Briggs & One First Class Lady Sweep Colorado Classic Open & Stallion Incentive Futurities

By Tanya Randall

Jordan Briggs and her 4-year-old mare One First Class Lady ("Lola") picked up their third and fourth futurity titles of the 2019 season with wins at the Colorado Classic, held June 13-16 in Pueblo. The Chilton, Texas, based duo won the $6,000-added Smoke Creek Quarter Horses Futurity and $21,500-added Stallion Incentive Futurity. Briggs and Lola also placed second in the Slot Race for total earnings of $14,979.

"Kayla (Jones) did a great job with that futurity," said Briggs, a multiple aged event champion and former National Finals Rodeo qualifier. "The futurity was really good. It's well ran. Thank you to the stallion owners for paying them in because it paid phenomenal with a cheap entry fee."

In Pueblo, Briggs and Lola were making just their second run since winning the Better Barrel Races World Finals Futurity in April. They posted a 15.580 in the first round to place fourth in the first round of the open futurity and third in the first round of the stallion incentive. Their next run of 15.346 was second in the open futurity and won the stallion incentive to ended up as winners of

Their 15.346 also got them second in the slot race behind the 15.313 posted by Andre Coehlo and Smoke Creek's Papagaio (Tres Seis x Miss Lucky Lucky x Dash Ta Fame).

"She's kind of a free runner in the bigger pens with no walls," Briggs said. "I kind of had to get a hold of her at the first barrel on both runs and sit down early and check her at the second and third. She just stayed honest."

Bred by Busby Quarter Horses of Brock, Texas, Lola is a daughter of their Equi-Stat Leading Sire Blazin Jetolena out of GL Famous First Lady, a daughter of Dash Ta Fame out of Canadian Champion Barrel Horse Lady Perks, by Dash For Perks.

GL Famous First Lady's full brother Famous Ladies Man also placed at the Colorado Classic with Kassie Mowry. The 4-year-old Busby-bred gelding was fourth in the Open Futurity, third in the Stallion Incentive and third in the Slot Race for $8,784.

Briggs had purchased Lola in the spring of her third year from fellow trainer Jolene Montgomery. Pregnant at the time, Briggs turned the filly over to her husband Justin while she awaited the

Champion crowned at 71st CNFR in front of capacity crowd

The 71st annual College National Finals Rodeo (CNFR) crowned 2019 individual, all-around and team champions during the final round of competition Saturday at the Casper Events Center.

In the nine individual events and in the all-around, those ranked first when the night began were expected to take home the national championships. However, in rodeo anything can happen and in some cases the winners came from behind to earn their titles.

Panola College, a two-year community college in Carthage, Texas, won the men's team championship with another Texas school, Hill College, finishing second.

McNeese State University in Lake Charles, Louisiana, took the women's team championship for the second year in a row. Mia Manzanara won the 2018 title single-handedly, but this year the team not only got points from the goat tying and all-around champ, but from other team members. Reserve champion women's team was the College of Southern Idaho.

College Champions Headed to Days of '47

The National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association (NIRA) just wrapped up their finals in Casper, Wyo., and now their champions are bound for Utah to compete for a share of over $1 million at the Komatsu Equipment Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo presented by Zions Bank in Salt Lake City, July 19-24.

The champions represent eight different colleges from across the United States. Breakaway roping champion Taylor Munsell will look to add to her trophy collection in Salt Lake City. Munsell, a 2019 graduate of Northwestern Oklahoma State University with a degree in Health and Sports Science, won the College National Finals Rodeo (CNFR) aboard a horse she bought for just $200. The 22-year-old currently leads the WPRA World Standings and was the breakaway reserve champion at RFD-TV's The American in March. She will be among the favorites to take home the first ever ladies breakaway roping gold medal.

Ashtyn Carlson, a 19-year old sophomore at the College of Southern Idaho, captured the barrel racing title at the CNFR earning her a spot in the Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo. Carlson hails from Loma, Colorado, but is hoping the Utah fans will be cheering loud for her when she makes her first run down the alleyway at the Days of '47 Arena.

Another sophomore punched his ticket to Salt Lake City winning the saddle bronc riding. Riggan Smith is from Winterset, Iowa, but competes for Texas' Clarendon College. He is looking forward to showing off his talents in Utah in July. Two college juniors were added to the Salt Lake list also. Chance Ames of Big Piney, Wyo., and a junior at Sheridan College will compete in the bareback riding while Tarleton State University (Stephenville, Texas) Haven Meged from Miles City, Mont., will compete in the tie-down roping.

