Weather Or Not—Mother Nature Challenges Rodeo Athletes in the Heartland

By Tanya Randall

Everyone in the Plains States knows to be ready for spring and early summer tornados, especially in the particularly deadly month of May. What no one really expected was the 500-year flooding that accompanied them.

Despite the historic rainfall across the region, Garden City, Kansas, and Claremore, Oklahoma, held their annual rodeos.

Tyra Kane of Weatherford, Texas, and her recently acquired mount Majestic Knight (“Jester”) topped the $4,600-added Beef Empire Days PRCA Rodeo, held May 23-25 in Garden City, for $2,405.

Kane had purchased Jester from Jana Himes about a week before the Logandale, Nevada, pro rodeo in mid-April. She had watched the 10-year-old gelding run before with her friend Stephanie Fryar and took note of him.

Himes got the horse back and Kane hadn’t seen him again until Stevie Wilhelm had posted a video of him on Facebook.

“I talked to Stephanie and she said that she thought that Jana was thinking about selling him,” she said. “I wasn’t really shopping, but I kind of had to jump on him because I know how fast that sucker is.”

Bred by Wade and Tess Siegel, Jester is by Mountains Majesty, a full brother to Stoli, out of the On A High mare Glad Its Night. Despite having the fastest work on the track at Remington Park in Oklahoma City, Jester disappointed greatly in his first and only race. Himes bought him shortly afterward.

Kane said the first time she ran Jester wasn’t “good at all,” but she tried him a second time and bought him.

“I ran him at one jackpot and took off to Logandale,” she said. Kane and Jester had a solid California Spring Run, picking up checks at Logandale, Red Bluff and Springville. They were one out of a check at Lakeside and one out of the short go at Clovis. “We are still working out a few kinks. Mostly it’s he’s fast enough that it doesn’t matter if I make mistakes. We still have our moments.”

At Garden City, Kane and Jester were out in slack.

“Everybody was freaking out about the mud,” she explained. “I grew up going to Little Britches rodeos there and I remember running in the mud. It was never good, but I never remember it being dangerous.”

Kane also thought running in the mud would be a good test for the upcoming summer run.

“I also didn’t want to take off for the summer run having never run him in that situation. I thought we’re going to test it out and see

College National Champions to again earn automatic qualification into days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo

The Komatsu Equipment Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo presented by Zions Bank is once again extending a qualification to compete at their $1 million rodeo to the 2019 College National Finals Rodeo (CNFR) Champions.

Want to know what that can mean for a college student, just look to Kellan Johnson. Last June, the Gillette College athlete teamed with Trey Yates to win the team roping title at the CNFR in Casper, Wyo. That win qualified them for the 2018 Komatsu Equipment Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo presented by Zions Bank in Salt Lake City that boasted a $1 million payout and Gold, Silver and Bronze medals.

Due to other rodeo commitments at the time, Yates wasn't able to compete in Salt Lake City so that is when Johnson's younger brother Carson came into the picture. The Days of '47 also took 20 entries from the World Champions Rodeo Alliance's (WCRA) Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ) system, in which contestants nominate events they're already competing in to earn points, which in turn qualify them for big-money events.

"When Trey said he wasn't going to go to Salt Lake, my dad found out how it worked, and how you can nominate rodeos," Carson Johnson told the Team Roping Journal last year about the WCRA. "I nominated six amateur rodeos in Colorado and Nebraska, and winning the rodeo in Brush, Colorado, with Kellan got me into Salt Lake. I think the virtual qualifying system is pretty cool, because it gives you a second chance to get something out of a rodeo you're already entered in."

And what an opportunity it was for the Johnson boys (Kellan, 19, and Carson, 17). The sons of PRCA World Champion Jhett Johnson roped their way to $53,200 a piece and gold medals. Other college champions that capitalized on the opportunity were East Mississippi Community College steer wrestler, Tristan Martin, $800 and Cisco College tie-down roper, Ty Harris, $2,400. Wyatt Adams, Clovis (CA) Community College team roping heeler, who got to roll up when Yates declined, also took $800 home from Salt Lake City.

Champions in the seven standard rodeo events and women's breakaway roping from the 2019 College National Finals Rodeo will have their shot at competing for a share of over $1 million this July. For the first time ever at the Days of '47, women's breakaway roping will be one of the featured events.

"We strive to bring the best in the sport of rodeo to the Great Salt Lake Valley to celebrate Utah's heritage and continue one of Utah's longest-standing traditions," said Dan Shaw, Chairman of the board for the Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo. "Due to our partnership with PBR (Professional Bull Riders), WCRA (World Champions Rodeo Alliance) and our rodeo partners via the trial events, we are able to bring great talent from all areas for this one-of-a-kind Gold Medal Rodeo."

