$87,125 Haul For Sherry Cervi & MP Meter My Fame at Breeders Challenge Finale

By Tanya Randall

All year long, Mel Potter had been asking his daughter Sherry Cervi about her horse with the “fancy name.” The Italian word for princess, Principessa, might not easily roll off the 89-year-old rodeo legend’s tongue, but he’s always asked, “How’s she doing?”

“He was my first phone call – ‘I finally get to tell you, I won first,” said the four-time WPRO World Champion after winning the $78,200 Futurity Championship aboard MP Meter My Fame (“Principessa”) at the Breeders Challenge Finale.

In addition to the futurity title, Cervi and Principessa finished third in the Open to win an additional $8,925 at the incentive event, held September 11-14 in the Will Rogers Complex at Fort Worth, Texas.

Of that money, $26,137.50 went to Bob Burt on behalf of the 5-year-old mare’s sire Dash Ta Fame. Potter and Cervi collected $52,275 as her owners and $8,712.50 for nominating her to the program.

“It’s in a class by itself,” said Cervi, who was making her first trip to the Finale. “I knew about it and heard it was a great event, but I had no idea that it was going to be like that. It’s such a high-class event, and they put so much into the small details. And the money...! I love the fact they’re paying back to the nominator and have so many opportunities for all levels of horses.”

Cervi’s horse though is next level. Principessa is now the highest money earner out of Cervi’s two-time WPRO World Champion MP Meter My Hay—her beloved “Stingray,” by her family’s great stallion PC Frenchmans Hayday (“Dinero”).

“I’m humbled and so thankful for what that mare has done for me and my family,” said Cervi. “She continues to bless us. I get pretty emotional thinking about what Stingray has done.”

She posted on Facebook that she added three more bags of fresh shavings -- Stingray’s favorite thing – to the 22-year-old mare’s pen after her daughter’s big victory.

“I just want to make sure she’s happy and that I can do everything for her,” she said. “She gets around really good, and she looks great. She knows that she’s the queen of our place.”

Following the Breeders Challenge Finale, Principessa’s earnings are nearly $216,000, putting her ahead of her full siblings Feel The Sting, an NFR qualifier and sire of $1.2 million in earners, and MP Ray Of Fame (“Money May”), Cervi’s current rodeo mount with earnings of nearly $100,000.

The mare started her riding career under the saddle of Wyoming’s Zach Curran, who also started her older sibling Money May.

“I think he does an unbelievable job,” said Cervi, who splits her time between Texas, Arizona and Wisconsin. “I think the first 60 days of a colt’s life are so important and I just love the way Zach starts them. It’s easy for me to get on after him and continue on with what I wanted them to do.”

Cervi started Principessa’s barrel training at 4.

“She’s been easy to train,” she said. “She just did it. The only person to go around the barrels on her besides me is Dena (Kirkpatrick). We were riding together one day, and I wanted her to ride her and feel her and tell me what she thought. She loved her. She makes me feel like a trainer, but she is special.”

She continued, “You know those horses that you just want to keep going around the barrels because they’re so much fun? She’s one of those!”

Principessa got her first futurity win in the sidepot at the Xtreme Mini Million in Tucson, Arizona, over New Year’s. Her first major futurity was the Golden Buckle in Waco in early January, and she placed fifth.

She and Cervi got the reserve championship at the Royal Crown Futurity in Arizona and placed seventh at the Elite Futurity before winning the BBR World Finals Futurity. They were top five in the aggregate at the Colorado Classic and Royal Crown futurities as well.

“The only time she didn’t place was at the Royal Crown in Guthrie,” Cervi explained. “She fell with me on my first one and I didn’t run her for the second one. I took her to the Fizz Bomb the week before (the Breeders Challenge Finale) and hit a barrel. I think that’s the second barrel I’ve hit on her, her whole life, and I hit it coming out of it. I came back and won second in the round. She’s just been so consistent the whole year.”

In Fort Worth, Principessa clocked a 15.550 on her first run in the Open, a 15.642 in the Futurity Semifinals and a 15.541 to win the Futurity Finals.

