Texan Victory Makes Jordan Driver & TRHeavensIlluminated $100,000 Richer

By Tanya Randall

Tarleton State University senior Jordan Driver is $101,500 richer thanks to the efforts of her 6-year-old superstar TRHeavensIlluminated ("Cyrus"). Driver and Cyrus's 14.691 was the best of 1,543 runs at the $850,000 Texan Barrel Race, held October 14-20 at the Taylor Telecom Arena in Abilene, Texas.

"I'm still trying to process it all!" said Driver, who hails from Garden City, Texas. "It was so nerve wracking! I can finally breathe! I think I've made myself sick the last two days watching the barrel race until last night!"

At The Texan, barrel racers were offered two runs for $1,500 and allowed to pick one of three back-to-back sessions for their runs. With the National Collegiate Championship Shootout in Liberty, Texas, over the weekend, Driver chose to run in the middle session of the Texan on Thursday and Friday.

"The funny thing was I entered The Texan the day that pre-entries closed," she said. "I wasn't even going to enter. Then I figured out how I could go to both of them and split the horses up so I could run one of them at each one."

She chose Judge for the college shootout and Cyrus for the Texan since he'd done well there last year.

On Thursday, running at draw 155 on the bottom of the ground, Cyrus caught the first barrel.

"It really wasn't his fault," she said. "He just kind of slipped into it."

The first barrel has often been Driver's nemesis on Cyrus.

"That's the hardest part of the ride sometimes," she said. "He does nothing wrong. It's a very weird feeling. You want to chicken out because he's running so hard up in there, but he's going to turn."

Knowing she had nothing to lose on her second run, Driver sent Cyrus as hard as she could to the first barrel. Their 14.691 was more than 2/10ths faster than American Champions Brandon Cullins and MJ Segers Fast Lane, who had recently taken the lead.

"Some runs, like that one, are super easy," she said, "and some are super hard. He's the most humbling but rewarding horse that I've ever been on."

With two full days of runs left, Driver had an anxiety ridden weekend ahead of her. Between taking peaks at the webcast to see if her lead still held, Driver managed to finish second at the Collegiate Shootout on Judge and earn a bye into The American's Central Region Rodeo.

"I was making myself sick trying to watch," she said. "I finally told my mom, I thought if I can get past 191, which was Kassie (Mowry) and Jarvis (Force The Goodbye), I'd be okay. I did watch the last 100 because we were driving to Abilene to hopefully get our picture made."

Her biggest challenge actually came from her hauling partner LaTricia Duke, who on the last day came within .139 on DM High Roller to take second and earn $20,000. Driver's mom Jennifer also picked up $1,500 for finishing 11th in the 1D on DTF Way Ta Fire.

Ironically, Driver's hauling partner for the event, Hadley Tidwell, called the win after watching Driver deal with Cyrus's pre-run antics.

"The first day at the Texan, he was an angel," Driver explained.

THE RUNDOWN w/ Jordan Driver

TRHeavensIlluminated "Cyrus"

BIT: Chain mouth with a cricket J&C Leverage bit

HEADGEAR: Rolled leather tiedown that Molli Montgomery used on him "It's on it's last life but I refuse to change it."

SADDLE: Shiloh "That's the first time I've used it. I was having trouble and called Molli. It's the same type of saddle she ran him in."

SADDLE PAD: 3S Custom

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine

SHOEING: Aluminum on all four; shod by Josh Cordova

FEED: Purina Ultium Gastric Care

HAY: A lot of alfalfa, free choice coastal

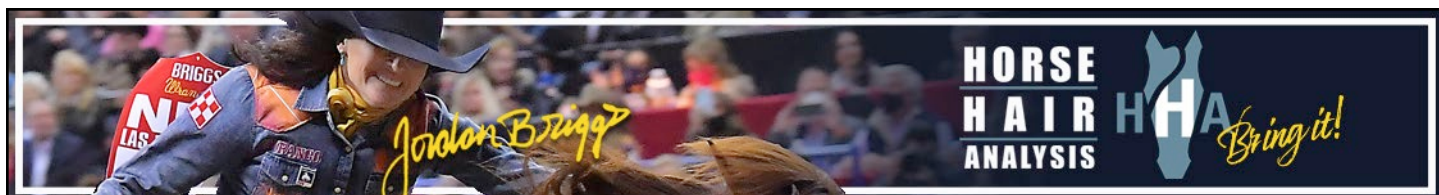

SUPPLEMENTS: MVP 6-Way and Air-Way EQ, Equinety

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: BEMER pre run, EquiResp, PHT boots and blanket

