Nothing But Blue Skies For Ashley Castleberry and Skyy Blue at Puyallup Cinch Playoffs

By Tanya Randall

Although she won't take that deep sigh of relief until the season's conclusion on September 30, Ashley Castleberry is starting to realize that her first National Finals Rodeo qualification is indeed a reality.

"It's so awesome," said the Montgomery, Texas, barrel racer. "I feel like it's finally setting in that we'll be in Vegas this year."

With a $13,863 championship at the $73,000 Cinch Playoffs in Puyallup, Washington, this past weekend aboard her speedy 11-year-old gelding Skyy Blue, Castleberry has set her sights on a new goal.

"As the weeks have gone on it has become apparent to me that we could win a gold buckle this year," she said. "I feel like we're going in so strong, and we have a really good place to start. I feel like he's going to like the Thomas & Mack. I'm way excited."

A pivotal rodeo for NFR qualifications, the Cinch Playoff in Puyallup was open to the top 23 finishers in the Pro Rodeo Tour points plus the winner of the NFR Open, which was Jessica Routier. Not only did the rodeo pay well, but it was also a necessary stop to be eligible to compete at the Cinch Playoffs Governor's Cup in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, with its $144,444 purse for the barrel racers on the last weekend of the season.

Castleberry was out in the first set of barrel racers that competed on Thursday and Friday night.

"He made two great runs," she said. "Two clean runs was the biggest thing really. He clocked great both runs."

She was fourth in the first round with a 14.33 and was just out of the money in the second with a 14.42. Her two-run aggregate was fourth best and last qualifying spot to advance to Sunday's semifinal round.

Unfortunately for the second set of competitors, the ground was overly damp and packed for the matinee performance, however, by the evening performance it had improved.

"They worked really hard to get fixed," noted Castleberry. "I knew I could really send him in there Sunday because that ground was going to be fixed."

Castleberry and Skyy were again the fourth and final qualifier from the field of eight in the semifinals with a 14.52. They saved their best run for a last, a 14.21 to win the sudden death finals by 3/10ths.

That meticulous final run was the culmination of bringing the deliriously fast gelding back within Castleberry's hands.

"The weekend before we were running at Ellensburg," she said. "He just felt so bad at Ellensburg. He was brace-y. He was strong, running through the bridle and hitting barrels. We just had a really bad week last week, honestly."

"After the finals at Ellensburg, I gave him three days off and got him feeling better. I worked in the arena at Puyallup, every day. I think that helped him a lot. He can get to running so strong and get ahead of me."

"For the start of Puyallup, he felt better, but wasn't Skyy. But that run Sunday...that felt like Skyy. That was pin point perfect."

Castleberry's journey to the NFR started in 2018 when she first hit the pro rodeo road. She's been in the Top 25 numerous times,

In 2022, Castleberry's run for the NFR was derailed by a tragic truck and trailer accident that took the life of her backup horse and nearly ended the career of her main mount at the time Calfee Stormy Dash.

for her when he placed Skyy Blue in her life that October. The 2013 gelding, by Stoli out of Sweetin My Dreams, by Runaway Rebel, was trained by Debi Davis and came to Castleberry through word-of-mouth from mutual friends.

Although Skyy had no rodeo experience, the gelding quickly claimed the No. 1 spot in Castleberry's trailer.

"I thank God every day for placing him with me," she said. "Thank you for choosing me to be his person. He's a blessing."

She also reevaluated her plans. Skyy's first year on the road, she stayed with the Texas Circuit and the pair ultimately won the Circuit Finals Rodeo last October. In 2024, she planned to switch to the Wilderness Circuit since she spent most of her summers out West and it eliminated the need to enter the smaller Texas rodeos to achieve her rodeo count to be eligible to compete at the circuit finals.

Castleberry currently leads the Wilderness Circuit Standings by nearly $10,000 and sits fifth in the WPRA World Standings with $139,485.