A total of 288 competitors will have a chance to compete at the Days of '47 Cowboy Games and Rodeo and take their shot at a share of the over $1 million in prize money and the coveted medals in 2019. The Gold Medal Rodeo will showcase eight rodeo events featuring 32 competitors in each with eight competitors per performance starting on Friday, July 19. The top two from each performance, along with two via the Wild Card category, will advance to the Gold Medal Round on July 24 where ten competitors in each event will compete in a sudden-death format with the winner collecting a Gold Medal and $50,000 cash.

"Last year our Gold Medal Round featured world champions, defending Days of '47 champions, college champions and an 11-year-old barrel racer further proving our event features all the best the sport of rodeo has to offer," noted Tommy Joe Lucia, General Manager of the Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo. "We hope that not only the contestants but also the fans will make this a destination event where they can experience Utah and Life Elevated. Fans not only have the opportunity to experience a world class rodeo at night but can enjoy all the adventure Utah has to offer during the day."

In addition to the CNFR, contestants can qualify through the WCRA Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ) system. The top 20 in each event, excluding bull riding and breakaway, on the WCRA leaderboard as of July 8, 2019 will qualify. For bull riders 12 will qualify via the WCRA VRQ and 28 breakaway ropers. For more information on WCRA and how to nominate to earn points visit www.wcrarodeo.com.

Bull riders will need to have a PBR card and be registered on the WRCA App to compete while all others must be registered with the WCRA to compete in Salt Lake City.

The Komatsu Equipment Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo presented by Zions Bank, July 19-20 and 22-24, will take place at the $17.5 million state-of-the-art Days of '47 Arena at the Utah State Fairpark, custom designed and built for rodeo. The venue—an outdoor arena located in the heart of Salt Lake City—features over 10,000 stadium-style seats.

For only the fifth time in the history of rodeo, riders will have an opportunity to compete for Gold, Silver or Bronze Medals. The first two times were in conjunction with the Olympic Winter Games in Calgary (1988) and Salt Lake City (2002), when rodeo was part of the Cultural Olympiad and the other two times being the Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo in 2017 and 2018. The medals that will be awarded at the Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo will be produced by OC Tanner, the same company that made the Olympic medals for the champions of the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

Tickets are currently on sale at smithstix.com. For more information on the event visit www.daysof47cowboygames.com.

The Komatsu Equipment Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo will broadcast exclusively on PBR's RidePass via RidePass.com or the RidePass mobile app. The final Gold Medal Round will be broadcast on CBS at 12 p.m. ET on Sunday, July 28.

Services Set for PRCA Announcer Chad Nicholson

Services for Chad Nicholson, a PRCA announcer since 1993, have been set. The service will be at 3 p.m. (PT), June 13, at the Three Rivers Lions Roping Arena, 42490 North Kaweah River Road, Three Rivers, Calif., 93271. Nicholson passed away May 17 in the mountains in Woodlake, Calif., in a jeep accident. He was 50. Nicholson is survived by his wife, Jennifer Welch Nicholson, who has a PRCA specialty act, the Riata Ranch Cowboy Girls. A rider-less horse was led into the arena May 25 to memorialize Nicholson at the Pony Express Rodeo in Eagle Mountain, Utah, a rodeo he had announced at since its inception.

New PRCA Online Entry Platform Launch Successful

A soft launch of the PRCA online entry platform was successful, Thursday, May 23, marking another step forward in the process to bring online entries to PRORODEO competitors. Using the openings of the Jordan (Mont.) Match Xtreme Bronc Ride as a test, Thursday's goal was to exercise the application internally at PRCA headquarters in Colorado Springs. Entries came into PROCOM as normal, however, PROCOM operators used the new online entries application to take the entry information and enter it into the system. While the online entries process continues to be tested, a full launch is anticipated in the coming weeks.

if he'll run in the mud and handle it...or not. I didn't want to be wondering if he would do it. If your horse won't, you might as well turnout. I wanted to see if he would do it."

Himes had told Kane that Jester didn't really care for water puddles, but she got the unexpected opportunity to "practice" when she stopped to let the horses out of the trailer in Vernon, Texas, while on her way to Kansas.

"There were puddles in the arena, so I got on him and raced him through the puddles for a while, just to see how bad it was going to be. He got over that, but we'll still have to see. We still haven't done actual 'puddle racing,' but I think it will be okay."

For slack, Garden City didn't have any standing water, but it was wet and boggy. After looking at the weather for the rest of the rodeo, Kane didn't think conditions would improve for the remainder of the rodeo.

Kane, who is a partner in a construction business that does remodels on nursing homes, has Hugo, Oklahoma; Crossett and Fort Smith, Arkansas, this week, Woodward and Ponca, Oklahoma; Weatherford, Cleburne and Coleman, Texas, the following week before heading out to Reno, Nevada, to start her summer run.

She's looking forward to seeing how Jester continues to handle the rodeo atmosphere.

