Cullins Crowned King at Colorado Classic with Seis Shots Of Beauty & Good Things Comin

By Tanya Randall

Brandon Cullins dominated the Colorado Classic, held June 13-15 in Montrose, Colorado, winning $82,000 on the weekend. The leading aged event rider and million dollar champion of The American took first and second in both the $100,000-added Stallion Incentive Futurity and $10,000-added Horse Hair Analysis Futurity. Cullins won the futurities with Seis Shots Of Beauty ("Hershey"), a 5-year-old black stallion owned by Jane Melby and Curtis Collier. He was reserve champion on the 4-year-old stallion Good Things Comin ("Nahko") that he owns with his wife Emily.

Cullins also finished reserve in the $35,000-added Stallion Incentive Maturity and $5,000-added MVP Maturity on MJ Segers Fast Lane, owned by Grant and Rayel Little.

"It was a good weekend, that's for sure," said Cullins, a Maryland native who trains out of Dublin, Texas. "We did really well there last year, too. It's one of my favorite ones for sure. It's a great show. Taylor (Hildreth) and Kayla (Jones) do a great job. They run it great, and it pays off awesome! It's definitely one I won't miss."

After securing first and second in the futurity aggregate, Jones joked that this had to be his favorite event.

"I said it already was before I won!" he chuckled. "It didn't even take that."

Having two events—the Run At The Rose and Colorado Classic—back-to-back in the picturesque San Juan Mountains of western Colorado also leaves a lot of time for enjoying the area as tourists. Cullins' parents even made the trip from Maryland to visit and sightsee.

The downtime also gave Cullins a chance to tune Hershey for the upcoming Colorado Classic.

"I caught barrels the first week there," Cullins explained. "During the week while we were there waiting, I just tried to slow him down a little bit and get him locked in."

Cullins and Hershey won the first round in 15.137.

"The first go he was really good," he said. "It was really quick, really smooth. I think it was one of the smoothest runs I've had on him. I think I got a little tight at the second barrel. I picked up on him a little early. We were almost in a little bit of trouble on the backside, but he found his spots and came around really well. He's starting to get really solid."

When it came time to make their second run, Cullins knew he had a little bit of time to play with to ensure a win.

"I was winning the average on my stud when I ran Hershey," he explained. "Hershey was toward the end in the second round. I ran a .6 in the first round and an .0 in the second round on Nahko, Hershey was a .1 the first round, so I knew Hershey just had to be smooth. I didn't have to be super-fast to win the average. I just tried to have a smooth run and he was still really fast with a .2."

They were sixth in the second go with a 15.283 but won the aggregate by nearly three tenths.

Ironically, it's not the first time the two stallions have run close together. Earlier this year, Hershey was second to Nahko at the Barrel Bash Select Stallion Stakes Futurity in Chickasha, Oklahoma. That was Hershey's best futurity finish until the Colorado Classic.

"He's a little bit of an overachiever," said Cullins. "I think that's his biggest struggle. He's a trier. He's never said no. Anytime he's had bad runs, it's usually been when he's trying too hard. I think he's getting more confident in where he's putting himself. I'm trying to ride him more where I let him go in the turn and not handle him, letting him be accountable for himself more. I think that's where he's starting to get more solid."

Bred by National Finals Rodeo qualifier and aged event champion Cayla Melby Small, Hershey is by leading sire Tres Seis out of her mother Jane Melby's NFR qualifier and million dollar producer RC Back In Black, by Ninety Nine Goldmine. The colt was started by Small and Melby and sent to Cullins after the Lone Star Shoot-out Futurity in early January.

Hershey doubled his career earnings at the Colorado Classic, winning $31,054 for the two futurity wins, second in the futurity slot race and placing with open carryovers. He won $4,158 for Tres

Triumphant Return – Taycie Matthews & Fame Fire Rocks Defend College National Championship

By Tanya Randall

Taycie Matthews successfully defended her 2023 College National Finals Rodeo Championship and helped the University of West Alabama win its second straight women's team title at this year's CNFR, held in Casper, Wyoming.

The victory also marked the triumphant return of her 2023 AQHA/WPRA Horse of the Year Fame Fire Rocks ("Poprocks") from a hock fracture late last year.

"Her first run back was at 7 a.m. that Monday," said Matthews, who recently graduated from the University of West Alabama with a degree in business administration. "I cruised her through an exhibition on Friday, the week before we left the house. I went fast, but I didn't go that fast, because I was kind of scared!"