GOVERNOR'S CUP

The Cinch Playoff Tour will end the 2024 rodeo season with The Governor's Cup in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, September 26-28. With a $144,444 barrel racing purse, the Governor's Cup potentially will make or break someone's NFR berth.

Ashley Castleberry, Halyn Lide, Chelsea Moore and Shelley Morgan have automatic advancement into Sioux Falls based on their final four finish at the Cinch Playoffs in Puyallup, Washington. The remaining eight contestants will come from the final Playoff Tour Standings.

Just three rodeos remain to collect tour points: the West Texas Fair & Rodeo in Abilene, Texas, Pendleton Roundup in Oregon and New Mexico State Fair & Rodeo in Albuquerque. Abilene and Pendleton conclude Saturday, while Albuquerque finishes on Sunday.

Consistency Pays for Vauna Walker and RVFamedFrenchGoodbye at Fizz Bomb Classic

By Tanya Randall

Vauna Walker and RVFamedFrenchGoodbye ("Rodney") made two solid passes through the pattern at the Cam-Plex Events Center in Gillette, Wyoming, to win the 42nd Annual Fizz Bomb Classic Futurity. The victory at the $20,000-added event was worth $7,258.

"I feel like he's really catching a vision for stretching out and running more than he ever did," Walker said of the 4-year-old gelding. "He's really at the point right now where he's picking up, getting more consistent where I can depend on him."

Bred by Walker and her husband Randy, Rodney is by 10.6 million dollar sire The Goodbye Lane out of champion producer Two Fools Gold, by Frenchmans Guy. Rodney is a full brother to Walker's 2018 Pink Buckle Champion French Goodbye.

"We actually don't have a lot of that cross," she said. "I wish we had 10 more of them."

The ones that she has coming are very young: a yearling filly and a 2025 colt.

"The filly is the first that we've had and she's a little more within herself," she said, "but the boys are so interactive, and they want to know what the people are doing. They're very friendly horses."

Rodney, who is quite the character, was started under saddle by Aaron Beukelman.

"He did a great job with him," Walker said. "The colt has a great temperament. We had a couple, three months put on him. We only had him back a little bit when we were taking him out for rides in the desert and he did great. He's a really confident colt."

Walker said Rodney is a little different than others she's ridden from this cross.

"Most of them are really free wheelers," she explained. "This colt was a little different, and it took us a little while longer to figure him out that way. I wouldn't call him a push style horse, but he's just different than the others. You have to encourage him a little and have him a certain way before you start him."

Rodney made his competitive debut at the Busting Out Futurity last November in Utah. He's had a modest futurity season earning finalist honors at Royal Crown Canada, the Valley Girls Barrel Daze Open and Breeders and the Red Rocket. He's drawn checks at the Glen Wood Memorial, Southwest Desert Classic and Run At The Rose.

"He's been a little hit and miss," she said. "He'd pop out and give us some really good runs, and other times, I just haven't been able to get it. It might just be that he's now gaining maturity."

Walker, who has primarily run 4-year-old futurity horses, said recent experiences like the one she's had with Rodney have made her reevaluate the timing of her program.

"Running against 5-year-olds is almost like running against derby horses because they have another whole year of maturity," said Walker, who topped the futurity showcase exhibitions at the Fizz Bomb on JL Red By A Thread, whom she plans to run as at 5. "There's so many 5-year-olds running now. It's really made us reevaluate. Do we want to start holding the colts 'til later?"

"I've always loved running the 4-year-olds, taking care with them not to push them too hard and getting to that spot," she continued. "It's always been a fun game for me."