A pair of seniors from Southeastern Oklahoma State University, Dalton Titsworth and Kolton White, won the team roping title at the CNFR to advance to the Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo.

Bull rider Daylon Swearingen is quickly making a name for himself in rodeo. The Panola Junior College freshman from Pifford, N.Y., took home the college title and will be looking to take home the gold medal in July. Swearingen is currently ranked 23rd in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) standings and 19th in the Professional Bull Riders (PBR) standings.

Taking top honors in the steer wrestling in Casper was Bridger Anderson who just finished his sophomore year at Northwestern Oklahoma State University. Anderson of Carrington, N.D., had already earned his spot at the Days of '47 Cowboy Games and Rodeo after finishing third at last year's event. Therefore, Tyler West a student at Southwest Texas Junior College will get a shot to compete for his share of over $1 million during the July event.

A total of 288 competitors will have the opportunity to compete during the five day event in July. The rodeo will feature 32 competitors in each event (bareback riding, steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, barrel racing, women's breakaway roping and bull riding) with eight competitors per performance starting on Friday, July 19. The top two from each performance, along with two via the Wild Card category, will advance to the Gold Medal Round on July 24 where ten competitors in each event will compete in a sudden-death format with the winner collecting a Gold Medal and $50,000 cash.

There are a few qualification spots still available for contestants to earn their spot—either via the Days of '47 Qualification events or the WCRA path. Bull riders will also have opportunity via the PBR as noted below.

The Days of '47 qualification routes still available:

- 2019 Priefert Patriot Days of '47 Challenge *timed event only
- The WCRA remaining qualifications will consist of the following:
 - Top 20 (12 in bull riding and 28 in the breakaway roping) in WCRA Virtual Qualifier points as of July 8, 2019

For only the fifth time in the history of rodeo, riders will have an opportunity to compete for Gold, Silver or Bronze Medals. The first two times were in conjunction with the Olympic Winter Games in Calgary (1988) and Salt Lake City (2002), when rodeo was part of the Cultural Olympiad and the other two times being the Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo in 2017 and 2018. The medals that will be awarded at the Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo will be produced by OC Tanner, the same company that made the Olympic medals for the champions of the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

Tickets are currently on sale at smithstix.com. For more information on the event visit www.daysof47cowboygames.com.

The Komatsu Equipment Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo will broadcast exclusively on PBR's RidePass via RidePass.com or the RidePass mobile app.

birth of their daughter Bexley. She was able to finish the mare out in the fall and have her ready for the early January futurities this year.

Lola, who also previously won the Kinder Cup, hasn't had the most crowded of futurity schedules. Briggs is also hauling a 5-year-old colt, Famous Lil Jet, another Dash Ta Fame, Blazin Jetolena bred from the Busby program, so she's mainly attended events that are open to both horses. That schedule is not likely to change anytime soon. Briggs said about the only two futurities that she's definitely looking at now are the Utah futurities in August.

"It seems like they're all over the place now," she said. "I'm not sure what we're going to do besides Utah, because that one has the best money added, the $40,000 and the Pink Buckle sidepot."

Ashtyn Carlson & RGR Golden Oak Top College National Finals Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Ashtyn Carlson of Loma, Colorado, left the 2018 College National Finals Rodeo thinking her gelding RGR Golden Oak (“Stick”) didn’t really care for the small confines of the Casper Events Center in Wyoming. After all, the best he could do on the short course was a 14.6.

At the 2019 CNFR, Carlson and Stick were on fire.

“He just blew me out of the water,” Carlson said of Stick’s 2019 performance. “I didn’t think I had a chance to win this and then he did! He was feeling great!”

They were never worse than third in each of the rounds, placing third in the first, second in the second and third in the third round to lead the average into the short go. Running last on the ground, they finished second behind the fastest time of the week to win the National Championship.

Stick, a race winner in four outs on the track, is more of a big pen horse, according to Carlson.

“He takes such big strides,” she said. “He doesn’t really make up his time in the turns either. He’s known for blowing off his barrels. I’ve won rodeos where he’s blown off all three barrels, but that’s hard in a really small pen, especially at a Finals where everyone is tough to beat.”