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: "I try to ride him throughout the week. I try to keep him quiet. He's not a hot horse; he just has a lot of personality. He's a JL Dash Ta Heaven and the perfect example of one! He's just a lot sometimes. I ride him pretty hard during the week, but not on the barrels. If I do ever go through the barrels on him, it's usually at a walk or trot and very repetitive. It's usually more for me to remember where I need to hit my spots."

“The second day, he knew what was going on. He gets to walking circles when you cinch him up. I was so frustrated with him when I finally got on. Hadley said, ‘Well, I guess he’s going to go win now since he’s been giving you such a hard time!’”

Driver purchased Cyrus in October of his fourth year. She had previously purchased Strawflyin The Gold from Montgomery, who would occasionally send her videos of Cyrus exhibition runs. When she finally saw him exhibition in person at the 2022 Lone Star Shootout Futurity in Stephenville, Texas, Driver knew she wanted the gelding.

“He just had a look and a style that I liked,” she said. “I ride quite well behind Molli. She’s a fun trainer to run behind. I remember telling her when they’re ready to sell him, call me first. Then of course he goes and wins that first futurity. I thought ‘Well, this isn’t going to be easy!’”

Bred by Harry Thomas, Cyrus is by 9.2 million dollar sire JL Dash Ta Heaven out of million dollar producer and two-time WPRR Reserve World and NFR Champion TR Dashing Badger (“Dolly”), by Mr Illuminator. Along with the Lone Star Classic, Cyrus won the Old Fort Days Futurity and took second at the Ruby Buckle to one of the top futurity horses in the country.

Driver, a three-time College National Finals Rodeo qualifier, purchased Cyrus that October but didn’t start running him until early in his derby year.

“I remember when I finally took the reins from Molli, she was like, ‘Just don’t stop kicking!’” Driver laughed. “I didn’t have any part of that in me! I just wanted to sit there and let him do his job. I struggled with him a lot. I would go to barrel races and not even put his name down because I didn’t want anyone to know that I’m on this horse yet because I have to figure him out!”

In the past two years, Driver has figured Cyrus out well enough to finish 25th in the WPRR World Standings.

“I hit a lot of costly barrels on him this summer to be further up there,” she admitted. “My main priority this year was to make sure I got into the buildings.”

She got close enough to possibly make a run at the NFR this year, having made the Cinch Playoff Puyallup Rodeo.

“I wasn’t even paying attention to the points until after Cheyenne when I realized I had a chance,” she said. “A lot of things happened this summer that I’m grateful for. It was a learning experience.”

This was the second summer that Driver took Cyrus on the summer rodeo run. He made his rodeo debut at the Reno Rodeo in 2023.

“That was his first rodeo,” she said. “He never even blinked. He loves it.”

Driver, who will graduate this spring with a degree in kinesiology, will finish up the fall college and circuit rodeos before gearing up for the building rodeos after the New Year. She’ll also travel with Duke to the National Finals Rodeo.

“LaTricia asked me to go to the Finals with her,” she said. “She’s taking Judge with her. It’s really freaking fun that she’s going to take one of my horses.”

Driver wanted to thank Duke for all her help this season and her parents, Dane and Jennifer, and friends for all their support.

“It’s not a one man show,” she said, “and I’m super thankful for everybody that’s able to play a part in it and support me.”

Moore & CD Gold Mate Win $35K at CBHI

By Julie Mankin

There hasn't been much that CD Gold Mate hasn't won at Canadian futurities this season, but the 5-year-old sorrel saved the best for last.