THE RUNDOWN w/ Vauna Walker

RVFamedFrenchGoodbye “Rodney” 15.2 h, 1,100 lbs.
 BIT: Medium shank Ed Wright Lifter with a three-piece dogbone
 HEADGEAR: Bonnet
 SADDLE: Double J Pozzi — SADDLE PAD: 3S Custom Equine LEG GEAR: Iconoclast on all four — SHOEING: Rims on all four FEED: Purina Ultium. Also fed watered down alfalfa pellets on the road and sometimes at home.
 HAY: Alfalfa hay and a little bit of grass
 SUPPLEMENTS: Gastro Plex
 ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Back On Track products, especially early cold mornings
 TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: I try to get him outside a lot. He’s really eager that way. We have a race again this weekend, and Randy and I got him out and went for a long ride last night for a couple of miles, up and down through some heavier ground. I try to get him out at least once a week. It depends on how stressed he is. If he’s really stressed, I’ll get him out a couple of times. I’ll do some drills, working on barrel position. I’ll keep that brief. I’ve never been much to run my horses at home once they’re trained and going. He’ll get hard runs mostly when he goes to futurities. Other than that I’ll do some strengthening and positioning exercises to keep him sharp.”
 SPONSORS: PhytoSana CBD, 3S Custom Equine, Iconoclast
 THANKS: Her husband Randy, who she said probably doesn’t get near the credit that he should.
 “My husband is great,” she said. “He helps me train. He helps me ride. It’s just a partnership on these horses. He knows a lot. He’s got a lot of in-depth knowledge on these horses.”
 Her family — “I feel like I have so much support from my family to do the things I want to do,” she said.
 Last but not least, her veterinarians: Dr. Jason Moulton in Blackfoot, Idaho, the team at South Valley Equine and Dr. Don Lee of Double X Equine at the shows.

HOMEGROWN WINNERS

Randy and Vauna Walker typically have at least one homegrown futurity horse running each year. Some of their most successful go back to Two Dash Ta Fame (“Gypsy”), a 2003 mare by Dash Ta Fame out of Bedaub Adash, by Beda Cheng. The Walkers purchased Gypsy prior to her futurity year from her trainer Cody Hyde.

“I saw him run time onlies on her at Rock Springs,” Vauna Walker recalled. “He liked her but he wasn’t enamored of her so I asked if I could buy her. I scratched my money together and bought that mare. She was a great futurity horse. She won 9 out of the 14 futurities.”

Hyde had the foresight to breed and flush Gypsy before she started her futurity career. When her Frenchmans Guy hit the ground in 2008, Walker wanted her too, so she did “some horse trading” with Hyde.

“She was a real solid little mare,” Walker said of Two Fools Gold (“Katie”). “My daughter ran her for a while and then my granddaughter ran her for a while. She was really measured but she was kind of a 2D horse. We thought about selling her, but everybody likes her. And she’s a really pretty mare. So we ended up keeping her and bred her to The Goodbye Lane. With that first baby we knew that was the right thing to do, she likes raising babies more than running barrels.”

Katie is also a half-sister to 2020 EquiStat Leading Futurity Horse RV Two Dash Ta Vegas (“Axe”), by French StreakToVegas. Trained and ridden by Walker’s daughter Anita Ellis, Axe has won more than $300,000 and won the pro rodeo in Gem State Classic Pro Rodeo in Blackfoot, Idaho, the same weekend as Walker’s Fizz Bomb victory on RVFamedFrenchGoodbye.

Aint Seen Famous Yet & Dusky Lynn Hall are the Cowboy State Slot Race Champions & Set Arena Record

Over the past few years, a young phenom has taken over in the barrel racing world. 10 year old Dusky Lynn Hall and her trailer full of amazing horses have been running and winning at some of the biggest derbies and open race across the country.

This past weekend at the Fizz Bomb Classic, Hall was Champion with Aint Seen Famous Yet & Reserve Champion with Jets Letters Ta Abby of the Derby along with her third horse, Kd Baby Driver, winning 4th in the Derby Average.

With Aint Seen Famous Yet she won both rounds and the average of the Derby then came back and smoked a run in the Cowboy State Stallion Incentive Slot Race to set an arena record of 14.588.

All told Dusky Lynn Hall and her three horses won an amazing $49,287 just this weekend alone! According to the Halls, Dusky Lynn has now crossed over $800k in career earnings already at just 10 yrs old.