“She’s solid and knows her job,” Cervi said. “She walks in the alleyway, and I just have to tell myself to stay out of her way because she knows. She’s so responsive. I can put her wherever I want. She goes where I tell her, which is nice, I like that, but you can get yourself in trouble.

“I’ve never ridden anything like her. She’s so strong in the hind end. I have a lot of people tell me – and I totally agree with it – that she’s the perfect combination between Dash Ta Fame and Stingray. She really uses her hind end but keeps that forward motion, like Stingray.”

Cervi will likely finish Principessa’s futurity career at the WPRA World Finals. Next year, she’ll up the mare’s rodeo seasoning.

This summer she took all four of her Dash Ta Fame-Stingrays with her to the rodeos for seasoning—Money May, Principessa and her 5-year-old full brother MP King George that Cervi co-owns with High Point Performance Horses, and her 4-year-old mare for next year B-Ray (short for Baby Ray).

“I told Dena (Kirkpatrick) when I was leaving, ‘Gosh, I’m leaving with four Dash Ta Fames!’ She says, ‘No, you’ve got to be thinking, you’re leaving with four Stingrays,’” she said. “That changed my perspective.”

Cervi ran Principessa at two rodeos this summer. Her first rodeo was at Casper, Wyoming, where she qualified Cervi for the short go out of slack.

“I rode Money May in the short round because I didn’t think she was quite ready for a performance because there’s a lot going on,” she said. “That was really cool, putting her out there and hanging with the rodeo horses.”

Dusky Lynn Hall & KD Baby Driver Win Breeders Challenge Finale Derby; Hall Continues Hot Streak

By Britany Diaz

Dusky Lynn Hall has been on a hot streak the last month, winning all over the country. This past weekend, she dominated multiple divisions at the prestigious Breeders Challenge Finale held in Fort Worth, TX at Will Rogers Colliseum and the John Justin Arena. Dusky Lynn has a team of horses that she jockeys so well to win on the biggest stages. Halls grand total owner's earnings from the week totaled up to an amazing $86,956.20.

The 10-year-old cowgirl, from Huntsville, TX, placed first in the Open 4D race on Jets Letters Ta Abby, running a time of 15.484 and earning $18,593.75 total. Hall also placed second on KD Baby Driver with a time of 15.536, earning a total of $14,875. The winning continued for Dusky in the Open with an eighth place finish aboard, Aint Seen Famous Yet, running a 15.706. This team added $2,231.25 to their earnings. In the Open 4D alone, Dusky Lynn Hall won $21,420 in owner earnings.

Hall continued to win big by dominating the Youth Division. She ran her fastest time of the weekend aboard, KD Baby Driver, running a 15.428 winning $3,187.50. Hall finished second on Jets Letters Ta Abby, running a 15.477, winning a total of $2,550. Hall and Aint Seen Famous Yet also landed in the money in tenth place with a time of 16.176, earning a total of $382.50 and another $3,672 in owner earnings from the Youth Division.

Dusky Lynn rolled her times from the Youth Division Finals to the Derby Finals on KD Baby Driver, landing herself in winning position again. The duos time of 15.428 held all the way through a tough derby to win a total of $48,875!

Hall and her team of horses found more success by rolling their times into the High Stakes Challenge Presented by Turnpikers Wagon. Hall won first on KD Baby Driver with her time of 15.428, earning $11,860. She won second and third aboard Jets Letters Ta Abby with her times of 15.477 and 15.484, earning another $16,754. She also won 5th from her Open run on KD Baby Driver, winning another $3,965.20. Hall won a total of $32,539.20 from the High Stakes Challenge.

Dusky Lynn Hall and her team of horses are no strangers to the winners circle. She wins on all of them, but in Fort Worth, her 7-year-old gelding, KD Baby Driver, better known as Enzo, was the highest money earner. This duo has only ten competition runs together. "We got him from Lindsay Bullard, he was trained by Carlos Renato, and we bought him a couple months ago," shared Hall. "He is more of a free-runner and probably the fastest horse I have ever rode. He is so easy to haul. Enzo is funny and is always in your face wanting to know what you are doing. He tries so hard and runs so fast. I knew our time was going to be fast after our run in the youth because he worked so good. We had to sit through the whole derby to see if our time would hold and thankfully it did.”

