and it paid off."

Tonozzi has Maybelline back now, for the rodeos, and will enter Sir Epic at some, as well. But she's super excited also about her four futurity colts, so she doesn't plan to miss many futurities, either. "But I don't make plans when it comes to horses," she cracked. "I try to just go day by day."

Adios Pantalones and Tricia Aldridge Triumph at OKC Futurity- their 10th Futurity Win for the 2024 Season

By Hope Raley

Adios Pantalones and Tricia Aldridge started their 2024 futurity season with a bang, and they kept that momentum going strong all the way to the end, adding OKC Futurity Championship to their resume at their last futurity of the year. The OKC Futurity presented by Better Barrel Races, which is held at the Oklahoma State Fair Park in Oklahoma City, wrapped up the season with the best in the business running down the alley in the historic Jim Norick Coliseum. Ironically enough, that will be the last time that barrel racers will compete in the legendary arena which has hosted 55 years of some of the world's most prestigious equine events! A new state-of-the-art coliseum is currently being erected and is on schedule to be finished in the spring of 2025.

The OKC Futurity featured $50,000 added futurity and the best futurity horses of the 2024 season all took a swing at winning the last futurity championship of the year, but it was Aldridge and her golden boy Adios Pantalones who took home the honors. The pair has made huge waves all season long, gaining fans all over the world not only from fellow barrel racers but horseman from other disciplines as well including reining, cutting, english, and more.

Leading up to the OKC Futurity, Aldridge had a good feeling about running Adios at the Jim Norick again, especially after they barely hit a barrel a few weeks earlier at the AQHA World Show which would have been one of the fastest runs of the entire event. No exhibitions and cold turkey, Aldridge decided to stick to that game plan going back to OKC and it paid off.

In the first round of the futurity, Adios and Aldridge placed 8th with 15.447 which paid $897. Having been bottom of the ground in the first round, and although satisfied with their time which would likely make it back to the finals regardless, Aldridge made the decision to run Adios again in round 2 in hopes of cleaning a few things up.

"Our run in the first round was smooth and easy, it was a good run for us to take the pressure off," explained Aldridge. "But I knew that I would be better on the ground in the second round, so I decided to run him again in round two."

Posting a slower time in round two, Aldridge admitted that even though their second-round run didn't go as planned, there was a silver lining to it.

"The alleyway at the Norick is long; it's a long way down to the mouth of the arena and then still a way from there to the first barrel. Adios got excited in the alley and went faster to the first barrel than I was ready for. I could have been disappointed in that moment, but instead I chose to look at what I needed to work on going into the finals on Sunday."

Before the finals, Aldridge spent some time riding Adios up and down the alley during tractor drags which helped the stallion relax and be mentally sharp for the finals. When it came down to the finals, Adios was very serious and on point.

"He worked beautifully in the finals, and he was so quick and fluid in his turns. When we crossed the timer, he knew that he had won."

Adios and Aldridge posted the fastest time of the entire futurity in the finals with a blistering fast time of 15.107, winning the two

This win bumped Adios lifetime earnings up to $558,011.17, $490,883.61 of which is futurity only. Adios Pantalones and Tricia Aldridge set the all-time futurity earnings record at $490,883.61, edging out Sharin Hall and her great mare Hello Stella who held the record prior with $445,029 in all-time futurity earnings. Adios, who is just 4 years old, is the winningest futurity horse of all time.

Now that their record futurity year is over, Aldridge is anxious to hit the rodeo scene. Adios, who has only ever ran at two rodeos, and placed at both, doesn't seem to care if the cloverleaf pattern is set up at a futurity or a rodeo, he is very passionate about his job and continues to make Aldridge's dreams come true, one barrel race at a time.

Jordon Briggs and Awesome Arlo dominate Blue Collar Breeder's Futurity

By Hope Raley

World Champion Barrel Racer Jordon Briggs and her next sorrel superstar gelding Awesome Arlo took home top honors at the Blue Collar Breeder's Futurity held in conjunction with the OKC Futurity. The won both rounds and the aggregate of the Blue Collars Breeders Futurity in a time of 30.762 to win Justin and Jordon Briggs $48,136 and $15,000 to breeder Jimi Lou Woodard. Awesome Arlo is by Blazin Jetolena and out of Ta Wonder by Dash Ta Fame.

"I have had mixed emotions about all the breeder's incentive, but when you have a horse that capitalizes on them, it is amazing what you can win at them versus regular events," said Jordon. "They have changed our industry."