Her horses also have an amazing win record; Aint Seen Famous Yet is at $643,281; Jets Letters Ta Abby is at $224,205; and KD Baby Driver is just getting started at $26,438 (all totals according to QStallions prior to their recent earnings).

With Dusky Lynn Hall sure to be a name every barrel racing fan should be familiar with; we caught up with her to get a little more info about her big win!

BRR: Can you walk us through your arena record winning run in the Cowboy State Slot Race?

Hall: Wally had already won both rounds of the maturity and the average. He was working really nice in this pen. I had never ran there before. I wanted to make one more solid fast run. He took off hard to first and the first barrel was tight, second was tight, third he got a lot of momentum and blew off third and he was flying!!

BRR: Can you walk us through your other two round winning runs in the Fizz Bomb Classic Derby?

Hall: In Round 1 he was 14.9, he won the round, he worked nice. He snapped the first really nice, stumbled little at second and pulled off it a step and third was tight. He usually runs faster each run. In the second round he got little tight going into first but really worked nice and was 14.8. I knew he likes to get faster each round so for my slot race run I went for it! Little did I know it was arena record!

BRR: According to QStallions, Aint Seen Famous Yet has earning of $643,281 before this past weekend. What makes him so special?

Hall: Wally is very honest and fast. He can make mistakes and still clock. I have three arena records on him and counting. Amelia McCumber trained an amazing athlete. He takes good care of me always. He's never been cheaty. He's so smooth and fun to run!!

BRR: What did you do this past couple weeks to have your horse at his best?

Hall: We have been staying with Amelia (McCumber) that trained him since Rock Springs. Wally won second behind my Jets Letters Ta Abby at the Mega Bucks in Rapid City Slot Race. Amelia has helped us tune him and make him sharp. He's very easy and doesn't take a lot of anything. He's so smart!

BRR: How do you mentally prepare for big runs like this weekend prior to entering the arena?

Hall: I mentally prepare by making sure Wally stays calm. I always try to pet him when we walk towards the alleyway I don't want him to get behind the bit. I always make sure he's calm cool and collected when we go towards the alleyway. For me I just stay calm, don't get nervous and have fun!

BRR: How did you get started barrel racing?

Hall: My mom is a barrel racer, her name is Dusky. When I was born I had a pony and I have been riding since before I can remember. I love barrel racing!!

BRR: What are three things (other than truck, trailer, horses and such) that you can't travel without?

Hall: Of course Riley my dog (that's in all my award pics), my family that supports all my dreams and my Segway!

A Family Owned Legacy: LISA, JAKE & LANEY, JARED & JOHN LLOYD FULTON

Leaving A Legacy - $10.1 Million Barrel Horse Sire A Streak Of Fling Passes

By Tanya Randall

A Streak Of Fling, one of the all-time great barrel horse sires, passed away on September 5 following recovery complications from a scheduled surgery. He was 25.

"He's given us a helluva run," said Lisa Fulton, who owned the stallion with her late husband Brian and their three boys Jake, Jared and John Lloyd.

At the time of his death, "Streaker's" offspring had won more than $10.5 million in recorded earnings. Of that total, barrel racing earnings accounted for $10.1 million.

He sired multiple National Finals Rodeo qualifiers in multiple disciplines including Fame Fling N Bling, Streakin Easy April and A Streak Of Rita in the barrel racing and Streakin Sun Dew in the team roping, just to name a few of the headliners. Both Streakin Easy April and Streakin Sun Dew carried two different riders to their NFR appearances.

Streaker also sired 2021 Royal Crown Rock Springs Futurity Champion Dollys StreakNBadger, 2023 WCRA Women's Rodeo World Champion Fast Flingin Dash, 2020 Barrel Futurities of America Champion Flingin Roses, 2023 Colorado Classic Futurity Champion Slingin Firewater and two-time Canadian Finals Rodeo qualifier Queen Flingtima.

"It's not just those big names," noted Lisa. "It's our weekend people that have made our living for us. Our bread and butter are still the weekend warrior team ropers and barrel racers."

