Bettis Continues to Add to Fairytale Year Winning RNCFR

By Hope Raley

Round Top, Texas has been gaining popularity almost weekly over the last year due to WPRO Barrel Racer Taci Bettis and her incredible dance partner Bogie Is A Smash. Bettis had what she then thought was a dream year in 2017, qualifying to the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo and winning Rookie Of The Year, only to be surprised by what "Smash" had in store for her in 2018. With her first winter rodeos now under her belt, Bettis has been claiming top honors all over the country, including the $100,000 1st place prize at RFDTV's The American, and now the RNCFR (Ram National Circuit Finals Rodeo) title down in the Florida Everglades. While it was her first trip to the Ram National Circuit Finals Rodeo, Bettis didn't let first-time jitter's get the best of her. She and Smash stayed consistent and smooth throughout the week, earning highest honors and the bragging rights of Ram National Circuit Finals Champion Barrel Racer.

"I am overwhelmed with joy and happiness, and so proud of Smash. He gave me 110%, like always, and luckily that landed us the win," explained Bettis.

While Bettis is always willing to bet on her main man Smash, she did admit that she was fretting a little on the drive to Kissimmee.

"I hadn't run Smash since Houston, which was over 3 weeks ago. I have been riding him and keeping him in shape, but we have been mainly doing a lot of pasture riding. I wanted to take him and run him somewhere before we left for Florida, but I couldn't make myself," laughed Bettis. "I knew that he knew his job, and if anything, he might just be a little rusty on that first run."

'A little rusty' was the opposite of their runs at the Silver Spur Arena at the Osceola Heritage Park. A 3rd place finish in the first round and another smooth run in the second round, Bettis found herself making it back to the Semi-Finals on Sunday.

Competing against the best in the business, Bettis was humbled to have another run.

"These girls brought their A-game, every single one of them. With the money won here now being counted towards the NFR standings, everyone was sharp and on point. Not to mention, the champion would automatically get a berth into Calgary in July."

Bettis admits that she received the exciting call that Friday that she had gotten into Calgary, so that took 'some pressure' off her.

'Some pressure', but not all, Bettis knew that she had her work cut out for her going into the Semi-Finals.

"I knew that on Sunday we would have to be on top of our game. It was 'Sudden Death Sunday' and I knew that every girl would be going for it."

Drawing up last on the ground, Bettis didn't let that slow her momentum. Making another signature 'Taci and Smash' run, the

RidePass to Stream Network's First Rodeo: Rodeo All-Star

RidePass, the new western sports digital streaming network, will carry its first live rodeo, Rodeo All-Star, April 13-14, at the National Western Events Center in Denver. The event, exclusively streaming live and on-demand on RidePass, will include a weekend of professional rodeo, mutton bustin', a fashion show, country concert and more.

Fans can see all the rodeo action on RidePass beginning on Friday April 13 at 7 p.m. MT, as well as on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. MT and Saturday night at 7 p.m. MT.

Former team roper Andy Seiler, who announces at PRCA rodeos nationwide, will be calling the play-by-play on RidePass with Amy Wilson serving as sideline reporter. Wilson – sideline reporter for The American and former Miss Rodeo America – will also compete in the barrel racing competition, providing a true insider's perspective from the dirt.

Rodeo All-Star attracts top rodeo athletes from around the world, including tie-down roper Fred Whitfield, an eight-time world champion and ProRodeo hall of famer, and Cody DeMoss, the 2017 American Rodeo saddle bronc riding champion. The Rodeo All-Star winners will each earn a berth into the Days of '47 Cowboy Games and Rodeo, scheduled for July 19-21 and 23-24 at the Utah State Fair Park. The bull riding at the Days of '47 will be a PBR sanctioned event.

Following Rodeo All-Star, RidePass will cover its second rodeo event with the WCRA Rodeo Showdown from the Thomas & Mack Center in Las Vegas on May 5 and 6.

Available at RidePass.com and via Apple and Android mobile apps, RidePass is the new western sports digital streaming network featuring more than 100 annual live western sports and PBR events, original series, news, highlights and rider interviews. To watch Rodeo All Star live or on-demand, visit RidePass.com or download the RidePass app in the iTunes App store (iOS) or Google Play store (Android).

