Kassie Mowry & Crew Take $20,262 San Angelo Rodeo Championship

By Tanya Randall

All-time leading barrel racer Kassie Mowry continued her assault on the record books with a $20,262 championship at the San Angelo Rodeo, held over the three weekends from April 4-18 in west Texas.

The Dublin, Texas, based trainer used two of her great horses to get the win. She started off on her AQHA Horse of the Year Force The Goodbye ("Jarvis") in the progressive first round of slack in the First Community Credit Union Spur Arena. The 7-year-old gelding, by The Goodbye Lane out of VF Forcitt First, by Burrs First Down, finished 26th out of 240 runners.

Mowry commended the San Angelo committee for their efforts to improve the footing in the Spur Arena.

"So many of these committees are going out of the way to accommodate the barrel racers with the ground," she said. "This year they brought in Randy (Spraggins) to work the ground. Last year, the first round wasn't fun, but they made the change. Look at how tough it was! It was a freaking horse race. Jarvis didn't even get a check in it! It was tough! I think that's cool. They realized they could do better, and they did. It worked out really well. I'll always appreciate that, because my horses come first. I've got to keep them safe."

Mowry had her second run on Friday, April 11, in the Foster Communications Coliseum aboard CP He Will Be Epic. The 10-year-old Epic Leader gelding, out of Percilla, by Dash Ta Fame, had previously won the San Angelo Rodeo in 2023.

"Will" was also on a hot streak, having outrun Jarvis both runs at the Diamond Classic Main Event in Abilene, Texas, earlier in the week to earn the Open 1D Average Championship. Mowry, too, had plans on running Jarvis at The American at Globe Life Field in Arlington, the very next day.

Mowry and Will turned in the fastest time of the rodeo, 14.01, that eventually won the second round, which concluded the following weekend. They head into the short round fourth in a very tight aggregate behind Jordan Driver, Jymmy Kay Cox and Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, who was riding Mowry's former aged event standout Sir Epic. A mere one-tenth of a second separated the top six on two runs.

In a short round plagued by downed barrels, Mowry and Will were able to post the second fastest run of the rodeo, a 14.02, to win the short and take the aggregate.

"Will loves San Angelo," Mowry said. She actually picked up the gelding from his breeder Claire Powell in the fairgrounds parking lot when he was just a yearling. "I've always had a lot of luck at the rodeo. I enjoy going there."

"Will runs barrels because I want him to and he wants to please me," she said. "He's always a little afraid. He gets scared of loud crowds, the fences, the banners. He's like a big scaredy-cat, but he goes in there and tries as hard as he can. I never come out of the arena and think, 'Will possibly could have run harder.' No, Will always runs as hard as he can. I just love that about him."

Mowry said Will isn't as distractible as he used to be at all. "I know when I get on him, he always gives me a chance," she said.

Mowry, the defending WPRA World Champion, currently leads the standings with $131,644 from just nine rodeos. She won a little check at the Stockyards in Fort Worth as a pre-NFR prep run last winter, placed at the WPRA World Finals (which count toward the WPRA World Standings), placed at Odessa, finished third at Fort Worth, second at San Antonio, won Houston and drew a check in the first round at Austin. Jackson, Mississippi, was the only rodeo this season where she didn't draw a check.

Earlier this year, she also quietly slipped over the $8 million dollar mark in career earnings, per EquiStat.

She's won $330,500 unofficially in the first four months of 2025, making her a quarter million shy of $8.5 million. And Ruby Buckle is next week.

Format Fortune

The San Angelo Rodeo concludes the Texas Swing of winter rodeos. It's richest one that doesn't use a tournament or bracket-style format. Rather San Angelo takes all cards and permits into a progressive slack with the top 120 contestants advancing to one of 10 performances.

Mowry said there's pros and cons to each rodeo format. While Mowry, like many of her fellow competitors, doesn't like to make a lot of runs for less money to get to the lucrative payouts, the tournament style does offer more chances if mistakes happen.