The Fultons started their program with plans to raise all-around arena prospects, which they've done successfully, but they never expected Streaker to take off in the barrel racing arena like he did.

"His buddies used to joke with him — 'What do you know about barrel horses?' What they did not take into account was Brian's keen sense of knowing good horses," said Lisa.

When Brian was hauling for the National Finals Rodeo—he was a qualifier in both the calf roping and bull dogging—they'd often detour to look at potential prospects.

"I can't tell you how many times we'd go look at horses, prospects for bulldogging or calf roping," chuckled Fulton. "It's hard to find what you like."

When Brian was down with a knee injury at the end of his rodeo career he told Lisa that he was going to find the stallion to raise the kind of horses that he'd always been searching for.

"Streaker was totally for arena prospects," said Lisa, "but he was thinking more calf roping, bull dogging, team roping—the guy events. That pretty roan stud took off in the eyes of the ladies."

The fancy roan stallion had a barrel racers pedigree top and bottom. Streaker was by two-time WPRA World Champion Sire Streakin Six and out of the stakes winning Fast Fling mare Moon Fling, a half-sister to NFR barrel racing qualifier Jet A Beam.

He made his debut on the track as a 2-year-old and qualified for the Grade 1 Blue Ribbon Futurity. As a 3-year-old, he finished third in the Grade 3 Blue Ribbon Derby. He ran his last race in the spring of his fourth year and sold to Brian that fall. The next spring, Brian was roping calves on him. The picture of Brian and Streaker roping that appeared in his many early ads was one that Lisa took and still treasures today.

Streaker's career as a barrel horse sire took off when Trula Churchill bred her husband's dogging horse Jetta Rita and got A Streak Of Rita. Other great ones followed.

Unfortunately, right as Streaker's breeding career was hitting its stride, Brian's cancer returned. Much to Lisa's regret, Streaker started his tenure as a stallion station resident due to his popularity coupled with Brian's treatment and the demands of raising three boys.

"I'll always think Streaker got cheated in a way," Lisa said. "All those years with Brian being sick, the breeding business was good but probably could have been better. For the five years after Brian passed I was just trying to get my boys through grieving and keep this ranch together. So Streaker didn't quite get the advertising that he deserved; he just floated on what was out there."

Lisa is extremely grateful that Streaker provided a living for her family and helped with the huge financial burden of Brian's illness.

"Streaker paid for so much," she said. "Streaker paid for all the things that insurance didn't cover. I can't tell you all the extra treatments and therapies that Streaker helped pay for. Even at the end, when he needed care 24/7, we were able to keep him here at the ranch. Streaker paid for that. I'm forever grateful that he did."

The hardest part of losing Streaker for the family was it was like losing another connection to Brian.

"It was another part of our journey together that has closed," she said. "I'm very grateful to stand here on this ranch and look at all these roan horses. He's left us with all these wonderful horses and wonderful memories."

"I was telling my boys how not many can have a legacy like Brian's. How many NFR cowboys can say they had a stallion get that big?"

After nearly 14 years away from home, Streaker returned to Fulton Ranch near Mission, South Dakota. He was buried under a cottonwood tree in the broodmare pasture.

Lisa said she doesn't know what the future holds, but Streaker's legacy in the barrel racing industry is well assured.

"Whatever it is, it's been a good ride so far," she said. "We're grateful for every bit of it."

CRAFT BEER BREWING

Brian Wheeler's Penny More than Good Luck

By Julie Mankin

Brian Wheeler of Summit, Mississippi, won the BFA's 49th Annual Indiana Barrel Racing Futurity in Edinburg on Sept. 5-8, despite thinking he should have been third or fourth.

"There were a couple horses hit barrels and a few mess-ups, so luck was on my side, evidently," said the 28-year-old trainer.

Aboard his lucky "Penny" – Mission Ranch Performance Horses' 4-year-old sorrel mare DesignerLeapToHeaven – Wheeler made two runs in 30.693 seconds to edge Margo Crowther's Prisonerr (with Craig Brooks aboard) by just two-hundredths of a second for the average title.