Poprocks's injury came to light when Matthews started getting her ready for the 2023 NFR. Looking back, she suspected the mare battled through the summer rodeos after falling at a rodeo right before the 2023 CNFR.

"When I got home from the summer I gave her three weeks off and let her be a horse," she explained. "I wasn't doing any maintenance (ProScope treatments) for those three weeks, and I took her to a jackpot—15 minutes later she couldn't even put her leg down. She didn't have a bad run; she just didn't fire really hard. It was weird the way it happened."

Unfortunately, Matthews and her family are all too familiar with this type of injury. Their great stallion Heavenly Firewater ("Bud The Stud") had the same injury and surgery to pin a fracture in his hock when he was just 5.

"It's a little scary to think about, but I think it makes it stronger," she said. "Bud had his done at 5 and he's still running at 12."

When it came time to start legging Poprocks back into competitive shape, Matthews was beset with several minor setbacks, from a hematoma that had to be surgically treated and a hoof abscess.

"She was good to go by March and I was hoping to have her ready by (Rodeo) Houston, and that didn't work," she said. "I felt like it kept getting pushed back, further and further. I didn't even know if I was going to get to run her at the College Finals."

Poprocks had about a month of conditioning, but Matthews was still skeptical of running the mare in Casper.

"I was excited to be running her, but I was a nervous wreck, because I didn't want her to pull something," she said. "I was about to throw my guts up before my first run. If it had been a big pen, there's no way I would have run her. It was a pretty small pen. Honestly, I wanted to ride Poppy but if she didn't run well in the first round, I was just going to get on something else. I didn't want to run her hard if she wasn't ready for it, and she really didn't give me a sign that she wasn't ready for it."

Matthews and Poprocks only dropped one of the four rounds in which they competed, winning the first round, second round and short go with times of 13.93, 13.81 and 13.66, the fastest of the rodeo, and taking third in the third round with a 13.92.

"I was up Monday morning, Tuesday morning and Tuesday night," Matthews continued. "She had to run three times in 36 hours. By Tuesday night, I could tell she was winded. She kind of quit me a little on the way out. Then she had Wednesday, Thursday, Friday to rest. I think that rest did her pretty good! I think she was happy to be back. She craves it!"

Bred by Rustic River Ranch, Poprocks, 7, is by champion performer and sire Firewaterontherocks and out of the graded stakes winning mare Dash Ta Fame mare WR Aces Fame. She shares the maternal lines as top barrel horse performer and producers LA Casia, Miss Fortunes Fool and Silver Creek Dash.

Poprocks was a $10,000 yearling purchase at the 2018 Heritage Place Winter Mix Sale. Her new owners Gene and Lynn Schmidt put her in training with Audra Masterson before sending her to barrel horse trainer Janna Brown, who won the 2021 BBR Southern Territorial Futurity on the mare.

She sold in early 2022 to Matthews' mom Kim, who ran her briefly before her daughters took over. Both daughters won on the mare. Jaylie ran Poprocks at the 2022 CNFR before Taycie finished the pro rodeo season on her.

Last year, Poprocks did the lion's share of Matthews' first NFR qualification. This year, however, Matthews had no intentions of pushing her mare for a second straight NFR qualification.

"I'm just going to the ones that I really like, except Cheyenne, because I missed the books. I'm just going to have fun this year and not worry about anything. If it's meant to be, it will get me into the winter rodeos. If not, well it's not."

Matthews returned home to Wynne, Arkansas, to rest Poprocks, pick up Bud from the breeding farm and have the horses rest before heading to Canada for Ponoka and Calgary.

She has no intentions of trying to make the NFR out of the last half of the season. Her main goal is to make the cutoff for next season's winter rodeos.

"I'm not going to run her legs off this year," she said. "I just want her to come back strong and be healthy. She doesn't owe me anything.

"I'm not going to start from scratch and haul my butt off all summer. She doesn't deserve that. I'm sure she'd love it and try her best, but that's hard on them, really hard. I don't want to put her through that."

Bonus Race Finals Blast For Emily Beisel & Crew

By Tanya Randall

Emily Beisel sits ninth in the WPROA's World Standings with $49,294 won since October 1 of 2023. At the Bonus Race Finals, held June 11-16 in Shawnee, Oklahoma, the five-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier put her powerful string of rodeo horses through their paces to earn $41,650.

"I had a phenomenal week, and it pays so freaking good!" said the Weatherford, Oklahoma, barrel racer and dental hygienist. "For all the rollover options, it's a spectacular race. I won as much in two days at the race sleeping in my own bed at night as I have since the first of the year rodeoing! I think it's awesome for our industry—for people to see what open horses can win, not having to go to rodeos."

