Earlier Summer Heater For Abby Phillips & VF Expensive Taste

By Tanya Randall

Abby Phillips thought it was going to take a few rodeos to get her 7-year-old mare VF Expensive Taste (“Andi”) back in rodeo-winning form after a month of rest.

She was wrong.

Of her four rodeos, Andi has won three and finished second at the other. The most lucrative being this past weekend’s $6,768 championship at the Sisters Rodeo, a $15,000-added, one-header in Oregon.

“I entered the smaller rodeos before (Sisters) thinking that I was going to need to get her back to the top,” said the Marshall, Texas, barrel racer. “I was expecting her to be pretty rusty. She has surprised me with how strong she’s come out the gate!”

Phillips, who has designated the Wilderness as her home pro rodeo circuit, had entered three for this past weekend—Sisters in Oregon, and Monticello and Eagle Mountain in Utah, but opted out of Eagle Mountain after she left Monticello winning the rodeo.

“I turned it out to purposely rest Andi,” she explained. “I had come out here early and went to Moab and Herriman (the week prior). She won both of those. My next one was Monticello and we ended up second there. When I left Monticello I was winning it. I said, ‘That’s three wins in a row for her. I better save her for Sisters!’ I turned out of

Andi felt “awesome” at Sisters.

“She really loves being outside, so it really suited her well,” Phillips said. “She handled the ground good. She was spot on just about everywhere for me.”

The past four rodeos netted Phillips $12,262 and bumped her to third in the WPRA World Standings with $66,268, most of which came aboard Andi.

The Victory Farms-bred daughter of Eddie Stinson, out of Expensive Crystal, by Southern Cartel, was purchased as a prospect by Phillips’ mother Jodi. Phillips initially vetoed the buy based on the mare’s papers thinking she would be too hot, but her mother had already pulled the trigger. The extra spicy mare did prove to be a challenge to train but proved to be a quick study in the rodeo world, taking Phillips to a Wilderness Circuit Finals Rodeo Championship following the tragic loss of her good rodeo horse Crown Ta Fame last year.

That Wilderness Circuit Finals Championship helped propel Phillips to the top of the WPRA World Standings and she was able to maintain that position through the winter building rodeos. Now, Phillips has Andi along with her pro rodeo winner VQ Im Buzzed (“Big P”) back in their element—the big outdoor runs.

Mindful of the lengthy summer ahead, Phillips has been very careful not to over run her horse or wear herself out driving, although she does have her father Todd on the road with her for the time being.

“This week is really easy for me. All that I go to is Vernal. I’m trying to keep everything as chill as possible. I guess I could have went a lot more places but with the big things coming up I decided to run at one big circuit rodeo and then rest up for Canada,” she said.

Phillips opted for Canadian rodeos in Wainwright, Sundrie, High River and Ponoka, Alberta, over the Reno Rodeo run leading up to the Fourth of July.

“I’ve never had much luck at Reno,” she said. “I thought it was maybe time to try something different. I went back-and-forth on it, but I really wanted to go to Ponoka so that was the decision maker for me. If I was going to go up there for that then I was going to go to the other three.”

After Ponoka, Phillips will drop back to the States for the Fourth of July rodeos in Oregon before heading back to Canada for the Calgary Stampede, where she’s out in the second pool of competition, July 8-11.

“I’m not going to do anything too crazy,” she said. “No Cody (Wyoming), no Livingston (Montana), or Oakley (Utah). I’m not going to do a whole lot of driving. I’m going to be coming down from Ponoka and I’ll do the Fourth down in Oregon. Those rodeos are pretty close and not too hard of a drive. Then I’ll go back across for Calgary. I planned it strategically to where I’m not driving them all over the world the week before I go to Calgary.”

It was a tough call skipping a lot of the lucrative Fourth of July rodeos including some in her circuit, but she also knows the race for the NFR runs through September.

“It’s hard when you’re looking at all those rodeos with so much money added,” she said. “It makes you want to go a little harder, but I just told my parents that I’m going to stick to my gut and go less miles and capitalize at some of these big rodeos and try to keep my horses as fresh as I can. The Fourth is still so early to push really hard. I know a lot of people do it, but for me, it’s a good way to wear myself out and my horses out. We’re going to rodeo, but we’re going to go a lot closer. I’ve never been that route (through Oregon), so I’m excited to try it.”