Hall is an advanced jockey, far beyond most girls her age. Hall is not able to rodeo until she is 18, therefore; it is important to her and her parents that her horses are eligible for the big incentive races. “Dusky’s career earnings were around $800,000 before we left for Rock Springs a month ago,” shared Dusky Hall, Dusky Lynn’s mother. The young cowgirl will be close to if not over the million dollar jockey mark now.

The Hall’s have a busy schedule throughout the day to make all of this possible. Dusky Lynn said, “We get up in the morning and ride or sometimes at night. My teacher comes from 1:00-5:00 in the heat of the day. I will come back out to feed or ride and then go in for dinner and start all over the next day. I ride my horses every day, whether it be easy rides or working them. We ride five to six horses a day between my mom and I.”

Hall is living every little girls dream and being successful while doing it. There is a lot to learn from this little girl. She shared some advice for aspiring barrel racers, both older and younger. Hall shared, “Chase your dreams. Every day when I was younger, I asked for a horse and my parents got me a pony named Barney. My mom bought him from The Dutton’s of Madisonville, Texas for $2,000 and I rode him every day. He was 25-years-old and took care of me to give me confidence to want to move ahead and go faster and did not scare me. Aint Seen Famous Yet, also known as Wally, almost didn’t make it. The only reason Amelia took him was because her good horse got hurt. He was always spooking and actually broke into a trot at his first futurity. She just had to keep going and it either went his way or her way, but when she finally let it go his way, he just kept winning and winning to be what he is today. Never give up.”

Dusky Lynn Hall will be a name we will be seeing for many years to come. Events like the Breeders Challenge are allowing this young girl to make real money. The Halls’ loves the Breeders Challenge. “She loved the Draw Party. We went to Dilliards and bought a nice dress and got our nails done and the whole bit. We never get to do that. We look forward to the Breeders Challenge the most as the calcutta and draw party are so fun. We usually go to the barrel race and then go home, where this one adds another layer that the kids and adults rarely get to do. They are so accommodating and great to work with,” shared Hall’s mother, Dusky.

Lisa Lockhart & Prime Diamond Grab Green Mile Championship

By Tanya Randall

Lisa Lockhart and Prime Diamond have made four appearances at the famed Pendleton Round-Up, where the barrel racing course spans the five acres of grass that barrel racers refer to as the “Green Mile.”

They were fifth in 2021, fourth in 2022 and second in 2023 by .01 seconds.

In 2024, they finally conquered the Green Mile, winning $12,717 in the process.

“The first two years were for necessity,” said the Oelrichs, South Dakota, barrel racer. “The last two years have been for fun.”

The uniqueness of the rodeo and pattern makes the rodeo fun. “It is its own animal without a doubt!” Lockhart said. “It takes a special horse and a lot of thought. It’s unique. And it’s always fun to do something a little different.

“I think that’s what’s cool about rodeo in general, all the adverse conditions. Nothing is the same. Being thrown into those different situations and being able to handle them. I think that’s what makes it exciting.”

Fun is a loose term when it comes to Pendleton, because even in her fourth appearance, Lockhart said the anxiety never really goes away.

“The anxiety is always there,” she said. “I remember being there the first time and not even knowing how fast to go. It’s so hard to gauge everything. How do you get them where you need to go? How do you keep them from rating too soon? I think that’s almost more detrimental than not rating enough. You definitely do not want them rating in the grass. That wreaks a lot of havoc.”

With the barrels on the track encompassing the grass field, competitors can’t see the second barrel due to the crown in the ground. “You have a vague idea,” Lockhart said. “‘Oh! Where is it?’ They start going across (the grass) and they can’t see it and they almost start to panic. It’s pretty weird actually.”

For her, the key to Pendleton is having the right horse. “Of course you need some speed, but I think more than anything that you need to be able to manage them a bit,” she said. “You have to help them navigate. It’s not an easy task.”

