Carlee Otero's HB Firewater Vanilla Debuts with National Western Championship

By Tanya Randall

Four-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Carlee Otero is off to a fast start in 2025 with a $17,145 championship at the National Western pro rodeo, held January 16-26 in Denver, Colorado.

"Of all the years I've been going there this is the first time I made the short round," said Otero, who now sits No. 3 in the WPRA World Standing with $19,158. "I was excited to make it all the way to the finals!"

The Perrin, Texas, barrel racer and realtor gambled on her promising, royally rodeo-bred gelding HB Firewater Vanilla ("Leroy").

"He owed me one," she chuckled. The 6-year-old gelding was responsible for fracturing her pelvis with a kick during the 2024 NFR "I was like, 'Be nice to me!'"

Otero, who always has her eye out for a promising young horse—"because you can hardly afford to buy anything already winning at the rodeo level"—purchased Leroy last spring through Brett and Nicole Monroe but left him with them so Brett could put a better finish on the gelding.

"That was the deal," chuckled Otero, whose NFR mount

Blingolena ("Sly") also came through Monroe's program. "Brett knew I would throw him on the trailer and enter him in a rodeo. He didn't think he was ready for that!"

When the 2024 season ended in September, Otero had Leroy brought to Texas.

"Even then, Brett was like, 'I don't think he's ready to go hit rodeos,'" Otero recalled. "I talked to him after Denver and he was like, 'Well, you've proved me wrong again!' The thing is I get nervous at futurities and ride completely horrible, but I go to a rodeo, and I can keep my stuff together."

Otero ran Leroy several times at the Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth, Texas, to prepare for the NFR in case she needed him to relieve Sly and won a few of the weekly rodeos in the process. At the NFR, she took him through the pattern during a few of the practice sessions but never felt confident enough to put him in that high pressure position.

Leroy got his first major rodeo experience at the San Diego Rodeo at Petco Park in California. After placing in the first round of his first outdoor event, Leroy ducked the first barrel on his second run after a cameraman stood up right as they got to the first barrel.

"I think he saw that and ducked to the right," she explained. "He wasn't naughty about it. I didn't even get mad about it because I knew stuff like that was going to happen. "Sly did it to me. Sly turned in front of the first barrel two times with me before I really got solid with him. It's just part of it.

“I just washed that out of my memory. I was just going to make sure I had a better hold of him and make sure he’s paying attention where we’re going and not to anybody else.”

Otero didn’t even work the pattern between his last failed pass in San Diego and his first run in Denver. The first time he saw the pattern again after the ducked barrel was practice at Denver when Otero walked him through to get him familiar with the setup.

“We have to keep their confidence up,” she said. “I knew I had to go in there like it was a new day and not make it a big deal. Don’t remind him of what we did last time because it truly felt like it was an accident.”

His next two runs, Leroy ran a 14.56 and a 14.57 to place in the first two rounds at Denver and advanced to the semifinals, which he won with a 14.92. They won an incredibly tight final round with a 14.71.

“When he went in there and made that first super run, I wanted to be excited, but he’s also green to rodeo so this could all fall apart,” she said. “Then he did it again, and I was like, ‘Oh OK!’ He was showing that he was worthy of being there. He came back and won the semifinals and won the finals. I was like, ‘Oh my goodness!’ He’s really amazing. We’re just blessed to have him.”

Otero, who put it to the world at the NFR saying she wanted to make a run for a gold buckle in 2025, now has two rodeo-winning horses on her trailer.

“That was kind of my goal all along,” she said. “They both have their setups. They complement what I need, an indoor horse and an outdoor horse instead of just having two that run really good outside. I’m really excited about it.”

Unfortunately, Otero was fouled with her entries at Fort Worth and San Antonio. She plans to use Fort Worth as conditioning runs for Sly, since she’s up in San Antonio with Leroy at the same time as the Fort Worth Semifinals.

“I couldn’t get a trade,” she said, “so I’m going to play it by ear and make Fort Worth work the best I can. If (Fort Worth) doesn’t, I’m not going to panic about it. I was going to struggle getting back-and-forth (between the two rodeos) anyway.”