Tricia Aldridge & Adios Pantalones Nab Sixth Futurity Title at Run At The Rose

By Tanya Randall

Tricia Aldridge didn't have a great start to her week with her truck breaking down in the mountains on the way to the Run At The Rose in Montrose, Colorado.

"That was super scary," laughed Aldridge. "It was a bit of an ordeal getting to Montrose, but there were lots of little things to be thankful for. The spot I broke down in was a good spot, right before I got into the really bad stuff. I was able to get to a safe area. I had one bar of service (on my phone) where I broke down and before that I hadn't had any service for like 30 miles!"

Thankfully, her "unicorn" Adios Pantalones had everything covered.

"Thanks to him for picking up the truck tab this week!" she laughed.

Adios, her 4-year-old palomino Tres Seis stallion, out of Leslie Bailey's Frenchmans Guy mare French Bar Belle, took a little pressure off with a first round win in 15.321, but only added a little more that night.

"That night he got a little bit colicky," said Aldridge, who trains out of Sanger, Texas. "I think it was a combination of all the things. The altitude, two full days on the trailer; it's been really hot in Montrose and the sun was shining on our stalls. I put up curtains to block the sun, anything to make sure he was super comfortable. We ran some fluids on him and got everything lined out with him."

Aldridge consulted with her veterinarian Dr. Don Lee at Double X Equine back in Texas before making the decision to run him in the second round.

"I was consulting with my vet the whole time... 'Do I just turn out in the second round? It doesn't matter.' He was playful and bouncing around, his normal playful self, so I thought, 'We're okay. I'll just ease him through.'"

They clocked a 15.458 to place fourth in the round and win the aggregate by more than two tenths.

"He's such a good boy," she said. "He makes the same pass every time. He's a unicorn. He's been feeling really good. Totally back to his normal self, playing and bouncing around. These road trips are kind of a whooping. With all that stuff, you have to take it all in

THANKS: "I just want to give a shout out to my vet (Dr. Don Lee at Double X Equine) for taking my call at 12:30 on a Saturday night and walking through everything. Thank you to Taylor (Hildreth) and Kayla (Jones) for putting this on and every one taking care of things back home so I can be gone a month."

stride. We did all the preparation for this show. I really thought the setup was something he would like. I felt like the ground was more of a dirt kind of texture, so it was really cool to see how great he is with how he works his pattern when he has traction. His barrels were so fast and so perfect both days. He knew exactly where his feet were at."

Adios also picked up $878 in open carryover earnings, $991 from the Select Stallion Stakes bonus and is pending more money from Royal Crowns sidepot at the Run For The Rose. At this point, he has total earnings of $281,276.

"Less than $20,000 to go!" Aldridge exclaimed. She set a goal to win $300,000 on the stallion during his futurity season.

"These last few shows have just been a butt kicking for me," she Run At The Rose Continued on Page 42

admitted. "It's been a little bit of a mental deal. I thought, 'Ok, I'm just going to stay out of his way and keep him moving forward. I am so close to his goal. I can't ride him safe. I can trust him. I know he's going to stand on the ground. I know he is the horse that can. I just had to get out of my own head and be like, 'Ok, I'm just going to send him in there and it's going to be whatever it is. He's way easier to ride when I just stay out of his way! He was a good boy! He's definitely like a dream come true!'"

Aldridge has also enjoyed meeting new Adios fans in Colorado. "It's really neat to be out here and meet so many of his fans," she said. "So many people have come by the stall and seen him. It's really cool to get to interact with people that I don't see all the time at the regular stuff."

Aldridge will run at the Colorado Classic this coming weekend before heading to Utah for the Ruby Buckle in Salina at the end of June. She flew her teenage son out to Colorado so they can spend the down time doing all the summer things.

"I've got to spend some time in Ouray and Telluride (Colorado) and in the San Juan mountains and I'm really excited to get to show him some of my favorite parts of the country," she said. Having the two futurities back-to-back with plenty of tourist things to do in between is one of the biggest draws for both events.