"If you hit a barrel round one, you're out (at San Angelo)," she noted. "With a tournament—sometimes it's four runs—you can kind of redeem yourself. Also, if the ground changes, you're basically only running against the girls in your set. That's not something that happens at San Angelo, but if it were somewhere else, I would take that into consideration."

With a rodeo like San Angelo, that's progressive after one with the top 12 on two runs qualifying for a short round with a three-run aggregate, barrel racers can't make a mistake.

"You cannot mess up at San Angelo," she said. "It's so tight coming out of both arenas. You cannot hit a barrel in progress, but you can hit a barrel in the short go and make good money. It's a rodeo you have to be prepared for and have some good luck at and be fast on two runs to get ahead."

San Angelo is also challenging because slack is in a completely different setup. The arena is bigger, and the ground is deeper than the coliseum for the performances and short go.

"You have horses that excel in one more than the other," she noted. "I ran two different horses at this rodeo. Some horses might like the tighter building versus the deeper slack pen. It's interesting. I like it. It's different."

Mowry said she just tries to choose a horse for the right situation.

"I try to choose a horse accordingly," she explained. "Will is just as aggressive his first run out of the gate as he is his last. Jarvis tends to be my slow starter. Like (at the American), I knew it would be tough to get him there (to the Finals), but if I did, I knew he'd be tough to beat. I knew Will would be in the money if I didn't hit a barrel, and I feel like you've got to have that kind of horse there to be high enough in the average to make it back."

The biggest benefit of San Angelo is that it allows barrel racers that didn't make the limited entry rodeos a chance to make up some ground with a lucrative payout, thanks to nearly 300 entries before turnouts.

"I do like that they let everybody enter," said Mowry, "the more, the merrier. The payout is better. It doesn't have the big lump (sum) at the end like the other Texas Swing rodeos. It's pretty consistent, $6,000 for the round, $9,000 for the average. It's not like the $20,000 at San Antonio or the $70,000 at Houston. If you can be consistent and get through it, it pays good. It pays equal. It still pays good if you're down in fifth."

Latricia Duke & DM High Roller Cruise to Red Bluff Roundup Championship

By Tanya Randall

2024 National Finals Rodeo qualifier Latricia Duke and the golden Palomino stallion DM High Roller, owned by her son and farrier Bravid Duke, made short work of the large outdoor pattern at the $22,000-added Red Bluff Round-Up, held April 18-20 in north central California. They topped their two run aggregate by more than 2/10ths to pocket $9,085.

“He likes it out here,” said the multiple aged event champion from Zephyr, Texas. “He likes this kind of ground. It’s got a little bit of depth to it, and it’s got some slide to it. He thinks it’s fun.”

At Red Bluff, all contestants get their first runs in slack on Friday morning with the top 36 split, slowest to fastest, into three performances while the remaining contestants get their second run an hour after the first.

Duke and “Vanilla Wafer” were second in the first round with a 17.45 and finished in the same spot with their 17.49 in Sunday’s performance.

“He was just solid,” said Duke, who moved within the WPRA’s Top 30 with the Red Bluff victory. “He scared me a little at the third. His third barrel was really, really fast, but it was way too close! I didn’t touch it, but it was way too close for comfort!”

Duke and Vanilla Wafer are on more of a celebratory tour rather than a National Finals Rodeo chase. Although that’s not something she’s ruled out if things fall into place, Duke is focused on enjoying her great horse before he retires to full time stud duty and she returns her focus to her first love—training horses.

“I don’t have any plans for the entire year,” she admitted. “I want to get back to training colts, so I’m doing a lot of things that I’ll get to experience for the last time on him. I’m not saying I won’t have another rodeo horse, but this is it for him. I want to retire him sound and happy. I don’t want to interfere with his breeding career. I want to do all the rodeos he thinks are fun this year.”

The 8-year-old stallion, by the French Streaktovegas, is out of Happy To Run Em, a champion daughter of Firewaterontherocks that Duke raised out of her sale barn find, Lady Rompin, by Tiny Tornado Too. His colts, the oldest of which are 2-year-olds, will be the third generation from his maternal line that Duke has ridden.

