Jolene Montgomery & Jets Heart N Soul Set Pace at Stephenville Revolution Race

By Tanya Randall

Multiple aged event champion Jolene Montgomery and the royally-bred, 4-year-old gelding Jets Heart N Soul ("Prince"), owned by Busby Quarter Horses, turned in the only sub-15-second run at the Revolution Barrel Race over Memorial Weekend in Stephenville, Texas.

Their 14.949 posted on Saturday, won Saturday's Open, the futurity and adult sidepots and $5,000-added Open 4D Qualifier for an incredible $4,929.

"I plan on hitting up all those Revolution races," said the barrel horse trainer from Purdon, Texas. "They're amazing and I love them!"

Although the entry fee for the Qualifier to their finals is higher--$150 with an 80 percent payback, Montgomery said her overhead costs are less because she can enter, run and go home.

"You don't have to buy a stall," she explained. "You can do it all in one day. If you need exhibitions, you have to be willing to get up and get there early, but you can get your exhibitions and runs done all in one day.

"With the higher entry fees, it just pays so much more. I entered two horses this weekend and entered all the sidepots. I got up early and went an exhibition. I made two runs and was back in time to feed horses, and I made $4,900!"

The big payday pushed Prince's earnings to more than $60,000. After starting his career at the BFA World Championship Futurity in the Juvenile and slot race with tipped barrels, Montgomery cracked his code at Edna, where she made the decision to ride the gelding like an open horse rather than a colt.

Since then, they placed in the second go at the Texas Extreme Futurity, won the Isabella Quarter Horses Slot Futurity and were reserve champions in the Futurity, and took third at the Kinder Cup Slot Futurity. Then they hit a little snag.

"We had a couple little minor setbacks and he had about six weeks off," Montgomery explained. "He only had about three runs before (the Old Fort Days Futurity in) Fort Smith. We made some adjustments to get him just right. I think we've got him back to perfect."

Prince's first runs back were at the Central Texas Futurity in Hamilton. Montgomery said the gelding had a "few of bobbles," but still placed in the first round. He finished ninth at the Old Fort Days Futurity in Fort Smith, Arkansas, the weekend before Stephenville.

"He worked great at Fort Smith," recalled Montgomery. "I ran him to the fence on the first barrel in the time trials, so I was a little cautious going to the first in the Finals. He made a beautiful run but wasn't going quite as hard. He still ran a .6. I can't complain. It was super tough."

For Stephenville, Montgomery made a tack change because of the vastly different setup from the wide-open pen in Fort Smith.

"I ran him in a bonnet at Fort Smith—just trying to figure out the perfect headgear," Montgomery said. "At Stephenville, since it's kind of trappy and he's pretty turny, I went ahead and took the bonnet off and just ran him in a junior cowhorse (bit). It was the perfect recipe there. He was just really, really good."

Bred and owned by Jeff and Andrea Busby, Prince is by their great stallion Blazin Jetolena out of the blue-hen producer Mistys Dash Of Fame, by Dash Ta Fame. He's been in Montgomery's barn since October 2016 when he got back from colt starter Brice Manning. Ultimately, the plan is to make Prince into a rodeo horse.

"I want to give a big thank you to my crew at home and Busby Quarter Horses for letting me ride Prince," said Montgomery, who

RFD-TV's The American Partners with PRCA

On Tuesday, RFD-TV's The American announced it will be sanctioned by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association and will add $355,000 in additional prize money to increase the prize money to $2,355,000.

The 2019 American will be held March 2-3, with final qualification rounds on March 2 and the finals round on March 3. The American will become a two-day event, making it the richest weekend in Western sports at AT&T Stadium.

The PRCA is recognized as the unsurpassed leader in sanctioning the sport of professional rodeo and hosts the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo - the ultimate championship for cowboys. Points earned at The American will count towards NFR qualifications.

"The PRCA is the premier rodeo organization in the world, and in a continued effort to bring our fans the biggest and best events, we are proud to be sanctioning The American and partnering with RFD-TV," said PRCA CEO George Taylor. "This is an exciting time for the PRCA as we open new avenues to improve the sport for our members and fans, and the inclusion of The American is a giant step in that process."

Taylor also told the audience that the PRCA recently passed more than $1 billion in payouts since 1986.