Wheeler took home a trophy saddle, buckle and $6,182 cash from the BFA 4-year-old futurity with 82 entries. He also won the generic 5-and-under futurity on the same two runs, which paid another $2,300. With incentive money, Penny earned upwards of $10,000 on the weekend.

Brooks, meanwhile, earned more than $10,000 collectively aboard four different colts including the reserve futurity champ Prisonerr (by RR Mistakelly out of Shes Packin Fame), plus Dark-side Of Heaven, JL Twisted Ginger and Guys Breezin By.

"I like to go to this futurity every year," said Wheeler. "I always try to go because it's a nice, low-key, quiet futurity."

Just two weeks earlier, Penny had dominated one of the biggest Open races in the country – The Mega in Jackson – against much older horses. And that's after having been the BFA World Champion Juvenile back in December.

"She's been the same since the start," Wheeler said. "She's had some ups and downs about like they all do. What makes her difficult now is that I have to remember to ride her like an Open horse. I've got to ride her pretty hard. She's the only horse I have that's old enough to enter, since all I'm riding is 2- and 3-year-olds. So when I go to a show, I'm a bit rusty because I haven't gone that fast in a while. I had to really work the past couple of weeks on just staying out of her way."

Owned by Wheeler's longtime client Kim Matthews of Mission Ranch and bred by Youree-Ward Barrel Horses, Penny is by Heavenly Firewater, a JL Dash Ta Heaven son out of the Fire Water Flit/The Ole Man mare, Fire Water Fanny. On the bottom, Penny's out of Designer Ruby by Designer Red – also the dam of Kylie (Ward West's NFR mare Hell On The Red).

Penny is the fourth Heavenly Firewater offspring that Wheeler has trained thus far, and he said all of them have been winners with similar styles.

"This mare is a little on the stiffer side, but she doesn't take very many steps around a barrel," he said. "She's very in and out, if that makes sense. What I like about these horses is that I can manipulate it to where they make that move on the backside really fast."

Wheeler reckons he'll keep campaigning Penny until this winter, when Kim's daughter, NFR barrel racer Taycie Matthews, could take over. In fact, a few weeks ago in Jackson, Wheeler and Penny outran Matthews and her WPRA/AQHA Barrel Horse of the Year Fame Fire Rocks ("PopRocks") by .15 seconds.

Penny took to the pressure of futurities well enough to become

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: None (I'm pretty old school, honestly)

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: She wants to be so stiff that it's getting her to round up a little bit. I ride her that morning in some circles and bend her up good; get her broke at the poll and listening and moving around, then put her back in the stall. For the run, I saddle her, trot a few circles and make my run. I do all my riding ahead of time.

THANKS: I have to thank Kim Matthews and Mission Ranch for letting me ride her.

a world champion at 3, so rodeo pressure should be no big deal. In fact, Wheeler said she's very confident – to the point she can be a handful some days.

"She's pretty serious about her job – she knows what it is," said Wheeler, who also has a Mission Ranch 3-year-old right now and is expecting to start a couple of 2-year-olds soon.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Church was so good this week! I think the main point is well worth repeating for the days we are living in! Mike was talking about a poll he read where CHRISTIANS were asked about Religious Extremism.

82% OF CHRISTIANS said that these 5 things were "extreme". Would you agree?

1. It is extreme to read your Bible in public.
2. It is extreme to share your faith.
3. It is extreme to go to church regularly.
4. It is extreme to volunteer at your church.
5. It is extreme to give money to your church.

I was shocked! Those 5 things are pretty basic to the Christian walk. And when we practice them, here's what we find:

When we share about the goodness of God, when we go to church and help out there, when we give financially and read the Word, we are BLESSED!

Extremely blessed in our bodies, in our finances, in our families, in the work of our hands. God rebukes the devourer for our sakes! Mal. 3:10-12. Being an extremist is wonderful!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