"Renea (Bolling) and her crew do such an amazing job. It's literally become one of my favorite races to attend all year, and I've only been twice. It's a pretty cool race."

During the year, contestants earn Bonus Race qualifiers at various jackpots. They also have the opportunity to win spots in the Bonus Race through the Open jackpot in Shawnee. This year, the Open ran in the morning and the Bonus Race was held during the evening.

"The nice thing about the Bonus Finals is you can pick the days you run," she said. "Last year, I did one day and then headed out to Reno (for the pro rodeo). This year I did Tuesday and Wednesday, but I only did the Bonus race. I didn't run in the (Open) jackpot."

Her fan favorite Namgis D 33 ("Chongo") was the big winner, earning $20,349. The majority of that total came from winning the Ultimate Bonus, a high stakes divisional sidepot of the traditional Bonus Race.

Beisel said she's working on getting the 14-year-old gray gelding, by Bucks Hancock Dude out of Track Goddess, by Eyesa Special, across the one million mark in career earnings. QData has him at $820,000, not including the Bonus Race Finals.

Ivory On Fire ("Liza"), her big money winner over the winter, won $13,267, having placed in the Ultimate Bonus and Bonus. She said the 8-year-old daughter of Ivory James out of Lil Miss Firewater, by Fire Water Flit, will likely have a light summer, while the rest of her crew takes on the larger outdoor runs.

Her newest ride Teasin Dat Guy ("Chewy"), owned by 4M Equine Ranch in Decatur, Texas, won $6,296 from two checks in the bonus. An NFR qualifier for trainer Molly Otto, Chewy joined Beisel's crew earlier this spring.

"She is my dream horse," said Beisel, who also placed on the 8-year-old daughter of Frenchmans Guy, out of the Blazin Jetolena mare Teasin Jetolena, in the mud at the pro rodeo in North Platte, Nebraska. "My friends are like, 'I can't believe this is real life for you!' It's always been Chewy. Everybody wants to ride Sister, Rollo or Valor, Chewy has always been the one, if I got to pick. When Kylee (Scribner of 4M) called, I was absolutely ecstatic. She's an absolute blast. She is just as amazing to ride as she is to watch."

Beisel also won $1,175 on her old faithful Namgis D 35 ("Pipe-wrench") and $563 on her home-grown 8-year-old Vanilla Gorilla ("Trigger") in the Bonus.

She said her only regret was not having spots in the Ultimate Bonus for all of her horses. The Ultimate Bonus, with a fee of $1,500, gave contestants two runs in the Bonus Finals plus two paying spots in the high paying Ultimate.

College Rodeo Crowns 2024 Champions

The 2024 College National Finals Rodeo (CNFR) came to a close in the Ford Wyoming Center on Saturday night with a sold-out crowd watching as champions were crowned.

It was a great night for Wyoming as the crowd watched Weston Timberman win his second consecutive bareback riding title. Timberman is going to school at Clarendon (Texas) College and calls Columbus, Montana, home. However, he was born and raised in Casper and is very proud of that.

In the goat tying, McKenna Clingman earned the first national rodeo championship ever won by Colorado Mesa University in the institution's history. Clingman tied for second place in the final round. Her 6.7 second time gave her a total of 26.0 to win the title by three-tenths of a second. Clingman is also proud to call Wyoming home as she grew up in Laramie before making the trip to Grand Junction, Colorado, to get her education. She recently graduated with her bachelor's degree in business and made the most of her last qualification to the CNFR.

Hill (Texas) College took home two individual championships in tie-down roping and team roping. The Hillsboro institution has had multiple championships in bull riding and tie-down roping, but this is their first team roping title. That winner was James Arviso, from Seba Dalkai, Arizona. He did the heading for Kaden Profili from Texas A & M University – Commerce who got the first win in team roping for the Commerce institution as well. The duo has been competing in the Southern Region and now have added their names to the history books as college rodeo's best.

Arviso and Profili came into the final round ranked second in the nation. They stopped the clock in 5.4 seconds to move into first place with a total time of 31.6 seconds on four runs.

Prior to Saturday night's rodeo, the saddle bronc riding was shaping up to be one of the closest competitions of the week. It did not disappoint. Tarleton State University (Stephenville, Texas) teammates Gus Galliard and Ira Dickinson were one and two as they started the night. Dickinson was the second to last competitor and when his horse stumbled, he got the option of getting on another one. Then Galliard rode for 83.5 points to maintain his lead.