"I'm excited to get ready for this next show," Aldridge said. "The ground was fantastic. I haven't been here in a few years, and I thought the ground was better than before and it was good back then. These shows have grown quite a bit and those girls have done such a great job putting them on. I'm happy that they have a few in a row to make it worth the haul, and I'm happy to support them."

SEGER STRIKES AGAIN

Mj Segers Fast Lane & Brandon Cullins Strike Again!!

This past weekend at the Run At The Rose, Mj Segers Fast Lane & Brandon Cullins did what they normally do . . . win . . . and win running fast!

SOME FUN NOTES ABOUT THEIR VICTORY & CONNECTIONS:

— Mj Segers Fast Lane & Cullins Won the Derby, Mike Miniati Memorial Slot Race, Saturday Open & Saturday Adult!

— The pair won $10,626 on the weekend!

— Mj Segers Fast Lanes Earnings after her The American win sit at $1,417,954 before this past weekends $10k according to QStallions!

— Her sire, The Goodbye Lane, now has sired the winners of $9.59 million with an Average Earnings Per Money Earner of $43,620 (QStallions). He is also the #4 Sire in the Top 50 Barrel Racing Sires For All Time now. He is only behind Dash Ta Fame, Frenchmans Guy & A Streak Of Fling.

— Mj Segers Fast Lane sits #3 on the All Time Barrel Racing Money-Earners (QStallions). Dm Sissy Hayday ($2.854,275) and An Oakie With Cash ($1,797,618) are the only ones sitting in front of her right now on the Top 50 List!

— Mj Segers Fast Lane is #1 in Earnings for 2024 with $1,146,345 with Force The Goodbye in #2 at $201,186 (per QStallions)

— The pairs winning run time, 14.907, was the second fastest time of the weekend behind UX Google It & Pete Oen's 14.802 in the Sunday Open. It was one of only 3 total 14s on the weekend (Bw Tees Canyon & Jennifer Sharp ran a 14.993 in the Sunday Open as well)!

— Cullins also placed in the futurity on another The Goodbye Lane; his own stud Good Things Comin.

— Mj Segers Fast Lane is already a mother; her first baby is a Winners Version 2 yr old filly & this year she had a brown stud colt by Tres Seis.

— Mj Segers Fast Lane is a full sibling to Slingshot Lane (LTE $195,440) who Morgan Beckstrom just won the Utah High School State Barrel Racing Championship on for the 4th year in a row. They also won the National High School Barrel Racing Title in 2022!

— Her dam, SKS Running Faucet is the dam of $1,668,211 in winners so far putting her #4 on the Top 50 Barrel Racing Dams of All Time. She is only behind Royal Sissy Irish, Mistys Dash Of Fame and Lady Kaweah Cash.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I had my yearly eye exam recently and was told my far vision had diminished. They took all the measurements for the new prescription lenses and sent them off. Two weeks later, I went in to get the new lenses put in the old frames. The kind lady told me it would take about 30 minutes to switch them out, so I could go run errands... SERIOUSLY????? AND WHO WILL BE DOING THE DRIVING?

I'm sure my expression registered with her, because she immediately corrected herself. Lenses changed, I headed out. OHHHHHH boy! I couldn't read anything and things were a bit distorted! Back I went. Well. They did the new lenses wrong! They'd order the new ones and they'd be here in 7-10 business days... SERIOUSLY?????

By now the nice lady is used to my "You've got to be kidding me" expression. Reading and walking are a little iffy, but I can see good in the distance! So, if there are errors in this, it's because my close vision is a bit blurry!

Now, why did I bring that up? Well, in 1 Cor. 13:12, the Bible tells us, "For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face." As we get closer to the coming of the Lord, we should all be seeing Him more clearly, because we're spending more time with Him. Right? Right. When my new glasses get here, I know I'll appreciate the ability to see clearly.

I pray that as I grow in the Lord, my understanding of Him and His Word will grow in me, and I will see His ways more clearly. And that I will apply what I know and have more victory every day! I pray that for you, too!