At the Canadian Barrel Horse Incentive Futurity, on Oct. 10-13 in Ponoka, Alberta, the colt piloted by Chelsea Moore smoked the field with a 17.227 in the big arena. The time both won the first round of the Futurity and dominated the Super Stakes for a paycheck worth $31,920.

The windfall brought CD Gold Mate's 2024 futurity earnings past six figures, despite Moore never driving more than six hours from the house. In August, they had even turned in a 16.9 on a standard pattern at the Alberta Barrel Racing Association Finals – which was the fastest throughout 2,200 runs over the six-day event. "I don't even know how to explain him," Moore said of the little 14.2-hand gelding. "He's incredible."

This is not, by the way, Chelsea Moore from Kansas who finished this season ranked 26th in the WPRA world standings. There are two Chelsea Moores, which has definitely created confusion this season in professional rodeo.

The Canadian Chelsea is from tiny Three Hills, Alberta, where she lives with NFR bulldogger Tanner Milan and their two little boys, ages 3 and 18 months. This season Moore, 35, hit a heavy load of both futurities and rodeos, in both barrel racing and breakaway roping, with two toddlers.

CD Gold Mate was a product of a partnership between Chelsea and her grandfather, out of one of his best cutting mares by Chelsea's mother's stallion. He's by Blackgold Jack, a stallion by Dash Ta Fame out of a double-Easy-Jet-bred mare. And he's out of a CD Lights daughter. Chelsea nicknamed the colt she's had since he was weaned "Franklin" because it was the middle name of her late grandfather, who passed when the colt was 2.

"Grandpa didn't get to really see a bunch of these wins, but he had more of a hand in it than we think," said Chelsea.

At Ponoka, in the second round of the Futurity, Moore and Franklin only needed a clean run to make the finals. But Moore, being safe, sent him far into the first barrel and she figures the gelding decided it was too far. The little powerhouse came back too hard, dragging the first barrel with him. It was the only barrel that has hit the ground in all 32 runs the horse made this season. Still, Moore got away from the CBHI with about $35,000.

The little half-cutter didn't inherit much Dash Ta Fame blood from his sire, and was so small that she didn't even show him a barrel until he was coming 4.

"He's the easiest colt I've ever trained," she said. "Some days I don't even know if I can take credit. He was just a winner from Day One."

Moore also entered rodeos this year on an older son of Blackgold Jack.

"They're identical," she said. "They look the same, act the same, run the same and are the same to ride."

She also has a daughter of the stallion that she ran in the Open, and every so often she makes a run on the 15-year-old stallion himself – in fact she clocked a 17.5 on him in Ponoka the other day after she hadn't been on him in years (he ran at RFD-TV's The American and at Houston under Carman Pozzobon in 2019). The stallion himself only stands about 14.3. Moore said father and son both make the same run every time.

"They look like you should be roping calves on them, not running barrels," said Moore, who is training three more 4-year-olds at home. "They just want to be barrel horses. Or anything. If you give them a job, they want to do it. He's crossing on anything, actually, especially with cow-bred mares. They fit me like a glove; they try hard. They're good 'mom horses.'"

Moore ponies her horses from her side-by-side to condition them and save time. She only took Franklin to six jackpots before she entered – and won – his first futurity. Did we mention she also is her own farrier, shoeing all of her own and Tanner's horses? Best thing she ever learned, she said.

Moore finished the 2024 season in the Top 25 of the Canadian standings in barrel racing and 18th in breakaway roping, on top of her six-figure futurity season. Tanner, meanwhile, just missed making the CFR after injury recovery.

"Eddie does a great job paying the bills for us," she said of Tanner's great Dash Ta Fame grandson – a barrel horse reject. She's referring to Ed's Famous Bar – the 2023 PRCA/AQHA Steer Wrestling Horse of the Year.

"We've got two or three guys riding him in Vegas this year," she said. "So I'll go down and use my Bemer and nebulizer on him and do all the barrel-horse things for him."

Hailey Garrison Graham & TM He Be Gee Be Roll Through Columbia River Circuit Finals

By Tanya Randall

Newly wed Hailey Garrison Graham, a two-time Montana Circuit Finals qualifier, made a very successful switch to the Columbia River Circuit.