"I am very grateful for the Blue Collar Breeder's Incentive for not having nominations, and since I didn't know where I was going to be in December very far in advance, I was grateful that I was able to enter the event knowing what kind of horse I had. I also love buying horses from small breeders and having a relationship with them through the horse's success and being able to call them and tell them that we won them lots of money! I want to personally thank Jimi Lou Woodard for selling me Awesome Arlo! She gave me a great deal on this colt, and I am happy that I have been able to repay her for that."

Schafer & HP Hotrod Rock Rookie Futurity, Schafer Banks $107,000 in Oklahoma City

By Julie Mankin

The Oklahoma City Futurity, now in its fifth year taking over the early-December date once held by the BFA World Championships, attracted a record 496 entries into its Rookie Futurity and paid 35 places. The Rookie is for 3- and 4-year-old horses starting their first season of competition.

Ashley Schafer of Comanche, Texas, won the aggregate on two runs by more than two-tenths of a second aboard Highpoint Performance Horses' 3-year-old sorrel stallion HP Hotrod to bank $21,832. He's by Dash Ta Fame and out of Rods Last Ladybug by Sharp Rodney.

Called "Boomer" because his $1.1 million-producing mother was called "Boomette," the colt clocked a smoking 15.2 to win the second round. Not only that, but Boomer also posted a 15.448 in the 3-year-old slot race to land a teeny-tiny .038 of a second behind Brittany Tonozzi to earn $35,000 to Tonozzi's $80,000.

Schafer and Boomer had also placed in the BFA slot race, although he'd gotten a little short in the Juvenile Futurity and hit a barrel, she said. That's when Schafer switched from a short-shanked three-piece bit to a mullen.

"I didn't have enough shoulder stabilization," she said. "He's very turny. I have spent most of his training teaching him not to turn. You know a Dash Ta Fame baby out of a turny mare just comes out of the womb hunting barrels. He was born looking for something to turn. I've literally spent all of my time teaching him not to turn. He's not cheaty, but I have to tell him 'not yet; not yet.' He just loves to turn."

Because she trained Boomer's full sister earlier and suffered a lot of penalties on her, Schafer was careful to train him a little differently; to teach him to be free and keep moving. It also helped that her Wyoming colt-starter did "an outstanding job" encouraging him to move out freely.

"Mostly it's about clearing the shoulder on him," she said. "Going into a turn, if I get the approach right, I don't have to worry about him coming around on the backside!"

Boomer collected a total of $56,832 in Oklahoma City for the week of competition.

"This was my first big beginning-of-the-year win," said Schafer, whose own 3-year-old The Coffee Guy by The Goodbye Lane placed eighth in the aggregate for another $3,844. "My horses are typically not coming on this strong this early in the season. I'm more of a March/April girl. It's exciting, I moved to Texas for this – so I could figure out how to have my horses ready a little sooner." Schafer, who'd considered naming The Coffee Guy in the slot race, said his finish at about four-tenths off the champ is more typical for her in December.

"I didn't do anything any different to make Boomer more ready," she said. "I could tell pretty early on that he was going to be the type of horse to step up to pressure well. For one, his bloodline has a good track record of coming on strong, early. Ryann Pedone won this a few years ago on his half-sister by Feel The Sting. They're really gritty horses that rise to the occasion. I could just tell he could handle pressure."

Schafer said she typically hauls a 3-year-old at least twice a month to exhibition, and works them at home in between trips.

"The first time I put him on the clock was at the Breeders Challenge in September and he was only a half-second off," said Schafer, who took her 3-year-olds with her to Wyoming, Colorado and Utah last summer. "I had hauled him quite a bit already, and stalled him; exhibitioned him along. He was just as relaxed and confident when I ran him the second day, so I didn't stand on him quite as hard again after that."

Horses had to be named for the slot race by October 1. Schafer said in the slot race, she missed the first barrel just a bit to clock that hair's breadth behind Tonozzi's 3-year-old.

"In the years they've had a Rookie Futurity, I think a 4-year-old has only won it once," said Schafer. "People thought this early in the year that 4-year-olds would be better, but that isn't proving to be the case."

Schafer also placed in the Derby and Open on Boomer's 6-year-old full sister, Chrome Plated Fame ("Johnnie"), for another $2,652. Not only had the young mare earned some $130,000 at 2023 futurities where she had clean runs, but another full sister in Brazil once held the world record at 16.3 seconds.

"Rod's Last Ladybug is a producer – her babies are awesome," Schafer said. "Before Highpoint bought her, I think Kim Thomas was riding her, then Whitney Baker Davison did really well on her. Her colts are her same style – extremely turny; really gritty; just little workers."