The blind race toward the vicinity of the second is where they need the most help.

“It’s really hard on the horse,” she added. “They have a tendency to test the jockeys, so they’ve got to be willing to let you help them get to where they need to go, and also not to rate so early. Rating on the grass can be dangerous.”

One of the main reasons she didn’t enter the rodeo until she was forced to out of necessity in 2021 when she was on the bubble for the NFR was the fact that she didn’t think she had a horse for it. With Cutter, she does.

“I don’t worry about Cutter,” she said. “He just runs straight across there until I tell him to slow down and turn. He helps me keep it pretty simple, especially on the first run. The second run they know what’s going on and it seems to be a little more difficult to navigate, going forward and not anticipating.”

She described Cutter’s runs at Pendleton as “effortless.” “It’s just so easy for him,” she said. “Even after, he was hardly breathing. It’s so effortless for him.”

Lockhart came across Cutter as a 2-year-old after her longtime friend Lisa Anderson, who works for Copper Spring Ranch, mentioned him. After taking a look at his picture on the ranch’s website, she bought him.

“I remember seeing him on their website and I thought, ‘Oh, he’s cute!’” she chuckled.

Bred by Jacquie Crenshaw, Cutter, now 13, is by Copper Spring’s stakes winning Corona Cartel son Prime Diamond and out of a

Lockhart took her time developing the gelding, who is her ace reliever in her string. In 2019, he made his prime time debut at Rodeo Houston after King Louie (An Oakie With Cash) wasn't able to finish the rodeo. A few weeks later, Cutter carried Lockhart to a RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo Championship. Cutter is also an NFR money earner and has been Lockhart's primary backup for the Thomas & Mack's basketball course for many years.

"He's just been one of those that has been thrown into a lot of different situations," said Lockhart. "He's always been a part of the team."

Pendleton has been their only rodeo together this year.

"I have not run him all year," she admitted. "I had so many young ones with me this winter, and the few rodeos that I was going to, I was going to focus on Levee and Rosa. I actually left him home, which was actually heartbreaking. It was hard to do that."

When her daughter Alyssa Allen needed something to ride this summer, she told her to ride Cutter.

"I said, 'You know what? He's just sitting.' I had thoughts about needing to have him over the summer. I needed to get him in shape because you never know. She started riding him and getting him into shape. Then I was like 'Go ahead and run him,'" she said.

Alyssa placed at several pro rodeos in Montana and the Badlands Circuit and won Ashley, North Dakota, on Cutter.

"At first, he was going too slow," she chuckled. "I'm like, 'Ok, it's a timed event. You've got to go fast. Throw it out there a little bit!' She gets along with him great. After the two of them got some runs under their belt... Oh My Gosh! She rides him better than I do! And it couldn't make me happier!"

Lockhart's 2024 regular season ends this Saturday at the North Dakota Rough Rider Cup in Mandan, South Dakota. She and Rosa have done well in that arena in the past and placed there over the Fourth of July.

She was too far behind on her Playoff Tour points to make the cut into the Governor's Cup in Sioux Falls.

"I'm going to stay home," she said. "I did enter the (season end-

Lockhart, who sits sixth in the WPRAs World Standings with $138,030, will compete at her 18th straight NFR this year. Only world champions Sherry Cervi and Charmayne James have more with 19 qualifications with only James being consecutive.

THE FINAL COUNTDOWN

The Dakotas will host two of the most pivotal rodeos of the season: the North Dakota Rough Riders Cup in Mandan this weekend and the Governor's Cup in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, the last weekend of September.

Mandan features $60,000 added with only 12 places paid. It's limited to 36 contestants—the top 32 in the WPRA World Standings when entries opened and the winners of four select rodeos: Aberdeen, South Dakota; Rapid City, South Dakota, Dickinson, North Dakota and the Forth of July Rodeo in Mandan.

In July, Taylor Hanson and French Kiss Ta Vegas topped the rodeo to get the invite to the Rough Rider Cup. Other contestants that placed there in July that will be competing are Chloe Gray, Summer Kosel, Tayla Moeykens, Lisa Lockhart, Sara Winkelman, Jessica Routier, Jamie Olson and Paige Jones.