Carlson’s family purchased Stick as a 3-year-old. Bred by Dan and Patricia Baker, the 2007 gelding is by AQHA Racing World Champion and Racing World Champion Sire Oak Tree Special out of Hugo Gold, by Hugo Streakin.

“My mom did all the training. She gets all the credit. I just seasoned him.

Stick was just 5 or 6 when Carlson started running him.

“I took him to the high school rodeos as a sophomore. That’s when he won his very first race ever. That was in the spring semester. I totally remember the run. Ever since he won that race, he’s been climbing up and up and up.”

Carlson said that Sticks never had a perfect run, but that’s what keeps it interesting for them.

“He’s never had a perfect run—ever!” she said. “The short go was the closest to perfect that he’s ever had. I think that’s what makes it fun. It’s not like one of those horses that is always the same and can never improve. It keeps me interested.”

Carlson is the first rodeo competitor in her family. Her mother Lori Allen had always had horses and competed in gymkhana before getting Carlson started. After Lori married Jimmy Allen they were introduced to rodeo. Carlson said that Jimmy started teaching her to rope and tie goats and Lori took on the challenge of training Stick for barrels.

“He was the first horse that she ever trained,” said Carlson. “It took us a lot of time. That horse didn’t win his first race until he was 6 or 7. When he was 5, my mom really wanted to sell him. He was listed for $5,000 and nobody would buy him. We’re pretty glad we held on to him.”

Carlson wanted to thank her family—mom and stepdad and her father Corey Carlson and her stepmom Shelly, for all their help and support.

Having finished her general studies at the College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls, Carlson is looking to major in biology at a university this fall.

THE RUNDOWN w/Ashtyn Carlson

RGR Golden Oak, “Stick” 15.3-16 hands, 1,200-1,300 lbs.
BIT: Lifter “He’s pretty tough-mouthed coming off the track. It’s just something to make him think I have a control, but if you watch our runs I really don’t!” Carlson laughed.
SADDLE: Double J
SADDLE PAD: CSI
LEG GEAR: Dynamic Edge
SHOEING: Regular steel shoes
FEED: Whole oats and sweet feed
HAY: Out on pasture, grass hay and a little alfalfa
SUPPLEMENTS: Omeprazole & minerals. MVP 6-Way
ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Back On Track for hauling and few hours pre-race
CONDITIONING-TRAINING REGIMEN: “Honestly, I don’t do too much. I don’t want him burned out on barrels so he never sees the pattern. If I do need to work on something it’s usually on a four-barrel pattern. Other than that, I’ll just take him on a trail ride or jog him in the field—anything but barrels.”
SPONSORS: Rodeo Buddy, Heart For Horses Incorporated

“I honestly wanted to take a year off from school, and then I won Nationals. I got all these scholarships, so I can’t really take a year off now.”

Carlson isn’t sure where she’ll go to school in the fall. She’s currently visiting with several different university coaches this week.

In the meanwhile, Carlson will spend the rest of summer retraining racehorses for Scott Giltner—whom she credits for suggesting a feed change that helped Stick up his game—for the barrels.

Duffie & Eysa Topaz Win All American Youth

Eight thousandths of a second separated the top three at the All American Youth Barrel Race Finals. It was Michael Duffie from South Carolina on Eysa Topaz with the fastest run of 14.020 to win the 1D finals and earn the big check of $8,000. "It felt really fast," Duffie said of his winning run. What's extra impressive is that it was only his third time ever riding the 7-year-old gray mare. "I had tough luck at the beginning of the week. I hit a barrel on Topaz the first round and the next round I came back and didn't have the best run ever so I didn't have a lot of confidence going into the final run because it was just my third time running her so I wasn't quite sure what to expect. But I was going to give it my all," Duffie said. And he knew that Topaz would do the same. "She's really consistent. She loves what she does – she loves it. She tries to go in there every time and please you. She's going to give it her all no matter what." The 17-year-old, who holds three arena records on three different horses, elaborated on what a special horse Topaz is by saying, "She is definitely a one-of-a-kind horse. There aren't many horses like Topaz. She's different from any horses I've ever rode, in a really good way." He continued, "Her style is very unique and very different from any other horse. When she gets to a barrel it's like you're there and then you're leaving before you even know it. She wastes no time turning. She's in and out really fast. And she makes up a lot of time running in between the barrels."