Schafer also placed sixth in the main futurity on her own 5-year-old gelding Fiesta By Design ("Mitch") to earn $7,411, and claimed another $29,311 on him in the Blue Collar and Umbrella sidepots. Mitch is one she raised and her husband Seth, started, much like The Coffee Guy. And she placed 25th on Randy and Debra Boyd's 5-year-old Le Roi for $1,610. All told, Schafer took $107,094 cash out of Oklahoma City on five horses. Her own colts have been featured since their start via videos via www.BetweenTheReins.com, which now also has a downloadable app.

Boomer's next futurity will be down the road in Hamilton, Texas. Meanwhile, Schafer will take Johnnie and Mitch to Perry, Georgia and try her luck at an open slot race.

Barrel Racing Direct Qualifying Events Announced for 2025 AQHA World Show

AQHA has announced direct qualifying events for barrel racing competitors to qualify and compete at the 2025 Nutrena AQHA World Championship Show. The qualifying period is from August 1, 2024, to July 31, 2025.

The top 10 1D American Quarter Horses in the following barrel racing events will be invited to compete at the 2025 Nutrena AQHA World Show. Direct qualifying invitations are specific for the 2025 Nutrena AQHA World Championship Show. Invitations will be for junior or senior classes, which are based on the age of the horse at qualification. Competitors who receive an invitation will be responsible for entry fees to the 2025 Nutrena AQHA World Championship Show. To be eligible for the direct qualifying invitation, competitors must enter and follow all rules associated with the qualifying events.

Open Events

- Manitoba World Show, October 2024, Canada
- Lucky Dog Productions, March 2025, Texarkana, AR
- Better Barrel Races World Finals, April 22-27, 2025, Oklahoma City, OK
- Xtreme Barrel Race, December 28-31, 2025, Tucson, AZ
- Virginia Barrel Classic, May 29 – June 1, 2025, Lexington, VA
- NBHA Summer Run Super Show, July 4-6, 2025, Perry, GA
- IBRA Barrels 4 Badges, May 9-11, 2025, Edinburgh, IN
- IBRA Northeast Preferred, TBD

Aged Events

- BFA World Championship Futurity, November 2024, Guthrie, OK
- Greg Olson Futurity, January 8-12, 2025, Buckeye, AZ
- Kinder Cup Futurity, February 4-8, 2025, Tunica, MS

- Valley Girls Barrel Daze Futurity, April 11-13, 2025, Moses Lake, WA
- Old Fort Days Futurity, May 10-17, 2025, Fort Smith, AR
- Mid-West Xtravaganza Futurity, June 12-15, 2025, Columbiana, OH

Other Ways to Qualify

- Earn the required number of qualifying points at AQHA-approved events. Bonus: Qualifying this way gets added to your horse's permanent record! Not sure which division you are eligible for? Check out this blog to learn more about divisions and levels.
 - Junior Barrel Racing: 1.5 open points for Level 3 | 0.5 open point for Level 2
 - Senior Barrel Racing: 2.5 open points for Level 3 | 1 open point for Level 2
 - Amateur Barrel Racing: 2 amateur points for Level 3 | 1 amateur point for Level 2
 - Select Amateur Barrel Racing: 1 point age 50-69 | 0.5 point age 70 or older
- Participate in four AQHA-approved events during the qualifying period. AQHA events encompass all judge numbers for a particular show or circuit. For example, the Arizona Sun Circuit is considered one event, even though it includes eight sets of points. This qualifying method will not be added to the horse's permanent AQHA record.
- Pay a higher entry fee to enter. Open Level 3 classes will require a $7,500 nomination fee per class, while amateur and Select amateur Level 3 classes will require a $5,000 nomination fee per class. Open Level 2 classes will require a $5,000 nomination fee per class, while amateur and Select amateur Level 2 classes will require a $3,500 nomination fee per class. That money will be added back to the purse in the respective class with a portion of this buy-in fee retained by AQHA.

Looking for events near you? Find a show near you or encourage the producers in your area to add AQHA barrel racing classes to their events!

God is able to do far more than we would ever dare to ask or even dream of — infinitely beyond our highest prayers, desires, thoughts, or hopes.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

If you ask people how things are going right now, I bet the overwhelming answer would be... "Busy!" Busy. Do we get a medal for that? Why do we feel compelled to answer that way?

We are ALL busy. Is busy a good thing? Or a bad thing? Are we looking for an at-taboy? Or sympathy? We all have the same hours in the day. We each get to decide how we use them.

As Christians, we are, in December, celebrating the birth of our Lord Jesus. He came to give us "life and life abundantly". John 10:10.

Not 'stress'. Not 'busy'. Life! Peace! Luke 2:14. Wouldn't this be a great time to roll our care over on Him? He wants us to. 1 Pet. 5:7.

Let's start each day with Him, leaning on His Word and His promises that deliver us! His burden is easy and His yoke is light! Matthew 11:28-30.

Enjoy this season with Him!