She and her talented 10-year-old gelding TM He Be Gee Be (“He Be”) almost had a clean sweep of the Columbia River Circuit Finals Rodeo, held October 17-19 in Redmond, Oregon. They turned in the fastest time of the Finals to win the first round, won the second and placed third in the third to capture the aggregate for $9,581.

“I really didn’t have any expectations other than keeping the barrels up,” said Graham, who will join year-end champion Megan McLeod-Sprague at the NFR Open in Colorado Springs next July. “I was really happy with how he clocked.”

After starting out the season strong, He Be had two setbacks during the peak of the summer season. First, He Be bled after his run in Big Fork, Montana, and Graham opted to give him time to heal.

“He was out for all of July,” Graham explained. “Right after the Fourth run, he was out for a full month. All of August and September, we were just trying to get back in the groove. It wasn’t the best summer. He did OK in August, but it was so wolfie. Everybody is up here and it’s so tough, and he was trying to get his wind back and what not.”

Then 30 minutes after making her run at Lewiston, Idaho, He Be colicked.

“He spent three days in Pullman (Washington) at the vet school,” she said. “After that, I just sent him home to Montana with my parents, to let him hang out and get right for the circuit finals.”

Graham’s parents have always been very involved in her rodeo career. Her father Todd Garrison went to the NFR in the steer wrestling and her mother Latricia ran barrels and team roped. “They’ve always gone above and beyond for me and He Be,” she said. In fact, He Be is back in his home pasture at her parents’ house until it’s time to get legged up for next year.

Graham, who works for a digital marketing and web design firm, purchased He Be in January of his fifth year from Desiree Wheeler. The 2014 gelding was raised by Wheeler’s father Merle and is by the family raised stallion Smoke Flash Im Gone and out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Abbys Fame.

Although he was on track to futurity, He Be was a bit of a “dead head.” Graham, who was a freshman at Montana State University at the time, bought him as a backup to her current horse.

“Barrel racing wasn’t really my priority,” Graham admitted. “I was more of a goat tyer and roper. My good mare ended up not being able to run that summer after I bought (He Be) and he got thrown into it. I was planning on taking him slow and going to some jackpots, but he had to go to rodeos that summer and that fall he had to college rodeo.”

After struggling to adjust to rodeo ground over the summer, He Be did well for Graham that fall at the college rodeos. They were in line to make it to the College National Finals, but COVID happened.

He Be missed a lot of Graham’s sophomore and junior season’s while recovering from EPM. When she brought him back for the spring of her senior year, he qualified her for the CNFR and finished fourth in the nation.

Graham, who grew up in Glen, Montana, also qualified for two Montana Circuit Finals, 2022 and 2023, before switching to the Columbia River circuit for 2024. She married her husband Jack, a team roper and fellow Montana State Bobcat, this June and moved to his hometown of Lakeview, Oregon.

Although she hit a few of the larger rodeos close to her circuit this past season, Graham said she doesn’t have a plan to rodeo

TM He Be Gee Be “He Be” 16 h., 1,250 lbs.

BIT: L&W gag with twisted, dogbone mouth

SADDLE: Masters

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine / Best Ever

LEG GEAR: Professional’s Choice on all four

SHOEING: Rims on front, rims/eventers on rear; shod by husband Jack Graham

FEED: Nutrena Safe Choice Special Care

HAY: Free choice alfalfa

SUPPLEMENTS: Bluebonnet Lifeline, Gut X, Platinum Performance

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: PEMF, Back On Track when it’s cold out, chiropractic adjustments monthly or every two weeks if he needs it

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: “I do a ton of just riding him out. When we are in Montana, I get to do a lot of long trotting and sprinting him in the pivots. We’re right on the base of a mountain so a lot of climbing up the mountain and getting his topline in shape. Same in Lakeview, a lot of riding up and down, making sure his muscles get in shape and his lungs are good. I don’t do a lot of work on the barrels. I do a lot of walking and trotting if I need to fix something. Making him move his feet more strategically at a trot really helps.”

