$37,312 Victory For Perry Winkle Blue & Kelley Drake Breeders Elite in Canada

By Tanya Randall

Perry Winkle Blue and Kelley Drake turned in the fastest time of the Futurity Sweepstakes at the $291,970 Breeders Elite Incentive, held Aug 2-4 in Rimbey, Alberta. Perry, a 5-year-old mare, bred, raised and owned by Colin and Mary Balan, earned $37,312 for their one-run victory.

“She’s just an outstanding mare,” said Drake, who trains horses along with her team roper husband Jonathan in Ramona, Alberta. “As a 4-year-old, Colin had decided that he would let me take her and futurity her this year. She’s just been super trainable, but she’s one of those that we do something with her every day to keep her busy. She’s super smart. She’s so athletic and wants to work, so we always try to find her a job, not just in the barrel pen. She’s an all-around horse.”

Making the win extra special was having Colin Balan play a key role at the event.

“She doesn’t generally like that arena,” Drake explained. “She gets a little more nervous in that pen for some reason. I could feel her get a little antsy before her run on Sunday. Colin happened to be sitting there on his futurity horse. I asked him if he wouldn’t mind walking her in because I thought she needed another horse to keep her calm. I think that’s exactly what she needed. She walked right into that arena and was calm. She was ready. There were no nerves at all.”

Their 14.803 gave them the victory over Yellow Rose Futurity Champions CD Gold Mate and Chelsea Moore and Royal Crown Canada Futurity Champions Blazin Sugar Daddy and Taylor Cherry. “She had an absolutely fantastic first barrel,” Drake recalled of her run. “I couldn’t have asked for a better first barrel. I knew right then that she was on. I thought, ‘Oh gosh! Don’t screw up!’ From then on I just held on and let her do her job and show everyone what she was capable of!”

The victory helped the Balans earn High Point Breeders for the event. The couple from Bonnyville, Alberta, has been raising horses for 30 years. They stand five stallions and run a band of about 30 mares.

Perry is one of several successful horses from the pairing of their cutting-bred stallion Blew Em Away and Ima Jessica Perry. Blue Em Away, by NCHA Futurity Champion Royal Fletch, was 1D barrel horse, futurity finalist and money-earning rope horse.

“For a straight cow-bred horse, he had no shortage of run,” said Colin Balan. “Neither do a lot of his offspring.”

Perry’s dam Ima Jessica Perry is by noted Canadian barrel horse sire Crimson Jess.

“She never had much of a performance record herself,” said Balan. “Perry Winkle has two full siblings. One is a heel horse that’s won over $60,000. She has another full sister that’s won a pile of big 1D barrel races here in Alberta. There’s another that’s doing really well as a steer wrestling horse. It’s been a very good cross. They’ve got some versatility in them. They’ve got a lot of run and are fairly tough and sound.”

Perry was started under saddle by the Balan’s son Carter, who used the filly a lot on the ranch.

“He starts all of our colts and does an outstanding job,” said Balan. “He keeps them happy and confident.”

THE RUNDOWN w/ Kelley Drake

Perry Winkle Blue (“Perry”) 15.2 h, 1,200-1,250 lbs.

BIT: Short shank Elliot three-piece with a ported roller

SADDLE: Randa Nugent Saddle by Cowboy Classic

SADDLE PAD: Professional’s Choice

LEG GEAR: Alliance Equine on all four

SHOEING: Rims on all four

HAY: Alfalfa, timothy and brome

SUPPLEMENTS: Leg Up and Warrior Bomb from Roan & Co.

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Chiropractic care once a month from Murray McGonigle, magnet therapy from Alliance Equine before and after a run.

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: “Her training involves a lot of small circles and keeping her soft. She wants to be stiffer and straighter, so I do a lot of small circles, roll backs, backing up and getting her on her hocks. I do a lot of sprints and bringing her back into my hands to keep her from pushing on the bit.”

SPONSORS: Roan & Co., Zesterra, Alliance Equine

THANKS: Jonathan Drake and their two boys Easton and Edge, Colin and Mary Balan for the opportunity to ride Perry and The Breeders Elite Incentive for doing such a fantastic job with their event—“Their hard work does not go unnoticed. They go above and beyond for all of us competitors. I will always be grateful for them and that event. It’s becoming one of Canada’s best.”