"We need to grow that even more to continue to stay relevant as we move forward," Taylor said. "One of the steps of that is becoming involved with things like The American. The stories that come out of an event like The American are amazing and that is what is really going to drive our sport as we move forward."

The American will add break-away roping and a #9 Team Roping in 2019.

AT&T Stadium and RFD-TV have agreed to a five-year deal to keep The American Rodeo AT&T Stadium.

"We are proud to continue and extend our partnership with Patrick Gottsch and RFD-TV as the hosts of RFD-TV's the American Rodeo. There is no better venue to experience this ground-breaking event than AT&T Stadium," said Stephen Jones, Chief Operating Officer of the Dallas Cowboys. "We really did feel like there's no better place to host an event like this than AT&T Stadium. We're certainly fired up about the next five years and as big as it has already been, we want to continue to make it bigger and better." Taylor said the process of the PRCA becoming involved with The American began in January. The idea Taylor had at the forefront was to continue to grow the sport and have the impact in the communities that the PRCA wants.

"We have to continue to evolve, so the fans get what they need out of the sport, and the rest will take care of itself," Taylor said. Patrick Gottsch, Founder of Rural Media Group Inc, is thrilled to have the PRCA on board for this venture.

"RFD-TV is so proud of what's been accomplished over the past five years with The American," Gottsch said. "I have so much respect for the PRCA and look forward to working together to take

The American to even another level. I thank the Dallas Cowboys for their continued support and really appreciate the opportunity for a full weekend to now take The American to its full potential with this new, five-year agreement."

Taylor also addressed how the money earned at The American will impact contestants aiming to qualify for the Wrangler NFR. "The dollars are going to count towards the NFR," Taylor said. "We are going to include The American as part of the NFR system. What we have to figure out is how to translate that exactly to a new system. We are looking at points, we may have a division factor or something along those lines, but we are definitely going to include the money won (at The American) as a factor into the NFR standings."

The addition of break-away roping provides another way to impact the growth of Western sports by adding another thousand qualifiers with the chance to compete at AT&T Stadium.

The World Series of Team Roping will bring a #9 handicapped Championship Team Roping event to The American with a minimum guaranteed $100,000 in prize money. The #9 team roping will be the culmination of several qualifier events with the finals being held at AT&T Stadium on March 2.

RFD-TV continues to strengthen its commitment to western sports and rodeo competitors with a substantial increase in prize money for the winners of The American for 2019. The American will pay prize money for all four places. The long round conducted on March 3, will pay $50,000. Listed below are the new payouts for each event in The American finals.

- * First Place: $100,000
- * Second Place: $25,000
- * Third Place: $10,000
- * Fourth Place: $5,000

RFD-TV's The American will continue to work with Better Barrel Races and Ultimate Calf Roping for The American.

Since its debut in 2014, The American has paid to rodeo contestants more than $15 million at the qualifiers, semifinals and finals. Each year the top rodeo athletes in the world in each of the seven rodeo events are invited to compete at the home of the Dallas Cowboys. With this unique, "open" format, anyone can qualify for this prestigious event through a series of qualifiers which are currently underway around the U.S. Event dates and results can be found at AmericanRodeo.com.

also applauded the ground crew at Stephenville. "The ground there at Stephenville was probably the best I've ever seen it. I don't think I saw a single slip the whole time I was there!"

In two weeks, Montgomery will escape the escalating Texas heat for the Colorado Classic Futurity in Colorado Springs. Other than that, it's a lot of riding 2019 hopefuls until the Glen Wood Memorial Futurity at the end of August in Salina, Utah.

Sherry Cervi Youth Champions Crowned

By Hope Raley

Ceres, California is where the next generation of World Champions played this weekend, and the competition was hotter than a pepper sprout! Diamond Bar Arena hosted the Sherry Cervi Youth Championships, an event that is held annually in California, Arizona and Minnesota. Cervi hosts the youth race for young barrel racers, where good sportsmanship is mandatory, and each contestant is individually recognized by Cervi herself. The other two races were held January 19-21 in Marana, Arizona and May 11-13 in Verndale, Minnesota.

With two age divisions, Junior 12 and under and Senior 13-18, the 3-day event is non-stop fun for contestants and family. This year, 12 Stingray saddles by Martin Saddlery were given, as well as a plethora of incredible prizes. $4,000 was added to the 6D format, with two go-rounds and an average.