“I’ve got some colts that I’m super excited about,” she said. “I was sad leaving home to come out here. I was excited about my colts that I had just got started, and then I drove off and left them. I love training horses.”

One of the all-time leading futurity riders, Duke has also had several horses she’s trained go on to the NFR with other riders like Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi’s World Champion Yeah Hes Firen (named Duke after her), Shada Brazil’s Dial It Fast, Hesa Bug Leo that took both Jana Bean and Angie Meadors, and Jud Little’s Sign Of Passion, ridden by Tiffany Fox. She also won futurities on Samantha (Lyne) Mauney’s NFR qualifier LK Watch Me Rock that Tonozzi trained.

Vanilla Wafer was the first horse to let her have a finished horse experience of her own in Vegas. They placed third in the aggregate, won $82,264 and finished eighth in the WPRA World Standings with $211,395.

Prior to Red Bluff, Vanilla Wafer had lifetime earnings of $607,395, making him the third highest earning barrel racing stallion of all time behind Slick By Design and Adios Pantalones.

Duke and Vanilla Wafer have Clovis, Thermal and Springville, California, this week before rodeoing their way back home through Guymon, Oklahoma.

Bailey Sweeps Derby and Open in Redmond

By Julie Mankin

Less than four months after winning both the MVP Futurity and Derby in Buckeye, Ariz., on her ¾ sisters out of Ima Girl Judge, young Washington trainer Jordan Bailey nearly did it again in Oregon. Actually, she dominated nearly every race at the Sanctuary's High Cascades event in Redmond, April 15-20.

Bailey, 25, lives at Star Bailey Ranch in Onalaska, Wash., where her family raises and trains barrel horses. After she placed fourth in the Aikens Trailers Slot Race on Friday for $3,338 with a 15.6, Bailey knew her 7-year-old black mare Ima Girl Fame ("Olive") hadn't worked normally.

"She was a bit sore; I knew something wasn't right," said Bailey. "I saw Dr. Jared Sharp (DVM) that night and he helped me get her back to feeling like she can."

It worked. Olive swept both rounds of the Sharp Sports Medicine Derby with the two fastest times recorded all weekend – a 15.3 and a smoking 15.2 – to win the average and another $3,807. Those two runs also won both days of the WCBRA Open for $2,232, plus an extra $1,243 for sweeping both Adult sidepots.

"She's been on a roll," said Bailey. "I've won a lot of money on her the past seven weeks and she broke an arena record a couple of weeks ago in Lynden."

But Bailey wasn't done – she also ran 5-year-old Ima Girl Dash ("J.B.") to second place in the average of the $10,000-added Fast Cash Futurity, including winning the first round, for another $2,990. Like Olive, the grey mare is out of the late Ima Girl Judge by Judge Cash, and by Dash Ta Fame. Olive is by Mulberry Fame, by Dash Ta Fame and out of the NFR mare Mulberry Canyon Moon.

"They have similar styles and a lot of similar personality traits," said Bailey, who trained both mares. "They're both very sweet, very hot and both really like their job. I have to help JB out a little more because she's not as far along. Olive is really push-style, for the most part."

The Baileys own a grocery store and Landrus Hunting Company, in addition to standing three stallions and raising barrel horses. Jordan, their only child, rides roughly seven to 12 horses each day, and ran two other futurity horses in Redmond that are further behind, she said. For the past few years, Brian McPhee has been starting their colts under saddle.

"It's pretty cool to win on both babies out of that dam," said Bailey, who plans to take Olive to some pro rodeos this summer. "She was my mother's good 1D barrel horse. That mare was a big part of our program. She puts a lot of try into her babies, and a really good work ethic."

The High Cascades at the Deschutes County Fairgrounds typically fields more than 1,800 entries and is webcasted live. Sanctuary Barrel Racing annually gives a portion of its proceeds to an emergency fund for rural and rodeo families. Since 2017, they've given out over $168,000 to people in need, thanks to the slot race calcutta and benefit dinner, while paying out more than $1 million to barrel racers.

What is SilvaPlex?

Silvaplex is a CHELATED silver, NOT colloidal!

(Colloidal silver is a dietary supplement on the FDA watch list*1).