Tickets to Rodeo All-Star Weekend start at just $25 and are on sale now at rodeoallstar.com, the National Western Box Office, King Soopers locations, or by phone at 1-866-464-2626.

Clements wins first bareback riding NCFR title

Mason Clements hadn't been to the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo since 2015. And that time didn't end memorably for the Utah cowboy.

Well, it did, but not for a good reason.

The 2018 NCFR at Silver Spurs Arena will be one that Clements remembers for a long time.

Clements won the bareback riding NCFR buckle on Sunday with an 86-point ride on Hi Lo ProRodeo's Wilson Sanchez in the finals. Clements tied with Tim O'Connell, who had 86 points on Korkow Rodeo's Onion Ring, but Clements got the win by having the higher score in the semifinals (an 85-point ride on Rafter G Rodeo's Assault).

Clements and O'Connell each earned $6,634 for the finals. Clements took home a total of $19,237 for the April 5-8 rodeo in Kissimmee, Fla. And like all the winners from the NCFR, Clements received a $20,000 voucher toward a new RAM Truck.

It was a significant difference from his trip in 2015. He missed his second horse that week. Then on Sunday, with no semifinals to partake in, Clements went wakeboarding. He tore his ACL and had a rough rest of the season.

The start to the 2018 season has been the best start of his career. He entered the weekend sitting second in the PRCA World Standings with $42,520.

Breeding wins big in bull riding

Parker Breeding made it a pair of NCFR hat tricks on Sunday. The 25-year-old from Montana got on three bulls in one day on his way to winning his third NCFR title. His final ride was an 83.5-point ride on Brookman Rodeo's Chicken Dance. No surprise, he took home the most money of any bull rider (or any competitor) on the weekend, cashing in for $29,567, which included ground money.

"This is amazing; I came down here wanting this really bad," Breeding said. "I needed a money boost, because I'm up there toward the top of the standings, but I need to keep winning more and this helps."

Olson/Kasner win team roping

Logan Olson and Matt Kasner roped their steer in 5.4 seconds in the finals, the same as Andrew Ward and Reagan Ward, but Olson and Kasner's 5.4-second time in the semifinals pushed them over the edge.

It was the first NCFR titles for Olson and Kasner, who took home $20,090, tops among team ropers.

Cooper wins tie-down roping

Tuf Cooper's 7-second performance in the tie-down roping finals landed the Texas cowboy his first NCFR buckle.

Cooper, the reigning all-around world champion, took home the most money among tie-down ropers, earning $18,005.

Floyd's fast time earns big money

Steer wrestler Chason Floyd made his first Wrangler National Finals Rodeo last year. His NCFR title on Sunday could set him on his way to NFR No. 2.

Floyd won the NCFR buckle in 4.2 seconds, earning $7,581 for the win. He and Bridger Chambers each finished with a steer wrestling-best $17,058.

Saddle bronc riding title goes to Diaz

An 86-point ride on Dakota Rodeo's Bartender served Isaac Diaz the NCFR saddle bronc riding title.

Diaz split the finals with Wade Sundell, who also went for 86 points on Rafter G Rodeo's Low Bucks, but Diaz was claimed champ because of a higher score in the semifinals.

Diaz took home $14,594 from the rodeo, while Sundell took home the most money among saddle bronc riders with $18,669.

“My game plan didn’t change for the final 4,” explained Bettis. “I knew that I just needed to focus on staying with him, and he would do the rest. I knew that if I did my job, he would do his.”

With “Smash” firing on all four-cylinders, Bettis blazed the clover-leaf pattern in 15.34-seconds, the fastest run of the entire week!

“I was speechless. I have to credit everything to Smash. He truly is my ‘once-in-a-lifetime’ horse and I would not be where I am today without him. This win opened some major doors for me and may change how I rodeo this summer. We will take it one run at a time, but this win is big, and I am incredibly thankful!”

Along with over $20,000 added to her 2018 WPRA World Standings, Bettis also claimed a Polaris Ranger, Cactus Saddlery Trophy Saddle, a voucher for a new Ram Truck, and lots of other incredible prizes.