SPONSORS: Nutrena, Masters

THANKS: Her parents and her husband Jack. “We went through so much with He Be this summer and he had to deal with all my craziness. When (He Be) colicked, we were up for 36 straight hours. That was a lot. He’s definitely helped me a ton.”

more in 2025.

“I never really have a plan,” she chuckled. “I feel like every time I have a plan something comes up, so I’ve learned not to really have one. I just kind of take it month to month. If things work out and he’s feeling good and winning money, we’ll keep going. If not, I’ve got a lot of babies to get going. There’s always lots of options.”

Full Circle Victory for Tana Renick & Wild Childs Fling at RAM Prairie Circuit Finals

By Tanya Randal

Something monumental was coming for Tana Renick at the RAM Prairie Circuit Finals Rodeo, held October 17-19 in Duncan, Oklahoma.

As she left her Kingston, Oklahoma, property, she passed her great mare XV Wild Child. The 27-year-old mare was grazing in the trap closest to the gate. Knowing she was headed back to a circuit finals with one of Wild Child's babies brought a tear to her eye.

"The things that horse has given me—a career and reputation," Renick surmised. "She's the reason I didn't throw my hands up and completely quit when things were so hard. I feel like she taught me so much, and if I were to quit now and not utilize the things I learned from her...I felt like I owed it to her to be successful with her kids. She means so much to me."

Riding Wild Child's 8-year-old gelding Wild Childs Fling ("Fonzie"), by Streakin Boon Dox, a stallion that she rodeoed on for Joe and Carla Spitz, Renick captured the circuit finals aggregate title by more than 4/10ths and earned the right to compete at the NFR Open in Colorado Springs next July.

"It took me 11 years to pull this off," she said. Renick won Prairie Circuit Championships with Wild Child in 2010 and 2012. They won the Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo, now called the NFR Open in 2011.

"I wanted to go back to the national circuit finals," said Renick, a horse trainer and hairdresser. "I wanted it for my mare and Boon Dox. I feel like every step of this process has been God sent."

With Emily Beisel securing the year-end championship before the Circuit Finals, Renick knew that she'd have to win enough money at the circuit finals to move from third to second in the event that Beisel won the aggregate or she simply had to win the rodeo herself.

"I was very, very focused," she said. Knowing that Fonzie had a tendency to get a little tight on his first run in the building, Renick knew she needed to send the gelding on his first run.

"I thought I'd better send him harder than I normally do," she said. "Actually he was pretty free and went a half-stride at least by the third barrel, which surprised me. Evidently it was perfect because the next two nights he was spot on. He went exactly where I asked him to go. I had to pick him up off a couple of barrels and Columbia River Circuit Finals Continued From Page 58 he did it."

Renick and Fonzie were second to Biesel and Namgis 35 in the first round and then turned in the only two 15-second runs to win the next two rounds.

"I was thrilled!" said Renick, who won $9,685. "The fact that I won at this level on both of his parents is very special."

Fonzie is the first Wild Child baby that she's owned all herself. She's even partners with the Spitz's on his 3-year-old full brother. She said he's the perfect blend between his sire and dam.

"I feel both of them in him," she said. "The grit and try and heart and consistency that's what he got from both of them. He just shows up when you ask him. That's how both of them horses were. He's gritty and tough."

Fonzie had a tough time growing up. At three months old a broodmare ran him through a fence, and he developed a bone sequestrum from the injury. Shortly after having surgery to remove the dead piece of bone, his recip mother died of colic. Then when it was time to be broke to ride, he simply didn't want to.

"He wasn't an easy colt in the beginning," she chuckled. Once Renick got Fonzie going, she was offered a lot of money for him, but he failed the vet check when a potentially career-ending condition was discovered.

"I didn't even know about it," she said. "He was born that way. I was just devastated. Instead of completely giving up, I thought, 'No, this is God telling you, 'I gave you what you've always wanted and I'm going to make sure you hang on to it.'"

Dr. Cameron Stoud Donnell was able to get Fonzie on the mend. On January 17, her birthday, Renick got the green light to start riding the gelding again. They made their first circuit rodeo at the end of April.

"It's like he's been gaining confidence this whole time," she said. "He feels better and now he realizes he does."