SilvaPlex is all natural, antimicrobial, bacterial, fungal and viral. Nothing and no one is allergic, and it doesn't interfere with anything else you give or do. Safe even for NICU foals. It has been used for Bleeders, Allergies, Asthma, Heaves, Pneumonia and many other respiratory issues.

SilvaPlex Immune Support can be used simultaneously with therapeutic agents such as antibiotics, steroids and mucolytics. SilvaPlex can be administered to large and small animals (dogs, cats, horses, show cattle, etc.) Recommended by Veterinarians and animal professionals. Developed and made in a USA FDA inspected GMP Approved facility and is tested for efficacy. We can provide a Certificate of Analysis on each case. Don't be fooled with colloidal silver.

There is only ONE
SilvaPlex!

*1 Is colloidal silver safe? The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has warned that colloidal silver isn't safe or effective for treating any disease or condition. Additionally, the FDA and the Federal Trade Commission have taken action against a number of companies for making misleading claims about colloidal silver products. Women's Rodeo Championships Announces No. 1-Ranked Athletes

Ahead of the 2025 Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC), the world's richest all-women's rodeo, paying out a historic $802,000 this season, the Women's Rodeo Championships (WRC) today announced the No. 1 contenders in the World Championship Race. These athletes will enter the opening rounds at the historic Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth on May 12 atop their event leaderboards.

During the 2025 Women's Rodeo World Championship, WRC will crown World Champions in Pro, Challenger, and Limited classifications across four disciplines - team roping heading and heeling, breakaway roping and barrel racing. The qualifying athletes will compete through the event's initial rounds on May 12-14 inside Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth, before turning to AT&T Stadium in nearby Arlington on May 17 for the Championship Round. World Champions will be crowned on May 14, while the World Championship event winners will be anointed on May 17.

The event will also feature the Top 20 NIRA (National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association) athletes in the May 13 Smarty Rodeo Goat Tying Showcase.

Two-time All-Around World Champion Martha Angelone (Stephenville, Texas) leads the talent-packed field of women's athletes, sitting atop both the 2025 All-Around standings and Breakaway Roping Pro leaderboard as she looks to add another two world titles to her laundry list of accolades.

Athletes have been earning leaderboard points through the Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ) system since April 2024. Points will continue to accrue through the conclusion of competition on May 14.

Alongside Angelone, those athletes that sit atop the WRWC leaderboards are:

Team Roping: Pro: Katelyn Perkins (Header – Montpelier, Idaho) and Jimmi Jo Montera (Heeler – Greeley, Colorado)

Challenger: Remi Wells (Header – Central City, Nebraska) and Shanna Perkins (Heeler – Cokeville, Wyoming)

Barrel Racing: Pro: Jordan Driver (Garden City, Texas)

Challenger: Brandie Inman (Nowata, Oklahoma)

Limited: Amy Ohrt (Victoria, Texas)

Breakaway Roping: Pro: Angelone (Stephenville, TX)

Challenger: Karrigan Cagley (Kentwood, Louisiana)

Limited: Christa Brunori (Camp Verde, Arizona)

Goat Tying: Jacee Graff (St. George, UT)

Of the athletes leading their event, Angelone is the only one to have previously earned consecutive WRWC World Championships, earning the All-Around title in both 2023 and 2024. In 2023, Angelone also won the Women's Rodeo Breakaway World Championship, a discipline she finished runner-up in last season.

The Virginia-native cowgirl will compete in three disciplines at the 2025 iteration of the event: team roping (heading), team roping (heeling), and breakaway roping.

WCRA Announces Athlete Roster for 2025 Rodeo Corpus Christi

The World Champions Rodeo Alliance (WCRA) today announced the field of 144 rodeo athletes from across North America that will compete at the 2025 edition of Rodeo Corpus Christi (RCC), set to take place May 6–10 at the American Bank Center. The event promises five electric days of rodeo action, culminating in the high-stakes Showdown Round and the prestigious Kid Rock's Rodeo Round on May 10.