“I have to credit Kissimmee on going above and beyond on everything they did for the contestants. That rodeo can change a lot of things with so much money up for grabs, and they kept everything fair for everyone,” Bettis said. “The ground couldn’t have been better managed. It stayed consistent for every round, which can either make or break someone’s run. I was very impressed, and very grateful for their hard work!”

JL SIROCCO

Sirocco's progeny lifetime earnings are currently $217,702 with a limited number of foals. His first foal crop are only 6 years old this year. There were three foals who competed in the BFA Juvenile, earning $12,781. His foals mature early, have a lot of substance, and are easy to train.

Silver Charm is also the dam to several big money earners in the barrel pen, including JL Fourtafame, JL Third Times A Charm, and JL Takin On Fame. Reddy is a maternal half brother to JL Tularosa (JL Sirocco x BF Silver Charm), ridden by Danyelle Campbell. Tularosa banked over $15,000 competing in the BFA Juvenile Futurity and Kindercup. Reddy is a nice outcross to DTF and FG mares. His first foal crop came in 2017 and they all have beautiful, sloping shoulders, short, strong backs and float when they move.

JL SHERIFF

2015 Stallion by Judge Cash x Solara, Band Of Azure

Eligibilities: Glacier Chaser Classic and VGBRA will be enrolled in others as foals come of age

His dam, Solara, is also the dam of JL Sirocco and JL Seraphina. His sire, Judge Cash is recently deceased and his progeny have earned over $1.34 million barrel racing. Sheriff is 15 hands. He is very kind and has been easy to train. His first foals are due this spring. I don't know of many Judge Cash sons standing at stud, so here's an opportunity to try a different cross.

Pete Oen & SR Moonshine OnRocks Triumph at Sand Cup Futurity for Valerie Smith-Rebholz

By Tanya Randall

Pete Oen and SR Moonshine OnRocks ("Farrah"), owned by Valerie Smith-Rebholz of Washington, West Virginia, topped the $8,500-added Sand Cup Futurity, held April 6-8 at the Grant County Fairgrounds in Moses Lake, Washington.

"It's a well-run futurity," said Oen, who went up early to give a clinic the day before the futurity started. "The ground was great. I want to thank Bobo (McMillian) for having it."

The victory was worth $5,955. Oen and Farrah also collected $1,057 on 1D carryovers to the Open for total earnings of $7,012.

Farrah has been in Oen's Ardmore, Oklahoma, barn since she was a yearling. Bred by Latricia Duke, the 4-year-old Palomino mare is by million-dollar sire Firewaterontherocks out of the Invisible Injun mare Me Moonshine. Oen and Tyler Rivette purchased the filly from Schiller Ranch and later sold her to Smith-Rebholz.

As with all of the colts in Oen's program, Farrah was started under saddle by Josianne St Cyr of De Leon, Texas.

"All the colts that I have control over, or people ask me where I want them to go, I send most all those colts to Josi because I seem to follow Josi quite well," Oen explained. "I normally leave them with Josi for 60 days and she'll get them riding really good. We'll take them from there."

St Cyr sent Farrah home and told Oen that she thought he'd really like the mare. After riding her for another 90 days, Pedro Moema, Oen's Brazilian intern last year, said that she was "The One." "He said, 'She was the champion,'" laughed Oen. "She probably was our favorite colt when we got started."

All was going well with Farrah, until it wasn't. During the summer everything was falling apart. Oen said he figures the stoutly made mare was going through a growth spurt that hampered her athletic ability.

"It was very, very bizarre," said the veteran trainer. "It was something that I had never experienced before. Normally these horses just train along, and there might be a little bump in the road, but it's not a major one. There was a good 60 days with this one where I was like 'Oh, no!' Then she just changed. I don't know if she just quit growing and learned how to use her body again. I changed the way that I was training her a little bit, which probably helped as well."

One of the issues that Farrah was having was maintaining shoulder control and forward motion through her turns, so Oen went to working small circles away from the pattern.