Rodeo Royalty

HB Firewater Vanilla (“Leroy”) has multiple connections to the National Finals Rodeo running through his veins. The 6-year-old gelding came from the star-studded program of Harry and Vivian Blackwell of Naylor, Missouri.

Leroy carries the blood of two great mares, SX Frenchmans Vanilla and Fire Water Fanny. Both mares carried the Blackwells’ daughter Amanda (Clayman) to the 2004 NFR.

His sire is Vanilla Gold, a son of Designer Red out of Vanilla. Although best known now for his son, super sire and NFR round winner Slick By Design, Designer Red was a full brother to Sharon Smith’s five-time NFR qualifier Speed Money. Vanilla Gold’s dam, SX Frenchmans Vanilla, is the dam of NFR Qualifer Dash Ta Vanilla (w/ Nikki Hansen, 2012) granddam of NFR qualifier and performer Rosas Cantina CC, ridden by Lisa Lockhart, and great granddam of NFR Qualifier and performer Bucky Wonder Horse, ridden by Shelley Morgan.

On the dam’s side, Leroy is out of Fanny’s Dash Ta Fame daughter Famousfirewater Anny. In addition to being a pro rodeo money earner herself, Famous FirwaterAnny is a three-quarter sibling to Heavenly Firewater that helped Taycie Matthews qualify for the NFR in 2023.

“He should be a winner,” said his jockey Carlee Otero. “For him not to make a rodeo horse... he would be the complete black sheep of the family!”

AIRWAY EQ

"Air-Way EQ is the first product I have seen work in aiding airway/lung health and help clear up a cough. I use Breathe'O2 paste for pre-run support, it also helps clear the airway, allowing him to breathe easier and work harder."

Dusky Lynn Hall Wins Xtreme Mini Million, Banks $34K

By Julie Mankin

She's still at it. Dusky Lynn Hall's still breaking arena records and childhood earnings records. Her mom estimates the 11-year-old raked in $90,000 this month alone.

Instead of heading back to Texas after winning the American Rodeo's Western Regional Finals in Las Vegas on Ain't Seen Famous Yet ("Wally"), Hall and her mother, also named Dusky, stopped in Phoenix for Buckeye's NBHA race and Queen Creek's Xtreme Million Open 5D. The Xtreme race is where the fifth-grader banked $34,442 on four of the five horses she ran.

The three-day race kicked off Jan. 22 at Horseshoe Park in Queen Creek, and was open to the world. You had to enter the Open to enter all the sidepots, which included the Mini Million (you could enter multiple times for $500 each), Bonus Bucks (an equal-payout 5D with .6-second splits) and Over N Under 3D (for riders under 17 or over 50).

On Thursday in Queen Creek, 18-year-old Jordynn Knight broke the arena record with the only sub-15-second run that's ever been clocked in Horseshoe Park. Knight's horse, 9-year-old Heza Swift Spyder, has more than $400,000 in lifetime earnings.

But that record was smashed by almost a tenth when Hall and Wally broke it Saturday, posting a smoking 14.880 that not only won the Xtreme Mini Million – worth $7,845 – but also Saturday's Open and three sidepots.

Wally, also 11, is by the Frenchmans Guy/Dash Ta Fame product Ain't Seen Nothin Yet. He's already reached $776,381 in lifetime earnings plus over $100,000 more unreported to QData. But on Friday, Wally ran an uncharacteristic half-second off. So he and his little rider did some heavy exhibitioning late that night after 550 runners, to get it right. When a bystander marveled at why the Halls would time-only their world-beater after the race, Dusky explained that he hadn't worked up to their standards.

"He has a 70-pound jockey and he needs reminded that he can't pull on her," Dusky said. "He needs to go where he's supposed to go. All horses need reminding."

In Queen Creek, the alley is super narrow and the holding pen is left of that. It meant the mouth of the alley could easily shoot right-handed horses too straight at the first barrel.