Duffie is no stranger to jump riding barrel horses and his strategy obviously works. "The way I've always been a jump rider is whatever they tell me to do, I do." He remembers 2015 as his best year. It was also his first year of barrel racing, although he's always ridden horses. "I got started because of my mom and Lenell Dean – he taught me the basics on just a roping horse." Duffie then started riding with Mike and Janelle Green from the Southern Rose Ranch. "Mike has been my main supporter. He's the one that put me on Reclaim Fame, the horse I won Youth World on. They've been a big part of my success – they've been a big help," he said.

Reclaim Fame was also the horse Duffie rode to the reserve championship at the All American Youth Barrel Race in 2015, and he placed third in the first go on that horse this year. He actually ran four horses at this year's event including JJ Three Famous Bars, who placed fourth in round two. Held every June in Jackson, Mississippi for youth ages 19 and younger, the All American Youth Barrel Race is the second biggest barrel race in entries and payout. All totaled, Duffie won about $11,000, and he achieved a big goal. "That show is one of the coolest shows to me because of all the awards they give out – the saddle, buckle, the big paycheck. That's one thing I've been chasing after – I've been trying so hard to win that check. It means a lot. It means the world," he said sincerely.

Duffie's size is also an advantage when it comes to being a barrel racing jockey. "I've always been the smallest in my grade and always the shortest," he said. Among his many accomplishments are qualifying for The American Semi Finals two years in a row on both of his horses. As he continues to pursue his goals with barrel racing, he wants to start training horses and helping the younger riders, "That's one of the things I love doing - I love helping people as much as I can, especially with their horses." He also plans to attend farrier school after he graduates high school next year.

For now, Duffie gets to celebrate winning the All American Youth Barrel Racing on a horse he's watched and admired, thanks to her owners, Dwayne and Anita Randle with Praise Performance Horses from Georgia. They bought Topaz in 2014 from the 6666 Ranch sale. "I broke her and we ran her as a 4-year-old," Anita Randle said. "Topaz has become outstanding. Once she started running, she just has never stopped or looked back." The naturally talented mare is bred to do what she does. She is by Eysa Special and out the Paddys Irish Whiskey mare, Paddys Topaz. "She is truly a blessing and a gift," Randle said about Topaz, who took her to The American this year. "God gives us these gifts. Blessings and gifts don't mean anything if they're not shared." Because of that belief, Randle has allowed others to compete on Topaz. "It doesn't matter to Topaz who's on her back, she's going to run that same race and do the best that she can possibly do every time," she said. "Topaz has become a platform for Christ. She's a pretty gray horse, and she's really cool. She loves what she does so she draws attention that way too." Randle continued, "My prayers everyday are, Lord please help me live out Your will and do Your work for You."

Randle admits that after the first round at the All American Youth Barrel Race, she talked on the phone with her husband and they questioned if maybe they should've let Duffie ride Topaz before competing in Jackson. "But after it all played itself out, [the first two rounds] had just helped create drama and attention," she said. "It has to be a divine hand - there's no other way around it because God put this together and wrote this story and He played it exactly the way it should've been for it to unfold the way that it did." Randle knows that her 7-year-old mare has a bright future ahead, including being the mount for a young girl at Youth World coming up, but she believes Topaz is serving an even bigger purpose. "For me what happens in the arena is second to what happens with this platform for Christ," she said.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

At a barrel race recently, my open horse stumbled on third and jerked my rein out of my hand...both go's. Sigh. The only person I have ever heard of riding without reins and winning is Charmayne. I am not Charmayne. As the barrel race went on, I observed a few horses here and there slipping and stumbling.

Now, in your experience, what usually happens? Right. Everyone starts blaming the ground! In reality, EVERYONE is running on that ground and SOMEONE will win! Why not you? Lack of preparation. The explanation is simple but sometimes the execution is not. I'll be working on that.

Did you know that your heart is considered ground? Yep. Please read Mark 4:13-20. There are four kinds of ground, or hearts, listed there and Jesus goes on to explain that each heart will receive seed. Wayside ground won't produce anything. In stony ground, the seed springs up but there's no root and it'll dry up. Seeds sown in thorny ground get choked out. Ah, but seed sown in good ground produces good stuff.

The Word of God is the seed! So how about this week, we receive the Word of God in our heart, accept it, obey it and enjoy the kind of harvest in our lives that even barrel racing can't match!