The Balans used Perry on their ranch and team roped on her. "I had her lightly started because I didn't want to get in Kelley's way," he said. "Kelley did most of the barrel work. We just had her very broke just from doing a bunch of ranch work and what not. She's the kind of mare that does well with a lot of variety. Kelley and her husband have continued to do that and rope on her from time to time to give her something else to think about."

The Drakes had purchased a few horses from the Balans over the years. It was through the purchase of another horse that she got to ride Perry as futurity horse.

"They have such a good program," she said. "We love every horse that we get from them. They're so versatile and trainable."

A $10,655 Weekend for Paige Jones & Famous Hayday, Win Dodge City Roundup

By Tanya Randall

Strategy plays a bigger role in pro rodeo than the average fan realizes. For Paige Jones, her first National Finals Rodeo qualification in 2023 came from capitalizing at specific events that suited her main horse Famous Hayday (“Bazinga”). She’s hopeful that same strategy works again in 2024.

“I always feel like I end up on the bubble this time of year,” said Jones. “It either works out or it doesn’t. It’s hard because I only have one horse, so I really try to save him. I don’t go to as many rodeos, so I don’t have as much money earlier in the year.”

Jones picked up $10,655 over the weekend to remain in the WPRA’s Top 15 with $75,886 won the season. She and Bazinga won $8,369 at the $23,500-added Dodge City Roundup in Kansas and $2,285 for sixth at the $17,000-added Douglas County Fair & Rodeo in Castle Rock, Colorado.

“Right now I’m just trying to capitalize on the ones that I’ve gone to,” said the Wayne, Oklahoma, barrel racer. “I’m just running Bazinga unless I’m absolutely sure he wouldn’t like it.”

Her great horse High Cotton Lane, who contributed greatly to her 2020 Rookie of the Year title, has been injured off and on through his career and is still on the mend. She’s hoping to have him back in October. Although she does have a young horse that she is trying to build timing with, her NFR hopes are all on Bazinga, the 12-year-old Youree-Ward bred gelding by multiple WPRA World Champion Sire PC Frenchmans Hayday out of Jaxsons Olympic Fame, by Poco Lijerito.

“I think I’ve been to 27 rodeos this year and five of those weren’t even Bazinga,” Jones explained. “I’m just trying to capitalize at the rodeos I know (Bazinga) is going to love, instead of wasting runs when there’s a small chance of him really liking an arena.”

Jones had originally planned on running at Phillipsburg and Abilene, Kansas, but drew out due to weather.

“I didn’t even know how much I was going to get to compete this week,” she said. “I drove to Phillipsburg, and an hour and half before I showed up, a storm hit. I pulled in, walked straight up to the arena, and then turned around and pulled straight out of the driveway! My mom lives there at the lake and there’s a place where I build pens, so I just went there because I heard Abilene got hit pretty hard too. I waited for an update the next day and ended up drawing out of that one too, because there was no chance (to win money) and I didn’t want to hurt my horse.”

Jones’ first run of the week was at Castle Rock where she was first out in Friday’s performance. That left her with a solo all-night drive to Dodge City for her set on Saturday.

“It was supposed to be five and a half hours, but I hit a rain storm,” she said. “I got out of Castle Rock at like 10 and it said I was supposed to arrive at 4. I hit a rain storm for three hours, so I showed up at 6:45 in the morning and it started at 8.”

At Dodge City, each morning a group of contestants make their first round run in slack with the top 10 fastest getting their second round run in that night’s performance. The remaining get their second run later during slack.

Jones and Bazinga jumped out with a winning 17.44 to close out the first round. Another consistent run that night of 17.45 left them tied for seventh in the second round. They were able to capitalize on top of the ground in the short go on Saturday with their fastest run of 17.25 to edge Emily Beisel and Teasin Dat Guy by 1/10th for the aggregate victory.

“I’ve never been, but I always thought Bazinga would love it,” said Jones.

Hailey Kinsel & DM Sissy Hayday Set New Arena Record at Mountain Valley Stampede

By Tanya Randall

Four-time WPRA World Champions Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday (“Sis”) set a new arena record with 16.59 on a WPRA Standard Pattern at the $20,000-added Magic Valley Stampede, held August 1-3 at the Wasatch County Events Complex in Heber City, Utah.

The dynamic duo was sixth in the order of go in the rodeo’s first performance, but first after the drag at halfway. The victory was worth $7,747.