"It was too tight for him to make that turn, as hard as he runs," Dusky said. "He bowed off the first two barrels as a result. I had explained to Dusky Lynn that I thought she should hug the left side of the alley, but she hadn't understood and made a circle instead. She's only 11."

So, that night, Mom had Daughter follow her footsteps. They worked on actually running toward the second barrel before allowing Wally to drift back to the right. When Kelly Conrad walked up to Dusky Lynn the next morning to advise her to ride wider, it was the exact thing she'd practiced. And it worked – to the tune of a new arena record and $19,650 spread out over nine checks for Wally's two runs.

"It didn't feel any faster than the .4 he ran the day before," said Dusky Lynn, who won Saturday's 1D by almost three-tenths over Knight. "I didn't think he would clock like that. He was really nervous in the back, so I didn't think that would happen."

It seems fitting that the Palomino Horse Breeders Heritage Foundation called the Hall family to ask if they'd mind an induction of Wally into their Hall of Fame.

In Queen Creek, on Dusky Lynn's other palomino that runs to the left, 12-year-old Troublenvrlooksogood ("Dexter") by First Down French, she had a 15.234 to place eighth in the Mini Million, second in Thursday's Open and place in three sidepots to earn $5,503. The Halls reckon he'd have cut a half-second off that in his Saturday run, but barely tipped a can leaving it.

On her new horse out of Kansas they bought from Lisa Kisner, Dusky Lynn had clocked three 17.0-second runs in Buckeye a week earlier to win the average ahead of NFR barrel racer Kathy Grimes.

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Halls own a coldwater salt spa, an Equiscope and a Bemer.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: Dusky Lynn long-trots or lope circles on all her horses daily; Dusky rides each periodically to check for softness and soundness. Wally needs an exhibition at each new venue to trot through and look around.

SPONSORS: Badwater Tack, Cold Creek Equine Spa, Equinety, Fastest Time Wins, FLAIR Strips, Good Juju Products, Healthy Equine Therapy, Iconoclast, If Branded Clothing, Kahm CBD Oil, Master Saddles, Med-Vet Pharmaceuticals (MVP), Metrix Logistics Group, Outlaw Equine, PHT Magnetics, ReCelle-rate's EquiFlow, Rodeo Bum, Saddle Right, Seminole Feed, Signature Stall Mats, Succeed, That Others May Live (TOML) Hemp, The Hat Store, TLC's Equi-Bone, Valley Vet Supply, Western Dove Custom Tack

On the tougher approach in Queen Creek, they got by first and second for a 15.4 worth $2,633. The 11-year-old Tres Seis grandson, Rakin In A Fortune ("Chino"), has a different, stiffer style and Dusky Lynn is still figuring out spacing and angles.

On her 8-year-old A Streak Of Fling daughter KD Baby Driver ("Enzo"), Dusky Lynn caught barrels on runs of 15.2 and 15.3 to leave a lot more money on the table in Queen Creek.

But she went ahead and placed on a third palomino. Dusky Lynn and her mom were staying in Camp Verde with Tonya Wiertzema, whose stud, 10-year-old Frenchmans Magic Mike, also got a ride from the little girl. Having only exhibited him twice and ran him in Buckeye, Dusky Lynn took the stud to times of 15.2 and 15.3, which earned another $6,656 on the weekend. Will the Frenchmans Guy/Dash Ta Fame stallion spend any more time with Halls?

"I only have a five-horse trailer," exclaims Dusky, who's sticking around Phoenix until the Royal Crown in Buckeye in February, and rides Dusky Lynn's six horses every other day to ensure they're soft and responsive.

To win on so many horses requires a special feel, and Dusky Lynn's mom says that's what lets her daughter seamlessly win on each of them.

"I never tell her to do this or do that on them," said Dusky. "It's her feel. Sometimes it takes her a couple runs, but she figures out when to rate – her timing is impeccable. I think it's Godsent, because lots of adults never get that kind of feel. She has spent countless hours in the saddle."

Little Dusky Lynn randomly runs each horse in different bridles to see how they respond, and she's picked up things from everyone she's ridden with, including Ashley Schafer, Stephanie Fryar and, she was hoping this week, Conrado.