The 2025 RCC roster features 96 timed-event athletes and 48 roughstock competitors who qualified by nominating their efforts through the WCRA VRQ leaderboard. To view the complete roster, please click HERE.

The 2025 RCC roster showcases a dynamic mix of returning champions and rising stars, all competing for their share of the $600,000 purse. RCC will also mark the final opportunity for athletes to earn a spot to compete at the transformative Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo, presented by $VET. The top two finishers in each discipline will earn a spot on the WCRA's Free Riders—the sixth team to compete at Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo on May 16 at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas. The Bull Riding Champion will earn a qualification to the PBR World Finals Redemption Round in Fort Worth, May 16-17.

The Free Riders will consist of two athletes per discipline, competing in barrel racing, bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, team roping, steer wrestling, and breakaway roping. This bracket-style team competition will feature Kid Rock LIVE in concert, kicking off a weekend of Western sports that leads into the PBR World Finals: Unleash The Beast – Championship on May 17-18 at the home of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys. The Free Riders won the inaugural Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo last May, and will once again look to the top competitors at RCC to help them defend the title, beginning this year's event with the No. 1 seed by virtue of their win in 2024.

Several 2024 Free Riders roster members will return to RCC this year to battle for a spot on the 2025 team. These athletes include bareback rider Nick Pelke, steer wrestler Cody Doescher, saddle bronc riders Cole Elshere and Cash Wilson, team roping heeler Douglas Rich, tie-down ropers Jarvis Demery and Quade Hiatt, breakaway roper Kielely Walz, and barrel racer Makenzie Mayes.

Mayes, who finished second at the 2024 RCC, was a breakout star at the inaugural Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo. She launched her team into the lead with a lightning-fast 18.197-second run in barrel racing and later sealed the Free Riders' victory in the final round with an 18.80-second run.

Among the additional standout storylines for the 2025 Rodeo Corpus Christi field is the debut of the first all-woman team roping team to ever compete at a WCRA open event. Megan Gunter and Jimmi Jo Montera will make history, with Montera entering as the No. 1 ranked heeler with a 10,000-point lead on the leaderboard.

Steer wrestler Tory Johnson is also set to return to Corpus Christi after suffering a traumatic injury at the 2024 event. Following a collision with a bucking chute, Johnson endured a severe head injury, including three skull fractures, hospitalized for nearly two months. The 39-year-old also sustained a fracture in his eye socket, broke everything in his right ear that controlled his hearing and balance, and suffered a spinal fluid leak. His return marks a remarkable recovery and stands as one of the most inspiring stories of the event.

Rodeo Corpus Christi will kick off with a CEAT Division Youth Showcase on May 6 (roster to be released April 24), followed by progressive rounds on May 7–9, leading into the Showdown Round and Kid Rock Rodeo Round on May 10.

Fans can watch Rodeo Corpus Christi on RidePass via Pluto TV nightly from May 6–10 at 7 p.m. CDT. Additionally, the Kid Rock n Rodeo Round will air on CBS Sports Network on May 25 at Noon EDT.

Since its inception in May 2018, the WCRA and its partners have awarded more than $19.7 million in new money to rodeo athletes. For more information about the WCRA or how to get involved through the VRQ system, visit wcrarodeo.com.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I'm sure that all of us have had an argument/heated discussion/fight/difference of opinion with our spouse/family member/co-worker/someone driving on the highway! Ya, there are opportunities just about every single day of our lives for conflict. BUT! That means that there are just as many opportunities to RESOLVE those differences.

Is it easy? It isn't for me. How about you? Well, as usual, God provides us with the answer. But we need to obey His instruction or we just go around that mountain over and over. James 3:16-17 tells us that where strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

So, it would be to our benefit to resolve our differences quickly. We don't want "every evil work" in our lives! I heard this statement a few days ago, and it really resonated with my heart. "When a difference arises between you and someone else, recognize it quickly, get in agreement, and turn together and run the devil off!" He's the one trying to bring strife into your life, right?

So, instead of fighting each other, we resist the devil who is trying to bring division, and he has to flee. James 4:7. If we could do this, we wouldn't end up hurting someone we care deeply for, and the real culprit will get his!