“They brought the truck in (with the barrels) and then they came in with three tractors with expert tractor drivers,” said Kinsel. Those expert drivers were Ethan O’Driscoll, Chancy Cooper and Porter Jefferson aided by Demp Giles, who was in charge of the water truck and ground moisture with supervision from Mike McKee, grounds superintendent and event complex director John Provost. “They worked the whole arena, not just the barrels,” Kinsel continued. “I had what I thought was an advantageous draw because I was after the track, because a lot of rodeos don’t drag at the beginning and only at halfway, sometimes that’s a gamechanger. Here you didn’t have to worry about it. Everyone had a good shot.

“When I was getting ready, I rode up in the alley and the went back to the side because I thought they were just going to make a circle and fill in the tracks, but no, they made a full barrel race drag. The clown kept the crowd entertained and the music guy talked, it didn’t take all that much longer and they had it pristine by the time I ran. They made a huge above and beyond effort. I was surprised at the clock, but I also wasn’t because of how much they were trying.”

The night before Kinsel and Sister ran a 16.75 in slack at The Famous Preston Night Rodeo in Idaho.

“Andrea (Busby) won it out of their first perf, which was good because a lot of times the first performance is not the draw (to win out of),” added Kinsel. “I wasn’t sure that the first performance at Heber was ‘the’ draw because normally things get faster as you go. For them to have it ready for you to rock and roll in a slack before a rodeo starts, like Preston, then the first perf there, and the first perf at Heber, that’s a big deal for both of those rodeos.”

Kinsel, who currently sits second in the WPRA World Standings with $150,360 after winning $14,543 last weekend, said the standard for good ground is just higher in the Wilderness Circuit rodeos.

“I don’t know how exactly it started, but I know from the time I started going out there for Spanish Fork (Utah), they were running 16s on a Standard just to place,” she said. “That was probably 2015, 2016. They were trying. When rodeos like that are trying, it’s like they raise each other up. Iron sharpens iron. I feel like that’s what happens out there. To the circuit director’s credit, I think she raises the bar.

“They do take a lot of pride in their events—being able to win from the top or bottom of the ground, from first perf to last, from slack on. They’re just trying to give us all a shot.”

While hiring experts is always welcome, Kinsel said it just takes someone who is willing to learn the ground and their implements.

“For there to be great ground,” she said, “committees have to be willing to hire the best, like a Randy Spraggins, or have someone that’s volunteering trying their best and willing to work to make it better, like Ricky Solida, who has made himself an expert on the ground at Phillipsburg (Kansas).”

Kinsel chose to run BCK Sypder Monkey at Phillipsburg this year.

“I had just made the drive from Heber, and I didn’t want to do that to Sis,” she said. “That’s a phenomenal rodeo and the ground is great. I thought it would be a great place to run Sypder and she placed.”

Sis, who also picked up $2,406 at Dodge City, Kansas, will have one more run at the $25,000-added Lea County Fair & Rodeo in Lovington, New Mexico, before her late summer break.

“She’s done good enough for me that she gets to stay home,” Kinsel said of her 13-year-old earner of nearly $3 million.

Instead, she’s taking TR Judges Doll (“Reese”) back to the Northwest.

“I left her at home the first six weeks of summer,” she explained. “I’m planning on her for the Northwest. They (Reese and Sister) like the same setups—the bigger, wide open pens—and I figured I was going to run Sis all summer. As long as she was good, I was going to show up on her. I figured why haul Reese around and not make any runs and get to the Northwest with a tired horse. I feel like that happened to her last year. She started out really good in the Northwest but got sore on me. I hauled her around all of June and July for nothing. So, I decided to do it a little different this year.”

Hats Off To Heber

By and large the Wilderness Circuit has a reputation for some of the fastest ground on the rodeo circuit.

Julie Herman, the Wilderness Circuit director for more than a decade, said passion for the sport and great partnerships have created the culture for great footing.

“It’s not one thing in particular,” she said. “It’s a lot of little things that make a big difference.”

Most of the facilities have Black Widow drags that were created by Utah’s own Neil Merrill, husband of NFR qualifier and barrel horse trainer Barbara Merrill. His proximity made for a better understanding for how to use the implement.