But her mama is also very deliberate about shopping for horses. A new purchase for the tiny cowgirl must, first of all, be easy to ride and require no off-reining, pulling, extra sitting or kicking. Because those kind "keep your confidence up," Dusky said. A new horse must also be good in the alley, with a good handle and soft in the face.

As for all the new venues this year, Dusky Lynn has been doing this now for five seasons, and says she absolutely loves to travel. There are lots of firsts – including the first time she learned to deposit her own checks.

"After Queen Creek, we were driving back to the place we're staying and she spilled her drink all over this huge check," said Dusky, laughing. "I said, quick, before the ink runs, get my phone and make that deposit! She didn't know how. But she does now!"

Taycie Matthews & Fame Fire Rocks Toward The American, Wins East Contender

By Tanya Randall

Taycie Matthews and her 2023 AQHA/WPRA Horse of the Year Fame Fire Rocks (“Poppy”) turned in the only sub-15 second run of the event to win the American Contender Tournament East Region Championship. The talented team from Wynne, Arkansas, claimed $13,411 in the process.

“I think she’s missed not going so much,” said Matthews, who completed her business degree at the University of West Alabama last year. “We’ve kind of taken a break and haven’t been going that hard. She’s just missing it.”

Matthews was a little concerned about Poppy’s fitness level going into Lexington after wisdom teeth removal earlier in the January kept her from riding the mare for a couple of weeks.

“I was really scared to run her three days in a row at Lexington because the pen was a lot bigger than what we’d been running in,” Matthews said. “She didn’t really seem to care.”

They placed fourth and fifth in the first two rounds to finish third in the aggregate to advance to the Region Championship Final, where they turned in the fastest run of the event, a 14.946, to earn a $10,000 check and spot in The American Contender Tournament Finale on April 11 at Globe Life Field in Arlington, Texas.

“She got stronger every day, fired harder every day,” said Matthews. “She just tried her best.”

Matthews, a former International Finals Rodeo Champion, National Finals Rodeo qualifier and two-time College National Finals Rodeo Champion, has taken a different path since Poppy fractured her hock before the 2023 NFR.

The 8-year-old daughter of $4 million sire Firewaterontherocks, out of the black-type producing Dash Ta Fame mare WR Aces Fame, had surgery to stabilize the fracture in late 2023 and was out of competition until the first round of the 2024 CNFR.

After winning the CNFR, Poppy and Matthews said she had no intentions of running the mare’s legs off to get to the 2024 NFR again in such a short amount of time, but they came close. They won $43,902 in less than four months of pro rodeo competition, and if not for two hit barrels at key rodeos, they may have still had a shot at their second qualification.

“If she hadn’t hit those barrels, she would have been right there,” Matthews said. “It wasn’t worth it to me to push her as hard as she can go with her just coming back. She doesn’t owe me nothing, so I thought we’d just take it easy and just have fun.”

Matthews came home from her summer run the second week of August and started working in the processing facility of her family’s sweet potato company, Matthews Ridgeview Farms. She fit in barrel races, like the Mega and Cindy’s Labor Day Blast in Jackson, Missouri, where she qualified for The American Contender Tournament.

Her first major rodeo since last summer was the Fort Worth Stock Show, the only limited entry winter rodeo she’s entered so far. She’s entered the pro rodeo in Jackson, Mississippi, and will likely try Austin and San Angelo, too.

“I’m just going to try to hit the big ones and maybe win enough to decide to go out for a month or two this summer,” she said. “I’m really not sure. We’re just kind of going where we want and we’ve been enjoying it, not having any expectations and trying not to push ourselves as hard as we can go, just doing what we can.”

Having spent nearly every year of barrel racing career either hauling for the International Finals Rodeo, CNFR or NFR, Matthews is now taking advantage of the numerous opportunities barrel racing has to offer alongside rodeo.

“It’s kind of nice,” she said of the slower pace. “I’ve grown up

“I feel like you can win just as much, if not more, just going to slot races and these big barrel races without having to go as far and haul your horse near as hard and long and just go on the weekends.”