Mandan is an outdoor venue. Early forecasts had chances of rain on Saturday and Sunday, but more recent ones have clear skies for the event.

Sioux Falls, the culmination of the PRCA Playoff Tour, has a purse of $144,444 for the barrel racers and is open to just 12 contestants. The top four finishers at Puyallup, Washington: Ashley Castleberry, Halyn Lide, Shelley Morgan and Chelsea Moore all received an automatic bye into the rodeo.

The remaining positions were filled by the top eight in the Playoff Tour standings at the conclusion of the rodeos in Pendleton, Oregon, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Abilene, Texas, this past weekend.

An incredible weekend jumped Latricia Duke into the standings. The battle for the final spot went down to Albuquerque's last performance on Sunday, where Jordon Briggs earned enough points for placing third to jump Paige Jones for the final spot in Sioux Falls.

Other competitors are Emily Beisel, Hailey Kinsel, Kassie Mowry, Wenda Johnson, Andrea Busby, and Dona Kay Rule.

WRWC Announces Changes to 2025 - New Formats, Schedule & Payout

The Women's Rodeo Championships (WRC) today announced that the world's richest women's rodeo, Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC), will take return to Texas in May 2025, with the initial rounds held at Cowtown Coliseum from May 12-14 before concluding in Arlington at AT&T Stadium on May 17 alongside the PBR (Professional Bull Riders) World Finals: Unleash The Beast – Championship.

The 2025 Women's Rodeo World Championship will also feature a record payout, set to award the hundreds of competing cowgirls $802,000. The announce of the historic purse comes roughly a week after WRC announced the addition of Goat Tying (Showcase and Limited) to the WRWC.

With the addition of the 2025 WRWC's increased purse, the broader, 2025 Women's Rodeo Week, also inclusive of APHA's (American Paint Horse Association's) Cowgirl Gathering, will now pay an unprecedented $1.25 million to female rodeo athletes from May 8-17, 2025.

In 2025, the Women's Rodeo World Championship will debut a new format, with 20 athletes advancing for their chance to compete inside the home of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys. Those advancing athletes will be:

Three Pros in barrel racing, breakaway roping, and team roping
 Three Challengers in barrel racing, breakaway roping, and team roping
 One Limited in barrel racing and breakaway roping

Athletes can nominate their efforts with WRC and earn points for the Leaderboard (W25) until the April 13 deadline. As of April 13, the Top 20 athletes in each discipline on the Pro and Challenger leaderboard will qualify for the 2025 WRWC. The Top 50 Limited athletes in the breakaway roping and barrel racing from the W25 Leaderboard will be eligible to compete in the 2025 event. For more information on limited, athletes can visit <https://wrwc.rodeo/limited-classification/>

Ladies Goat Tying is also now eligible for NIRA (National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association) members to nominate for the 2025 WRWC Leaderboard. The Top 20 goat tyers, as of the April 13 deadline will compete in a showcase event on Tuesday, May 13 in Fort Worth, Texas.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Finish strong my friends! No matter your age, finish strong. That means that as we age, and we all are, we do not accept the natural course of things. And we never, ever, never, ever quit!

Why not? Because God has made provision for every season of our lives. We need to trust His Word. Psalm 103:1-5 in part tells us that our youth is renewed like the eagles. God multiplies. He does not divide or subtract from us.

Psalm 107:20 says that God sent His word and healed us. Therefore, we do not listen to, or take into account, the magazines in the checkout stands. Or our friends that talk about how old they are and how this body part and that body part hurt and are failing.

God tells us in Matthew 22:29, "You are in error (fail) because you do not know the Scriptures or the power of God." That is good news! We don't have to fail. We need only to know, and to do, the Word of God.

I would also encourage you to fellowship with all ages! Little kids will keep you young! Teenagers need our wisdom. 20, 30 and 40 year old's need balance as they are working hard to acquire things they need. . . .and don't need! LOL!

Every age is a gift from God! TOGETHER we will have more and more victory in our lives. That's God's best!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