"I've kind of established that he doesn't really care for the sandy ground," she said. "He did okay; I placed at Jacksonville and Killeen in the sand, but I think he's better on firm dirt. So, we're headed north to the big pens. I really struggled with whether we should go to Canada, because I think he'd do really well up there. He's never really been rodeoed on. Jana took him to a few amateur rodeos, but I've kind of thrown him at it, so I figured I'd better not kill him at it. He doesn't seem like he cares much."

While she'd love to find herself in the Top 15 by season's end, she's hoping to make the cut for the 2020 winter rodeos.

"You always have high hopes that you can hit a lick in the summer and catch up," she said, "but I'd like to be in the top 30 to get into the building for next year. I'd love for it to work out better than that, but that would probably be good enough for this year."

Nowlin And DJG Madison

National Finals Rodeo qualifiers Tracy Nowlin and DJG Madison ("Dolly Jo") topped the $2,250-added Will Rogers Stampede in Claremore, Oklahoma, for $1,843. The Nowata, Oklahoma, and her great mare also placed 10th at Garden City for total weekend earnings of $2,204.

Her biggest concern were getting to the rodeos since water was over the roads.

"Water was over the road at 169 at Talala," she said. "I had to take colts to my horse shoer; he lives about five miles from my house. I dumped them off and had his wife Jess take me to my chiropractor because my top rib was out. We had to drive through the water and I thought 'Oh crap, how am I going to get to Claremore?' I got back home and called and it was still open, but they said it would be closed before we could get back home. It wasn't. It was kind of scary driving through that water."

She and her mother Beverly Postrach had to deal with more water on the roads going to Garden City.

"I drove through water in downtown Garden City," she said. "I didn't know if we could get through it because it was splashing so bad."

Luckily, she drew up Friday night in Claremore, which meant she missed the tornado warnings.

"I was up a good night at Claremore," she said. "Wednesday night during the tripping, they ended up in the water treatment shelter (due to a tornado warning) and Saturday night they ended up in the shelter."

Despite the rain the ground was really good. "It was all really good," she said, noting that she ran a .1 on Friday night and a .2 was posted on Saturday after more rain fell Friday night. "I don't know what they did - if they packed it or if it was just raining so hard that it just ran off, but it was really good. Thanks to the committee for going above and beyond trying to keep the ground where we could place."

It helped that Dolly Jo was ready to roll.

"She was so glad to get to somewhere," laughed Nowlin. "She's been home too long. She was a fire-breathing dragon when I walked up there at Claremore. I'd been to two ACA rodeos and she didn't really fire. I told my mom I didn't know if she was going to run tonight. Then I walked up there, her head came up. She was like, 'I'm at a big rodeo; I'm ready!' How do they know?"

At Garden City on Saturday night, she opted to ride her veteran Dolly Jo rather than scare the colt she had planned on running. "I knew Dolly would know where her feet were," she said. "I just cruised. I held her; she wasn't going Dolly speed."

Bred by Donald and Janice Guthrie, Dolly Jo, 13, is by Royal Blue Chew Chew out of the Sunset Six mare Run Madison. Nowlin purchased the mare off of Facebook; trying her as a potential calf horse for her son.

They qualified for the their first NFR last year, but Nowlin's got to deal with some health issue of her own rather than seek a second straight qualification.

"I'm entered in at Reno and the good ones but then I'm going to come home," said Nowlin, who sitting 42nd in the standings with $13,438. She's going to have to have more surgery on her shoulder. She was recently diagnosed with thoracic outlet syndrome. "That's why my arm was going numb (at the 2018 NFR) in Vegas.

"If it wasn't for my cousin Matt Postrach, who is a chiropractor, and (fellow barrel racer) Jill Batencourt, I would be in trouble." Nowlin's next big adventure will be trying to get to Fort Smith, where she runs on Saturday. While it wasn't raining at the moment at her house, it is raining upriver in Kansas. Those storms are expected to move her direction later in the week along with the previously dumped water overflowing the creeks and rivers.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

“How Godly can I be in adverse circumstances?”
WELL, WHY WOULD I WANT TO FIND OUT???
LOL!

Who wants adverse circumstances? I doubt any of us. A study was done and it seems there are generally 5 causes of stress: uncertainty, unresolved conflict, unrealistic comparison, unconfessed sin and unusual pressure in the area of finances. Yep, any of those would work on me.

What can we do about it? I'm glad you asked! First of all, don't panic. Hebrews 13:5-6 tells us God never leaves or forsakes us, so we know that we are NOT ALONE in the situation.

Me and God. Since He is the author and FINISHER of my faith (Heb. 12:1-2), we know there is an END to the problem and we are victorious! I feel better already!

Truly, when trials come, consider Jesus. He paid the price for us. If we'll grab the Bible and start reading, He'll direct us to the answer. I recommend I John 1, 2 and 3. Make it a great week with Jesus and stress won't have any place in our lives!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor “Church at the Barn” in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