"When I was trying to get her to train back up last summer, she learned that she can lope a pretty small sized circle and keep moving and forward motion. Now, it's not even a question for her, but last summer, that was one of the things she couldn't do—lope a small circle and keep her feet moving—she'd stop, sling her but or break to the trot."

Oen also made the decision to switch the mare to the left barrel first.

"It was a midstream change late summer last year," she said. "I don't know if that was part of her recovery or not." Thankfully, Farrah turned the corner in time to make the exhibition team.

"Overnight, she was like, 'I'm going to be a barrel horse.' It was crazy. When she decided to come around, it didn't take her two weeks to get ready again," he said.

When he started exhibiting his colts last fall, Farrah was in the hunt, but she wasn't the superstar. It wasn't until she had a few futurities under her belt that she really turned the corner.

"As we started hauling her and competing on her, the mare lacked a what I call grit and a little confidence as late 3-year-old and early 4-year-old," Oen explained. "About Diamonds & Dirt (in early March), she got a bit more macho. She just dug in and got braver than she was through Arizona, Kinder and all those early futurities." At Moses Lake, Farrah was second in the first go and turned in the fastest time of the futurity to win the second go and aggregate by 3/10ths.

“She got to point now where we call her our Stella for this year,” he said, referring to his 2017 standout Guys Dashing Jet. “She’s just that chill. Nothing stirs her up—she’s that easygoing. She lopes around on a loose rein.

“I feel as confident running her down the alley as I did Stella last year. She’s not a cheater. She doesn’t try to out-think you. She’ll let you put her where you want her to go. I want to call her easy. She’s like Stella in that you don’t worry about her making a wrong decision. She’s very solid and honest. She’s a very pleasing kind of mare. She wants you happy with her.”

BIT: L&W medium shank correction with a chain mouthpiece to warmup; Dave Elliott to run

HEADGEAR: Rawhide tiedown. “I don’t ever really practice her in a tiedown, but it’s been beneficial to her in competition as a younger horse. I’ve really contemplated taking it off since she’s become more confident and sure of herself, but I haven’t yet.”

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIME: “She doesn’t take a whole lot. I don’t tune her differently, knowing that I’m going to a different kind of place or arena. She probably gets the least amount of training of the entire herd, since she decided she wanted to be a barrel horse. She’s probably ridden four days a week. If we are going somewhere, I’ll work her slow a day or two before we go. I’m the type of person that will go around the barrels three, no more than five, times on those horses that I’m training, riding, tuning. I don’t live going around the barrels. I think that’s helped with their soundness and sanity, even their desire to be barrel horse. She doesn’t get a whole lot. We try to keep her really fit. I lope a lot of smaller circles on her—not with a barrel in the middle of it. Last summer, she had a problem with picking her shoulders up and not moving her feet. Now, it’s easy for her and I use them to keep it fresh in her mind.”

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Have you ever asked God to help you with something, and then tell Him He's not doing it right? Or asked Him and then tried to do it on your own anyway? We all have. Often.

My granddaughter gave me a great illustration of that when she was here for spring break. She is 7 and just loves to play solitaire on my iPad. But she doesn't have it all figured out yet. "Gram, will you sit here and help me play this game?" I plopped down and watched as she just started tapping. Tried this, tried that. Some of the cards worked, some didn't. (Just like when we try to figure things out on our own.) I asked her if she was using the good brain God gave her or if she was just tapping. "Help me Gram!" So I started to tell her which red card went on which black card. She stopped. Looked at me. Smiled sweetly. PATTED ME ON THE HEAD and said, "You are going too fast...but thank you for trying to help me."

Now, I doubt any of us would pat God on the head, but we do have a tendency to disregard His wisdom and His instruction. Either He is too slow in answering, or too fast, and our childlike minds can't grasp it.

Why do we do that? Because we lose sight of the fact that He is smarter than we are. We forget that all things were made by Him and He knows everything about everything.

"But God is in heaven and how in the world could He help us when we are down here and He's up there?!"

Just because we can't see Him doesn't mean He isn't right here with us. He never leaves us or forsakes us. He hears us and He answers us, every time. Let's be "God inside minded" this week. I believe those unanswered questions and directions we need will come quickly!!!