Many of the tractor drivers and grounds crew have familial ties to either the horse community through barrel racing or horse racing so they understand both safe and fair footing. A lot of have backgrounds in farming so they understand the region’s soil and its moisture content.

The rodeos, too, want the bragging rights for the fastest runs on WPRA Standard.

“There’s just a lot of passion from people, and it’s a good thing,” said Herman. “I always try to text them the next morning or send them a thank you note — ‘Thanks for your dedication. Thanks for having that passion.’ It makes a huge difference. We’re blessed with a bunch of good guys.”

At Mountain Valley Stampede, John Provost, the event complex director for the Wasatch County Event Complex, said they got an early start.

“We were able to put a lot of good works on the ground,” he said. “Sometimes our snow gets in the way or other events we have coming in. We were able to spend a lot of time to make sure that it was good as it could be.

“The ground ended up really good this year. We didn’t really do anything different than we normally do. We just had some great results with the people who came to run.”

The Mountain Valley Stampede increased its added money by $10,000 per event, giving contestants $20,000 added per event, which in turn drew a lot of top barrel racers.

“We have learned through the years that when you’re preparing for a professional rodeo you prepare a little bit differently just because of the caliber of horses and riders,” said Provost, who noted that safety, not speed, is the No. 1 concern. “We’re able to hone that in a little bit more and help them out with a little faster track.” He said their equipment is also another factor.

“We run three tractors on the ground,” said Provost. “One of the things that we attribute our success to is our equipment. We use Black Widow (drags) and a little heavier tractor than most places. It makes a lot of difference. You can get the job done with a little tractor, but you have ridges. We use some really amazing equipment so we can get by some of that.”

Provost also commended his crew: Mike McKee, Demp Giles, Ethan Odriscoll, Chancy Cooper and Porter Jefferson.

“It’s just something that we work very hard at, making sure our ground is as good as it can be,” he added. “Our ground is a little different from other parts of the country, so we have to do our own thing. Just the knowledge we’ve gained through the years—the moisture, type of equipment that we use, a lot of different things. Our grounds people are top notch. They’re very cognizant of what’s going on.”

2025 Graded Races Announced by Barrel Racing Industry Alliance

Introduced in 2023, the system ranks qualifying barrel races by Grade 1, Grade 2 and Grade 3 with Grade 1 being the highest.

The Barrel Racing Industry Alliance has released the comprehensive list of graded barrel races for 2025. This system, introduced in 2023, mirrors the graded stakes model used in the racing industry and aims to recognize the highest levels of competition in barrel racing.

Qualifying barrel races are ranked by Grade 1, Grade 2 and Grade 3, with Grade 1 being the highest grade. Races receiving grades for 2025 were evaluated by BRIA according to total entry numbers, payouts and quality of competition.

Race grades are designated with a single number of 1, 2 or 3. Races that have specific entry criteria, such as pedigree, state-bred, sale participation requirements or other criteria, are denoted with an "R" in front of the grade to designate those races as restricted.

Beginning in 2025, rodeos will be graded based on payout and quality of competition. This approach acknowledges the high level of competition at many rodeos, even though they may have limited entry numbers.

Grades will appear on AQHA's QData Database Online Reports as races are entered into the database. The wins and finalist placings of horses in graded barrel races will then appear on catalog pages produced by the QData Catalog Builder and on the QData Online Data Reports. Barrel race grades, as well as the official black type status of each horse, are noted on the QData Online Reports.

The graded races coincide with the barrel racing black type system and are designed to help breeders, owners and buyers more accurately evaluate the quality of a horse, sire and dam.

A complete list of graded races for 2025 is available now at barrelracingalliance.com.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I heard a statement the other day that made me consider my attitude. It was, "Every challenge we face is an opportunity to show my trust in God." When I have a challenge, I want help and I want it right now! I don't want an opportunity, I want deliverance! LOL! Okay.

To date, you and I have survived the worst day of our life. How? By the grace of God. Looking back, I can see that God helped me through every trial. I didn't like it while I was GOING THROUGH it, but I'm not still there.

Psalms 23:4 says that we walk through the valley. We don't pitch a tent there. We go through! And while passing through, we fear no evil and God comforts us in the trip. These are difficult times. Times like I've never seen before. And, as usual, God has the answer.

2 Chron. 20:15 in part says, "Do not be afraid or dismayed. . . .for the battle is not yours, but God's."

Thank you Lord!