In fact, Matthews and Poppy won nearly $48,000, more than their yearly pro rodeo earnings, at just two barrel races prior to Lexington after winning the Harry Blackwell Derby in Memphis, Tennessee, and taking second in the Triple Crown 100 Crown Round Slot Race at GTBRA’s Jingle Bell Classic in Perry, Georgia.

They’re hoping to add to their barrel racing haul at the Texarkana Showdown this coming weekend.

Some failure in life is inevitable.
It is impossible to live without failing at something, unless you live so cautiously that you might as well not have lived at all — in which case, you fail by default.

National Western Stock Show Rodeo Crowns 2025 Champions

Championship Sunday at the National Western Stock Show Rodeo gave fans the chance to watch as 12 competitors in each event battled for the 2025 titles. Those riding and roping in Denver Coliseum had run the gauntlet of the tournament-style rodeo and advanced to the finals from Saturday's three semifinals.

The team roping championship went to a pair of National Finals Rodeo (NFR) veterans – Luke Brown of Rock Hill, South Carolina, and Pueblo's Trey Yates. The duo roped their steer in 4.0 seconds to win the championship.

Yates has a family history here that spans generations. His aunt Kelly Yates competed in the barrel racing again this year, as she has done for decades. Trey had previously roped at the National Western with his father J.D. Yates whose history at this rodeo goes back to roping with Trey's great-grandfather.

Barrel racer Carlee Otero broke her pelvis in December at the NFR in Las Vegas. She competed in several rounds there despite having to be lifted onto her horse. She took the last half of December and early January to try to heal but was back in the saddle at the National Western. The Perrin, Texas resident was the final cowgirl to compete in a tight championship round that had three runners clocking times in the late 14.7-second range and just one-hundredth between each of them. Otero rode her young palomino gelding named Blingolena (nicknamed Sly) and when they finished the cloverleaf pattern, their time was 14.71 seconds to earn the championship.

Wacey Schalla of Arapaho, Oklahoma, the reigning college champion, scored 90 points on Cervi Championship Rodeo's Vitalix Anthrax to win the bull riding title. He edged out eight-time world champion Stetson Wright who is returning to competition after sitting out the entire 2024 season. Wright came into the National Western as a last-minute replacement and took advantage of the opportunity. He finished second after scoring 89 on Cervi's bull Ringling Road.

Other champions crowned on Sunday were Kooper Helmburg of Marshall, Missouri, with 87 points on Cervi Championship Rodeo's Pearl Harbor in bareback riding; Gavin Soileau of Bunkie, Louisiana, with 4.0 seconds in steer wrestling and Zac Dallas of Las Cruces, New Mexico, with 86.5 points on Cervi's Vitalix Ricky Bobby in saddle bronc riding. Co-champions were crowned in tie-down roping when Brushton Minton of Witter Springs, California, and Trevor Hale of Perryton, Texas, both turned in times of 7.3 seconds.

The National Western Stock Show will celebrate 120 years January 10-25, 2026.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

This is our challenge week. No matter the discipline, a challenge is necessary to grow. For instance, you wouldn't continue to lift 1 lb. weights if you were serious about putting on some muscle. Nor would you continue to walk, trot, and lope your futurity horse up until the day you needed to make a run.

Mike would tell you, that that was the hardest thing for me when we were riding futurity colts. I just hesitated to make that run until they were perfect. We all know that's not going to happen, but it was a rut I was continually stuck in. And I know it wasn't just me.

When we were team roping, we had an elderly man (he was 80), that always hobbled his rope horse when he saddled him at a roping. One day I asked him about it. He said "I always hobble my colts." I asked him how old the horse was? He said, "8". It seemed funny at the time but maybe when I'm 80 I'll start hobbling Hattie.

LOL!

But, let's consider this question in relation to our church life and our walk with God. "What would your church look like if everyone was as committed as you are? If everyone gave and served and prayed exactly like you, would the church be healthy and empowered...or weak and listless?" Pause and think about that!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717, 307/685-2272.