Ladner Crowned Junior Champion

11-year-old Bailey Ladner from Klamath Falls, Oregon was crowned the Junior 12 and under Champion after making two smokin' runs on horse Star Of Somebodys, 15-year-old gelding by Somebody Smart and out of Meas Starlight by Grays Starlight. Star Of Somebodys "Bud" was originally Ladner's mom's cutting horse, but a ranch rodeo in Winnemucca changed "Bud's" career path.

"We went to a ranch rodeo and my mom was selected to run barrels," explained Ladner. "Bud didn't know how to run barrels, so my mom worked on getting him patterned. The rest is history! She eventually got a new horse and Bud was given to me!" Ladner has been running "Bud" for the last three years and describes the sorrel gelding as a turning machine!

"If I stop kicking too early, I will hit a barrel. He hunts a barrel and will get in the ground and turn as soon as you give him the signal!"

In the first round of the Cervi Championships, Ladner stopped the clock with a 17.684, which was on a full regulation set, for second in the round behind Gracie Garthwaite who posted a 17.673.

"The ground was deep and sandy, and Bud really excels on that type of ground," Ladner explained. "I was really tickled with how he worked."

Not to be outdone by his time in round 1, "Bud" wanted to save his time to shine for round 2. Spinning the tops off all three cans, Ladner and "Bud" left the arena in smoke when they posted a 17.422, the second fastest run of the weekend. Outrunning the rest of the junior field by over 2-tenths of a second, Ladner secured the average with her 35.106 combined time on two runs.

"This is the biggest win that I have had so far in my barrel racing career and I cannot wait to go back!"

Victory for Doran

Lindzey Doran and Richard Carl claimed the Senior Championship at the Cervi Championship with their total time on two runs of 34.974. Richard Carl is by Royal Quick Dash and out of Chase This by Reckless Dash.

17-year-old Doran and 12-year-old "Rocky" only entered each other's lives 5 months ago, after Doran traveled to a friend's in Washington to try a few prospects.

"She told me that Rocky was for sale, but he was super inconsistent and a spook," explained the Carlton, Oregon native.

Not letting that scare her, Doran decided to give the gelding a try.

"He spooked when I first hopped on him, but then he made two really nice runs, so I opted to buy him. I figured that he was probably at rock bottom at this point, so there was nowhere to go but up, and if anything, I could always sell him for what I had in him." Their first three runs together, they received no-times, and Doran started thinking that "Rocky" might be sore.

"He wasn't turning his first barrel and looked off on his right front. After consulting with a few different vets, and several x-rays, we found three abscesses in his right front foot," Doran said.

This past weekend in Ceres was Doran and "Rocky's" 4th and 5th run together as a team.

"He is a different horse. He doesn't hardly spook anymore, and he is so much happier.”

A 17.621 for their time in round 1 placed them third and gave Doran a feel for the horsepower that was underneath her. Coming back in round 2, Doran and “Rocky” shut the clock off with the fastest run of the entire weekend, a 17.352; almost 2-tenths faster than Payton Johnson’s 17.524 which was second in the round in the senior division.

“I couldn’t hardly believe it! To make those kind of runs at such a prestigious event, especially with the bad luck that we have had, was just unforgettable and a win that I will forever cherish,” concluded Doran.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

“In memory of...” We just celebrated Memorial Day and many thoughts were turned to those who served, and are serving this country.

My inheritance, on both sides of my family, were men who served in World War II, Korea and Vietnam. When a person sacrifices like that, we certainly have a deep respect for them. And, interestingly, not one man was lost in our family. That's a praise the Lord for sure.

That inheritance also brings with it a patriotism that is fierce. So, for all those who will not stand for the National Anthem, you have no respect from me. Lots of someone's shed their blood for you. But the greatest respect due for blood shed is our Lord Jesus.

When He died on that cross, He brought a freedom to you and me that, if accepted, keeps us out of hell. It was the greatest sacrifice ever made, and the greatest gift ever given.

Jesus deserves our respect. He deserves our recognition. I love Him for what He did for me. I honor Him. I hope that you do, too.

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor “Church at the Barn” in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717, 307/685-2272.