Having almost made the National Finals Rodeo twice on Wild Child, Renick has a different perspective to Fonzie's future rodeo plans.

"I remember the pressure of feeling I had to go here, I had to go there," she said. "I remember I ran her a few times when she wasn't feeling her best and I shouldn't have. I was a young rookie learning and didn't know what the hell I was doing.

"This time around I'm even more appreciative because I know from experience how fast this can end. I'm going to take every moment as a blessing. I know that nothing is given. If things get too difficult, I won't do it the way I did it before."

Renick entered the WPRA World Finals for a chance to qualify for Rodeo Houston, one of her favorite rodeos. She also entered the San Antonio qualifier too.

"I'm going to give him the opportunity and see what happens,"

The Cowboy Channel Signs with WPRA for Exclusive Broadcast and Livestream of the 2024 NFR Breakaway Roping

Exclusive Media Rights to Air the WPRA Wrangler National Finals Breakaway Roping presented by Tito's Handmade Vodka Live on The Cowboy Channel and The Cowboy Channel+ App

The Cowboy Channel, the official network of professional rodeo, proudly announces an expanded partnership with the Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRA), securing exclusive media rights for the WPRA Wrangler National Finals Breakaway Roping (NFBR), presented by Tito's Handmade Vodka. For the first time, the 2024 NFBR will be broadcast live on national television on The Cowboy Channel and The Cowboy Channel+ app, available for streaming and on-demand.

The 2024 WPRA Wrangler National Finals Breakaway Roping will take place December 3rd and 4th at the South Point Arena and Equestrian Center in Las Vegas, Nevada. For those unable to be there in person they can catch all the action LIVE on The Cowboy Channel from 5:00 to 7:00 PM EST and re-airing from 8:00 PM to 10:00 PM EST both days. The event will showcase the top 15 breakaway ropers competing over 10 rounds — 5 rounds each day — with all competitors running in every round. Sideline coverage will be led by Hayley Novak, offering viewers behind-the-scenes insights and in-depth interviews.

The Cowboy Channel will extend its popular Road to the NFR series and include breakaway roping for the first time. Previously focused on the seven standard NFR rodeo events, this edition highlights the growing prominence of breakaway roping and the WPRA's dedication to expanding visibility for female rodeo athletes.

"It is an honor to take the coverage of the Wrangler National Finals Breakaway Roping to the next level by broadcasting the event live for the first time on national television on The Cowboy Channel," said Raquel Gottsch Koehler, CEO of The Cowboy Channel. "This is one of the most exciting and fastest-growing events in rodeo, and we're proud to give these incredible cowgirls the national spotlight they deserve. By showcasing the competition live, we're bringing the intensity and energy of breakaway roping directly to fans across the country, further expanding the reach of this remarkable sport."

The Cowboy Channel and WPRA will jointly own the broadcast of the 2024 NFBR, which represents a significant step forward in the representation of women in rodeo. This one-year agreement enhances the sport's exposure, offering rodeo fans worldwide unprecedented access to this thrilling competition.

"The Wrangler National Finals Breakaway Roping is an event that continues to grow in stature, and we're thrilled to have The Cowboy Channel as our exclusive broadcast partner," said Jimmie Munroe, WPRA President. "This partnership will

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

When you live in Wyoming, there are often weather surprises. We don't have 4 distinct seasons. We laughingly call the snow we just had our 'first winter'. We were basking in lovely fall days.

The grass was still green, the flowers hanging in there. Then BAM! A foot of snow, freezing temperatures and closed roads! Lasted two days. It'll be 66 today. The snow is melting, the grass underneath is still green and when I shoveled off my flower beds, there are still some brave flowers under there!

I want to encourage any of you that are going through hard times, that the blessing of God is still under it all, holding you up! With trouble piled on top, it's hard to see and remember what it looks like without the problem.

God is there. He NEVER leaves us or forsakes us. Deut. 30:19. He has answers when all we can see is the snow. You have to get a hold of yourself and put your faith and trust in Him. The sun WILL come out. The problem WILL be solved. You have already lived through the worst day of your life, right?

Look to Him this week. His great love for you will carry you up and over!