Before the bull riding started, Dickinson, who grew up near Rock Springs, Wyoming, got on his second horse of the night. He also scored 83.5 points, but it wasn't enough to move him ahead of Galliard who had 319 points on four rides. Dickinson finished as the reserve champion with 317.5.

Koby Douch did something in Casper that his older brother and mentor have never accomplished when he won the tie-down roping. His older brother John Douch competed at the CNFR and finished as the reserve champion in 2017 competing for Hill College. That is the same place that his younger brother is going to school now. With his success here in Casper this week, Koby Douch became the first of the three to win a National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association title.

Riding his brother John's horse, Koby Douch stopped the clock in 8.7 seconds to finish second in the final round. That gave him a total of 35.8 seconds on four runs.

Taycie Matthews, also from the University of West Alabama, won her second-consecutive barrel racing title aboard her great horse "PopRocks." Matthews won rounds one and two and was second in round three aboard Fame Fire Rocks who earned the women's American Quarter Horse of the Year award. Matthews and PopRocks clocked the fastest time of the week Saturday night and had a total time of 55.32 seconds.

Wacey Schalla was the only bull rider to be successful on his first three bulls here and was favored to win for Clarendon College. The title almost slipped away from the Arapaho, Oklahoma, resident when he failed to last eight seconds on Saturday. Three other men did ride their bulls, but when scores were added up, Schalla was at the top of the board with 247.5 points on three rides. Wharton County Junior College's Zeke Martinez finished one point behind.

Schalla, who just finished his freshman year, also won the men's all-around and rookie of the year titles, earning points in bareback riding and bull riding. The women's all-around champion was Madalyn Richards of Texas A & M University who won the breakaway roping with a total of 9.2 seconds on four runs. She also finished tenth in the goat tying. The women's rookie of the year was Haliagh Ann Grant of Cal-Poly State University at San Luis Obispo.

Tarleton State University captured the men's team championship with 895 points. Clarendon College was second with 820. In the women's team category, the University of West Alabama finished at the top of the board for the second consecutive time. They earned 855 points and Tarleton was second with 605 points.

Plans are underway for the 2025 CNFR which will return to Casper next June.

PRCA, LVE unveil lucrative NFR financial contract extension

The National Finals Rodeo has a home in Las Vegas for the next 12 years and the contract is a financial boon with more than a quarter of a billion dollars committed to the contestants and stock contractors through 2035.

Las Vegas Events and the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association jointly announced today the financial details of the agreement that will keep the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas through 2035. Over the term of the contract, the total payment to the contestants and stock contractors will be $264,323,473.

Las Vegas Events will guarantee an additional $1.3 million in contestant purse and stock contractor compensation in 2024 and 2025, as a signing bonus to the PRCA.

For the 2024 NFR, the prize money for contestants will be $12,501,505 and stock contractors will receive $3,750,451 – making the payout amount of $16.2 million, which includes guaranteed prize money of $1.2 million for NFR qualifiers.

In 2025, the prize money for both will increase to more than $17.5 million – $13,501,505 to contestants and $4,050,451 to stock contractors.

In each subsequent year through 2035, the contestant purse and compensation to stock contractors will increase by $1 million ($769,231 and $230,769, respectively). By the end of the contract in 2035, the total payout to the contestants and stock contractors will be more than $27.5 million. There also will be annual salary increases for contract personnel.

In 2024, the NFR will run from Dec. 5-14 at the Thomas & Mack Center.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Jesus impressed upon me a few days ago, to encourage us all to be excellent in all we set our hands to do.

If I take my car to the mechanic, I want them to do a good job. After all, I'm driving the thing and I don't want to end up by the side of the road. I'm sure your haying equipment needs to work and work right. Your trailer, your veterinarian, your doctor, and the list could go on and on.

What do WE do and how do WE do it? Are we duct tape individuals? Just doing what we can get by with? Arrive late and leave early? Borrow a few things from the office, because they really don't pay you enough?

These attitudes add up. And they will add up until your name, your honor, your value is diminished or damaged. The answer from the Bible is: Col. 3:23-24. "And whatever you do, do it heartily, as to the Lord and not to men, knowing that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance; for you serve the Lord Christ."

Whether you work for yourself, or someone else, the Lord Jesus will reward you for excellence. He said so in those verses. No individual can keep Jesus from blessing us when we obey His Word! Watch for His blessing this week!
